This is where Granddad Clarence Scott's farm used to be Robinson, Illinois Marathon Oil Refinery . I think members of Grandma Scott's Gard family now own the Farm. The Gard family were founders of the George's Plantation in York Maine, and I think they were originally from Devonshire, England. I think the relatives on the Farm in Robinson, Illinois raised chickens, hogs, and grow popcorn, field corn and soy beans. I recall it was about a 2,000 acre farm they bought it from my grandfather. James Jones wrote the book "From Here to Eternity" while living in my grandfather's cabin. I think it is the area of Illinois, they call "Little Egypt". As I recall, my relative's children were sort of wild, and they enjoyed playing with baby wolf cubs. The state of Illinois also has a boys' juvenile detention center in Robinson, Illinois. The Farm was on the Illinois Indian border near Wabash, Indiana where Wabash College: Crawfordsville, Indiana is located. I am not sure if there are still any Scott relatives around there anymore, since my Gard family relatives have always farmed the farm. I noticed downtown, there was a sign for the SeaFair The Mega Yacht Venue which I guess is back in town down by the waterfront at the Delamar Greenwich Harbor, a luxury hotel in Fairfield County CT . However, I don't drive down by the waterfront to the Pier on Steamboat Road anymore, since the Spanish speaking fishermen down there don't like seeing Northern Wharf Rats. Besides it saves a dollar in gasoline. Indian Harbor Yacht Club - Public might still have people that speak English, but I was never a sailor along the waterfront, but an average golfer at the GreenwichCC - Golf & Country Club until around 1976, when the family fell on hard times, and my father had to start building oil refineries again Engineering Consultancy and Project Management Services - AMEC , but since I don't know that business, I never made any money, and I ended up as dishwasher pot scrubber for minimal wage out at Le Languedoc Bistro a Nantucket Restaurant and Inn. However, I do know computers and the internet having worked with them since September 1989, when I bought an Apple www.apple.com IIE computer at a tag sale on Round Hill Road for $100 from somebody that worked for J.P. Morgan in Belgium. The house was near the His Highness the Aga Khan's 75th Birthday - Mowlana Hazar Imam's 75th Birthday - December 13, 2011 , so maybe the Apple IIE that I sold after a few months for $249 had good karma, but I invested the money in a Compaq 286 for about $250 at a tag sale in New Canaan. I later sold the Compaq 286 for about $200, and I bought a generic 386 for a $1,000 from the Consignment Express downtown which was a major investment.

May 22, 2012

Dear Friends,

In August and October of last year, Greenwich, Stamford and many Connecticut communities received the brunt of two remarkable storms that created major damage and left many residents without power for up to two weeks. In response to this prolonged lack of service, the General Assembly convened a panel with the charge of assessing responsibility for the lengthy power outages, requiring the utilities to better communicate throughout crises, and establishing measures to prevent such widespread power failures going forward.

After many public hearings, testimony from all stakeholders, and extensive research, a storm response bill was crafted. The bill requires state regulators with the Public Utilities Regulatory Authority (PURA) to establish new performance standards for telecommunications, electric and gas utilities for emergency preparations, and a means for the restoration of service over prolonged and widespread outages.

In addition the bill requires a report on utility call center operations, and notification from the utilities on coordinated responses. PURA must submit its report identifying these new standards by November 1st of this year. Should PURA reach the conclusion that proper standards are not being met in any of these areas, civil penalties can be levied against distribution companies in an amount up to 2.5% of that company's distribution revenue.

Both chambers of the legislature have approved this measure and it now awaits Governor Malloy's signature.

While this bill does not address monetary damages for prolonged power outages, we are hopeful it will prod the utilities into better internal preparedness and external communication when faced with damaging storms.

Best regards,

On the recipe Slow Cooker Beef Stew I Recipe - Allrecipes.com that I modified, I used:

1 Reynolds slow cooker liner $1.14

2 and 1/2 pounds of Woodson James Angus top round eye round of beef that cost $7.50,

1/3rd of a cup of flour .05

pepper and salt .05

five medium cloves of garlic .25

two bay leaves .25

1.5 teaspoons of Paprika .05

2 teaspoons of Lea and Perrins Worcestershire sauce .15

1 large white onion $1.50

1 medium yellow onion $.50

1 14.5 ounce can of College Inn beef broth $1

5 medium potatoes $1.80

1.5 pounds of baby carrots $2.25

1 8 ounce box of mushrooms $2

1 1.5 ounce of McCormick's slow cooker beef stew recipe $2.19

Italian Spices, Oregano, Celery Salt, Maggi Seasoning .50

1/4th of a cup of extra virgin olive oil .50

8 hours of slow cooker electricity .50

To make eight servings plus to serve it on Pennsylvania Dutch egg noodles

2 bags of America's Choice double wide noodles $2.40

electricity to boil the noodles .50

Total for eight servings of slow cooker beef stew on Pennsylvania Dutch egg noodles: $27.38 divided by eight servings equal $3.43 per serving. Cost of experienced chef depends on whom is making it.

The beef stew should be ready at 3 P.M. today. I am cooking it for eight hours on low in the Hamilton Beach slow cooker. I will freeze half and refrigerate half. I threw out the garbage. I said "Good Morning" to a neighbor. I watched the woodchuck playing out in the yard. CIO

There is this self service car wash in Darien, Connecticut Self Serve Carwash , where I could probably spray the Audi from the outside without risking the passenger side window coming down in the regular car wash. However, I would then need some place to wax the car with DuPont The Final Detail - Car Spray Wax . Since the car might get dirty driving back from Darien that might not be an option. Possibly I could wax the car in the ice skating rink parking lot in my back yard, since I am not allowed to work on my car in my parking lot. However, since we are expecting rain all week, I would not be doing it this week. Besides I can not really afford to drive all of the way up to Darien and wash the car at the moment.

I will now make my bed, and then I will shower and clean up. CIO

Blue laws down the tubes Greenwich liquor stores open for business Sunday - GreenwichTime . I guess the Port Chester, New York business community is not happy about that. Of course, I think the Port Chester, New York can sell beer and liquor later at night.

Port Chester, New York has changed a lot in the 28 years since I came off Nantucket or in the 23 years I have been living near the New York border with Connecticut. A couple of decades ago throngs of Latin American guest workers would be lined up at the pay phones in Port Chester, New York to call home to their relatives. Now they all have inexpensive communications around the world. When they took away the pay phones at the old Cumberland Farms which I used to use, when I did not have a telephone, I would use the pay phone in the lobby of the Port Chester police station. Back then it was $2.50 to call Long Island from Connecticut for three minutes, where as from Port Chester it was only 35 cents. There are also a lot of new big box stores in Port Chester, New York like www.costco.com . However, on my limited income, I can not afford to shop Port Chester, New York because of the price of gasoline to go over there, so I am left cruising CVS on Greenwich Avenue looking for pot luck bargains.

Back in the late 1960s and early 1970s when I worked around www.polaroid.com near www.harvard.edu and www.mit.edu , I used to have friends that lived on a Dairy Commune near St. Johnsbury, Vermont, where I stayed a few times, so that was one of my original Vermont connections. CIO

The Frigidaire is 18.5 inches by 13 2/5th inches which is the size for my living room window opening, but it might actually be 12.5 inches high, so any replacement air conditioner would have to be those dimensions. PC Richard told me they still keep it in stock. CIO

Note: <888> 05/14/12 Monday 2:00 A.M. I put the Dutch flag over the left living room closet, so the Dutch still have a presence in Greenwich, Connecticut. I have the Swedish flag over the left hallway bookcase and the British Union Jack over the right hallway bookcase. I also have other smaller flags on display. I do a lot of my minor interior decorating by second sight based on what little I know. I ate 8 Triscuit crackers with .20 inch by 1.25 inch by 1.25 inch slices of Cracker Barrel Vermont extra sharp cheddar cheese.

Since there are so many television channels and so much news off the internet anymore, nobody seems to know what to focus on anymore. Thus I do things based on my limited experience living in this modest rural community all of these years. I do have a bit of New York City experience, but I never had much money in New York City, so I just walked around a lot and went to the Metropolitan Museum of Art quite a bit. I also would go to a few pubs at night and observe the student crowds in the old days. However, at my advanced age of 62 years old, I think I would be expected to go to more upscale places. I did learn from experience in Manhattan, a lot of the seniors on the east side in nice weather sit in Central Park along the benches that face into the park with their backs facing Fifth Avenue. A lot of them have their health care workers with them. Of course anyone can show up and use those benches, so not all of them are from the local neighborhood. There is a small park on East 57th street on the East River off Sutton Place that is not too busy. www.rockefeller.edu has a small campus on the East River off York Avenue in the East 60s adjacent to the Cornell Medical Center and New York Hospital. They have a cafeteria there that is not too expensive. The library has a lot of books on Chinese Medicine. They employ quite a lot of Nobel Laureates, so it tends to be a rather brilliant group of people. Of course I have not lived in Manhattan since February 1982, when it was minus 26 degrees Fahrenheit after Mount St. Helens erupted two years before. I did visit it when I moved back to Greenwich in December 1983, and after a few times, I quit going there. When I got a used yellow Volkswagen Dasher in October 1986, I started driving around the area more, and until about 20 years ago, I would occasionally drive into Manhattan. I had a bad experience about 20 years ago, so I have only been to Manhattan three or four times since then. With current costs on my budget, it is too expensive for me to explore Manhattan anymore, but I see lots of people on Greenwich Avenue coming and going from Manhattan, so I get to see bits and pieces of Big City life.

If one has to go to the bathroom while in the East Side of Manhattan, there is a bathroom at the Waldorf Astoria, the Plaza Hotel, Rockefeller Center lower level, the lower level Citicorp Plaza, Rockefeller University, and the Metropolitan Museum of Art. A lot of those I found convenient when walking around midtown Manhattan. I am told that since the www.un.org is a diplomatically neutral zone, one can smoke tobacco on its premises. Many other hotels and stores and restaurants and bars have bathrooms, but they are harder to find. One has to be Street Smart when walking around Manhattan to observe the pedestrian and automobile traffic patterns which can be very dangerous. In the period I was there, the Swedish and Norwegian consulates were at the Random House building on East 49th street just east of Third Avenue. The British consulate is around the corner on Third Avenue. The Danish consulate is at 49th street and 2nd Avenue and the German consulate is at 49th street and First Avenue. The Hyatt Hotel just west of the United Nations has a nice Piano Bar. The United Nations neighborhood has a lot of publishing houses. Tudor City is a larger older apartment building complex just west of the United Nations. It has court yard like park areas.

I will now shut down the primary work computer, and I will go to bed soon. CIO

Note: <888> 05/13/12 Sunday 10:20 P.M. I cut up the remaining half pound of rotisserie ham into small pieces one to a few inches in odd shapes. I put four tablespoons of olive oil in a frying pan, and I heated it over medium high electric burner heat, until the olive oil was hot, I added the ham, and I seasoned it with garlic powder, Montreal Steak Seasoning and Italian spices, and I sautéed it over medium electric burner heat, until it was hot. Before cooking the ham, I had broke three extra large Eggland eggs in a bowl and added a few tablespoons of milk and Italian seasoning and celery salt, and whisked it all together. I added that mixture to hot ham, and I mixed it together and let it heat, and once the eggs had began to harden, I scrambled it all together for scrambled eggs and ham. I put the hot pan on a dinner plate to warm the plate, and once the plate was warm, I put the ham and eggs on the dinner plate with a toasted English muffin with olive oil. I ate it all with a 12 ounce glass Schweppes Ginger Ale and a cup of green tea with splenda sweetener and Borden lemon juice. Thus the seven pound A&P Fresh rotisserie ham that I bought on Saturday May 5, 2012, produced 9 dinner meals over the next nine days. CIO

Note: <888> 05/10/12 Thursday 3:40 A.M. As I have explained to a few people recently, my 1998 Audi A6 1998 Audi A6 owned by Michael Scott and 1998 Audi A6 owned by Michael Scott has one slight problem. The passenger side front electric window does not work. One would have to go through this procedure to fix it Audi A6 Power Window Repair - YouTube . However, I am not sure if the inexpensive plastic clip is still available. I also do not want to risk breaking the glass in the procedure. I have propped up the window closed with a board, and disconnected the power switch. However, when one slams the door, the board can become unstuck and the window will gradually slide down. Also I am afraid to put the Audi through the car wash in case the window should slide down. I am not allowed to wash the car in my public housing parking lot, although it is a public street. Also I do not have a water hose. The reason for washing the car, is so that I can wax the Audi with The Final Detail - Car Spray Wax that I have which would only take about a half hour, since one does not need to buff it. When I go up to Kennebunkport, Maine Kennebunkport, Maine, Scott's Internet Hotlist and Kennebunkport, Maine, Scott's Internet Hotlist in mid June 2012 for a two week vacation, I guess I could wash it and wax it there. The only other thing I know about the Audi is that it is suppose to have the brake fluid changed every two years, and I have not done that in the four years that I have owned it. It would cost about $250 to have the brake fluid changed at New Country Audi of Greenwich | New Audi dealership in Greenwich, CT 06830 and about $400 to fix the window there. According to Official Kelley Blue Book New & Used Car Values - Kelley Blue Book , the Audi in Excellent Condition which it is besides the window is worth $4,473

and very good condition $4,248, and good condition $4,148, and Fair $3,623. It is fully maintained with recent tires also. However, on limited income, I don't feel the need to invest anymore money in the Audi at the moment. CIO

Connecticut Note:

May 8, 2012

Dear Friends,

The Connecticut Department of Transportation (DOT) and MTA Metro-North Railroad (MNR) announced today they accepted of the 100th M-8 rail car for service:

This symbolized these organizations' commitment to improve rail service on the New Haven Line with more and more M-8 rail cars being accepted and placed into regularly scheduled train service. Customers should now be seeing nearly a third of weekday trains and half of the weekend trains operating with the new M-8 cars.

M-8 trains operate during peak and off-peak time periods, weekdays and weekends, between New Haven, Stamford and Grand Central Terminal.

This is an excellent milestone in the effort to provide riders with better comfort and safety as they use our state's rail system.

Best regards,

Livvy Floren, State Representative 149th District

Lile Gibbons, State Representative, 150th District

Note: <888> 05/07/12 Monday 11:30 P.M. I watched Episode 1 of Season 2 of "Sherlock" off the internet which is available for a few days from www.pbs.org . Well, since the Western Hemisphere is pretty much isolated from the Eastern Hemisphere, we get a bit curious about how the modern world has developed over in the Eastern Hemisphere. Since I have not been over there since the Winter Olympics in Albertville, France in February 1992, I have been in exile here for another 20 years. However, the longer one lives here, the more one gets use to the Stockholm syndrome - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia living on the quaint edges of America. I guess the British have been here so many times, they really do not feel they need to come here frequently anymore to practice their American dialects. I remember some of the 1960s British television programs, and a lot of the British in those television programs were probably too clever, but possibly not for modern technology. Probably the Favorite British television show of all time was The Prisoner - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia which was what living in an Anglophile community in America feels like. The Canadians are even afraid to communicate with us, since they see us more frequently than some of the people from overseas. How we came to live in this situation is beyond me, but I guess it comes from experience. There are so many people in Europe with skills, about the only job available in Europe for an American is living as an Unemployed American, providing they can afford to pay for it. Of course I have seen so many British citizens come and go over the years, it is hard to tell if any new ones are showing up anymore. I am sort of curious as to where all of the British citizens that once lived here are, if any are still alive as to where in the world they might have retired to. Maybe they are all in retirement homes in New York City. Still I am familiar with Greenwich, Connecticut, although it can be expensive to navigate around it. I guess the older generation is still becoming familiar with the internet, or at least those whom were late to go online. However, a lot of people are probably talked out or blogged out. I have a comfortable enough life here in America, so I am not complaining, but I am sort of curious as to why people have lost interest in reading books or similar content as opposed to the chit chat on the internet. I guess everyone is curious as to what people have done with their lives, only to find out that their friend my age and older are retiring and tend to be a bit forgetful. So many people have lived in this area over the years along with all of the people who regularly travel through this area, it is sort of hard to stage a stroll up memory lane in terms of the downtown area. Also a lot of the back country areas have changed with the large number of McMansions that have been built to accommodate those people whom like walking around in large homes all day. I find living in a small apartment, once one gets use to it, involves less walking around, so I have more energy once I am rested to walk more frequently downtown which costs me about $2.75 round trip to investigate. The commuter crowd comes and goes, but they generally do not linger downtown too long. I have been able to save a bit of time by not going to Greenwich Library to see whom is just sitting there waiting around watching the world go by. Of course as I get older it takes longer for me to do my household routines. I guess I will now shut down the primary work computer, and I will go to bed soon. CIO

!!!!!! Note: <888> 05/07/12 Monday 11:00 A.M. On a matter of Hype. I have been using the internet and reading tech news for over 20 years, and recently I have been watching the Bloomberg business news, since the people at www.chase.com watch it at 19 West Putnam Avenue. Bloomberg had been promoting the IPO for www.facebook.com at being worth $100 billion which is quite a lot of money even in this country. At last count worldwide Facebook supposedly has 450 million users, but obviously not all of them use it very much. That means 450 million users divided into 100 billion dollars, that each Facebook user is worth $222.222222222222 . Quite frankly I don't think my Facebook Account is worth $222.22. If one valued each user at say 25 cents, then Facebook would only be worth about $112 million.

Facebook made $225 million last year, so they made 50 cents for each account. Thus they think that the valuation of the company is worth what it would make in over 400 years. I saw on the business news that one of the founders of Facebook bought a town house

On West 10th street in Greenwich Village, thus it would seem to me that the Socialists in Greenwich Village have no real value of what money is worth.

I did see today on the business news that the Chinese bought 65 tons of Gold from Taiwan, so that is what the Chinese are doing with their money.

Note: <888> 05/03/12 Thursday 11:55 A.M. Of course in the list of ingredients below, the CAB which I think stands for "Canadian Angus Beef" eye round of top round beef roast was $3.99 a pound this week through today at the Welcome - Stop & Shop which is normally $6.99 a pound or $3 a pound off on sale, so in the cost per serving below of $3.56, it would be about another $1 per serving or $4.56 per serving if the meat were not on sale. One could use a cheaper cut of bottom round of roast which is on sale at the Stop and Shop through today for $2.49 a pound or half price, but there would be more fat in the stew, but in a slow cooker the meat probably would not be any tougher. I registered the Hamilton Beach slow cooker at Hamilton Beach: Register Your Product

On the recipe Slow Cooker Beef Stew I Recipe - Allrecipes.com that I modified, I used:

1 Reynolds slow cooker liner $1.14

2 and 2/3rds pounds of CAB top round eye round of beef that cost $10.25,

1/3rd of a cup of flour .05

pepper and salt .05

two large cloves of garlic .25

two bay leaves .25

1.5 teaspoons of Paprika .05

2 teaspoons of Lea and Perrins Worcestershire sauce .15

1 large white onion $1.50

1 14.5 ounce can of College Inn beef broth $1

4 medium potatoes $1.50

1.5 pounds of baby carrots $2.25

1 8 ounce box of mushrooms $2

1 1.5 ounce of McCormick's slow cooker beef stew recipe $2.19

Italian Spices, Oregano, Basil, Celery Salt, Maggi Seasoning .50

1/4th of a cup of extra virgin olive oil .50

8 hours of slow cooker electricity .50

To make eight servings plus to serve it on Pennsylvania Dutch egg noodles

2 bags of Pennsylvania Dutch egg noodles $4.10

electricity to boil the noodles .25

Total for eight servings of slow cooker beef stew on Pennsylvania Dutch egg noodles: $28.48 divided by eight servings equal $3.56 per serving. Cost of experienced chef depends on whom is making it. CIO

Note: <888> 05/03/12 Thursday 8:30 A.M. I woke up at 6:45 A.M.. I washed the top of the Hamilton Beach slow cooker. The inside insert did not need washing, since I had used the

Reynolds slow cooker liner. I stored the Hamilton Beach slower cooker underneath the chair by the hallway entrance. That is where I store the living room Frigidaire air conditioner in the winter, so come next fall, I will have to find some place else to store the slow cooker. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with honey and a sliced banana and milk, a toasted English muffin with extra virgin olive oil, a 50% to 50% glass of punch and cold filtered water with vitamins and supplements, a cup of coffee with Splenda sweetener and milk. I washed the breakfast dishes. I made my bed. CIO

Note: <888> 05/03/12 Thursday 3:15 A.M. Happy Birthday to a relative. I woke up at 2:30 A.M.. The beef stew was definitely done. I put half in a large Rubbermaid container with lid in the freezer and the other half in a large Rubbermaid container with lid in the refrigerator. I ate about a half cup to taste it, and it is most excellent. With the Reynolds slow cooker liner, one does not have to wash the inner ceramic container. However, since it is very hot, one has to let it cool down, and one does not put it underneath water particularly cool water, or it might crack with the quick temperature change. I took the ceramic container out of the outer container, so it cools down more quickly, and I am let it sit on the wooden cutting board while it cools down. I will now go back to bed. CIO

Note: <888> 05/02/12 Wednesday 9:15 P.M. I put the temperature probe for the Hamilton Beach slow cooker in the far left kitchen drawer. I threw out the garbage, and I chatted with a neighbor. I chatted with two relatives. I ate a bowl of pineapple chunks and a few day old muffin. I will go to bed soon. I will wake up at 2:30 A.M. to see if the beef stew is done. CIO

Note: <888> 05/02/12 Wednesday 7:15 P.M. I unpacked the Hamilton Beach slow cooker. I read its instructions. I washed the inner pot and its lid. I moved the CuisineArt and the Braun coffee maker from the center kitchen counter to the dining room table to have out of the way. I put one of the Reynolds slow cooker liners in the inner container.

I basically prepared this recipe Slow Cooker Beef Stew I Recipe - Allrecipes.com .

I diced the CAB top round eye round of roast into 1/2 inch to 1 inch cubes, and I put them in the slow cooker.

Since I was using 2 and 2/3rds pound of meat, I used 1/3rd of a cup of flour and bit more pepper and salt to coat the meat.

I also used two large diced cloves of garlic, two bay leaves, two teaspoons of Lea and Perrins Worcestershire sauce, one large diced white onion, four peeled and diced medium potatoes, 1.5 pounds of sliced baby carrots, and a 8 ounce box of sliced mushrooms, and I also seasoned it all with Italian seasoning, basil, oregano, celery salt, and Maggi seasoning, and I also added about a quarter of a cup of extra virgin olive oil. I also mixed a 1.5 ounce package of McCormick slow cooking beef stew ingredients with a 14.5 ounce can of College Inn Beef broth. The recipe says to cook it on low for 12 hours. However, the McCormick recipe says to cook it on low for 8 hours. I also have the Reynolds liner sticking up and not folded down against the lower hot outer slow cooker, so it won't melt. Thus I started the

Hamilton Beach slow cooker on low for 8 hours which will be ready at 2:30 A.M. I have it sitting on a wooden cutting board on the center kitchen counter with the stove fan on low. I did not use celery. I will check it to see if it is done at that time after 8 hours. Since I probably won't be hungry at that hour of the morning, I will transfer the cooked stew once it is done to large Rubbermaid containers and refrigerate some and freeze some. I will serve the beef stew on Pennsylvania Dutch egg noodles. I left the instructions on the primary Dell Latitude D410 laptop on the dining table. CIO

Note: <888> 05/02/12 Wednesday 3:00 P.M. I picked up the mail. Tomorrow, when I have a longer time period, I will make up a batch of beef stew with the Hamilton Beach slow cooker. I will now go back to bed. CIO

After spending a few years restoring 300B from 1968 to 1971, I had thousands of hours in it and about $4,500, but I was only able to sell it for $1,250 to a pharmacist from Watertown, Massachusetts. I had red Naugahyde put in it instead of leather which effected its value. Also sedans command less value as opposed to coupes and convertibles.

When one travels up north from the south on vacation, a lot of the people up north don't use air conditioning compared to the south, so one can be even hotter up north. It is not much warmer up north anyway. I used to be hot out in Nantucket without air conditioning. I once spent the night in August 1979 at a fraternity house at www.dartmouth.edu on my way up to Canada, for the Victorian Exhibit, and it was over a 100 degrees Fahrenheit in Hanover, New Hampshire that night. Out in Nantucket, when I worked as a dishwasher pot scrubber in the restaurant kitchens it was well over 100 degrees to over a 120 degrees Fahrenheit next to the cast iron stoves. From personal experience, if one does not have much money; there is no point in going to www.nantucket.net unless one wants to end up becoming low wage resort help. One does better off with a more secure job on the mainland which will not end when the resort season ends. When I left Nantucket after Thanksgiving in 1983, I flew from Hyannis where I saw Ted Kennedy at the Hyannis airport, and I traveled with Jackie Onassis on the plane to New York. I then took the Amtrak to Toronto for a couple of week visit. When I took the train back down to New York City, there was an older woman on the train that looked like the Queen Mum of England with a little blond boy. I got a friend's telephone number out on Long Island, when the train stopped in Buffalo. After wandering around Manhattan for a week and staying at the East Side airline terminal, I returned to Greenwich, and they gave me a complete medical physical after my feet had swollen up. I then spend another week wandering around Manhattan and returned to Greenwich, where they found me an apartment on Milbank Avenue after another hospital visit. One Christmas Eve, I saw Cliff Robertson and Dina Merrill eating at Rue De Crossant. I went into Manhattan again, and I wandered around Greenwich Village with a fellow from Denmark who was a house guest of Harry Helmsley's. That Christmas Day Greenwich Time said Harry had bought the house on Round Hill Road. A couple of days later, I went into Manhattan, and I had a Perrier with a doctor and his friends. The doctor knew Happy Rockefeller and looked a bit like Nelson Rockefeller. He was in charge of keeping United Nation's personnel from drinking too much alcohol. He was with two younger Italian twins that might have been Sophie Lauren's twin sons. After that I did not bother going into Manhattan for several years, and I called my friend up out on Long Island after a couple of years, when I had settled back into Greenwich. CIO

Sceptre 23" Class LED 1080p 60Hz HDTV, E243BV-FHD $119.99 is $10 more today. When I get it, I might just set it up on top of the Sony TV in the living room. With the three HDMI ports, I can connect it to the Digital Cable Box, the DVD player, and the Sony Media player, and use the Cambridge Sound Speaker system with it. I would still leave the K-World LCD hooked up also with a spare speaker system I also have. CIO

Note: <888> 06/28/12 Thursday 11:55 P.M. I chatted with a friend. I will now shut down the primary work computer, and I will go to bed soon. I will eat a couple of day old almond Danish pastry before going to bed. I will probably stay home tomorrow and make cigarettes. I don't need to do laundry, since I don't have that much dirty laundry. CIO

Note: <888> 06/28/12 Thursday 10:10 P.M. For July 2012, I paid my www.cablevision.com Digital Cable TV, Optimum Boost Plus, Optimum Voice, and my www.cl-p.com electricity bill, and my www.verizon.com local telephone bill. CIO

I got to think today that the reason there are a lot of tall skinny people amongst the "Old Guard" families from Europe that settled America is probably because in the old days, when they sailed over here from Europe, they worked in the riggings of sailing tall ships which needed tall skinny people to climb into the rigging and handle the ropes Mystic Seaport: The Museum of America and the Sea™ : Charles W. Morgan and Saving the Last Wooden Whale Ship - 8/29/08 - Vineyard Gazette Online. However, when I toured the Charles W. Morgan back around 1965, I did noticed one interesting fact, the ships births for the crew were only about 4 foot 6 inches long, so the crew were not that tall. Even way out in the ocean at www.nantucket.net , I noticed quite a few people that were not that tall, but they seemed to know the ocean. I once read that Europeans eating grain instead of corn in North America have gotten taller over the generations. CIO

Note: <888> 06/27/12 Wednesday 6:35 P.M. In a large salad bowl, I put in a half head of iceberg cello lettuce that I broke up into smaller pieces that are eatable. I added 40 baby carrots that I cut into quarters lengthwise. I then added a 3/4th of a cup of broccoli crowns that I cut into half inch to three quarters cubic inch pieces. I then added a half of a peeled cucumber that I sliced into 1/8th inch thick slices. I then added 8 quarter inch thick slices by 1.5 inch by 1.5 inch pieces of Vermont extra sharp cheddar cheese that I cut into half inch pieces. I then added 30 extra large pitted black olives that I cut in half. I then drained a 6 ounce can of solid white albacore tuna fish, and I ran it with the top on under cold water, and then I drain it again, and I diced it into small flakes, and I added it to the salad bowl. I diced into quarter inch cubic pieces two large kosher dill slices. I peeled a Vidalia onion and I added half of a diced Vidalia onion to the salad bowl. I added two large plum tomatoes that I diced into half inch cubic pieces. I added a teaspoon of Grey Poupon Dijon country mustard. I then added about a third of a cup grated parmesan and Romano cheese. I then mixed up thoroughly with two large serving spoons. I put one third on a large dinner plate and two thirds in a large Rubbermaid container with lid, and I refrigerated it. One the serving on the salad plate, I added blue cheese dressing, extra virgin olive oil, and freshly ground pepper. I ate it with a glass Nestea low calorie iced tea. I brought two cans of Nestea low calorie iced tea down with me from Kennebunkport, Maine to drink in the car in case needed, but I normally don't drink fluid when I am traveling in case I might have to go to the bathroom. Note: <888> 06/26/12 Tuesday 10:00 P.M. After the last note yesterday, I packed and loaded up the Audi. I then chatted with a relative. Another relative arrived at 5 P.M.. I helped the other relative unload the car. We put some new furniture in the bunk room downstairs. I hooked up the new 50 foot hose in the backyard, so it is available for watering the backyard garden. I also put a spray attachment on it. We ate pretzel crackers and Philadelphia Cheese dip, and I had a glass of watered down orange juice while we watched the ABC evening news. For dinner, I ate the rest of the reheated Scottish salmon cooked on a barbecue with a cedar plank, two ears of corn on the cob with butter, steamed broccoli crowns with butter, potato and mixed salads and a glass of watered down orange juice. We cleaned up the kitchen. I put the garbage out on the street. I went to bed at 8 P.M.. I woke up at 7 A.M.. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with splenda and milk and sliced banana, a toasted bagel with butter, a cup of coffee with splenda and half and half and a glass of watered down orange juice and vitamins and supplements. I showered, and I cleaned up. I put the rest of the luggage in the Audi. I made a ham and cheese sandwich on a bagel with mayonnaise. I said goodbye to my relatives. I left at 8:30 A.M.. I drove west on Route 9 out of Kennebunkport to U.S. 1 west in Wells, Maine and west to Route 9 west to the I-95 entrance ramp. I stopped at the Wells, Maine Amtrak station to use the bathroom. I took I-95 south and paid a $2 toll and then another $2 toll on I-95 in New Hampshire. I stopped at the Massachusetts welcome center. It is now run by volunteers for lack of state funding. I chatted with one of the volunteers who lives across the James River from Williamsburg, Virginia. I then took I-495 West, and I stopped at the Lowell rest area, and I chatted with someone from New Hampshire driving an old Mustang convertible. I then took I-290 South, and I took the second Massachusetts turnpike exit, and I stopped at the Charlton rest area on the Massachusetts turnpike, and I ate my ham and cheese sandwich, and I chatted with a relative. I then bought $23.02 of Gulf self service premium gasoline for $3.839 a gallon for 5.997 gallons at odometer reading of 70418 miles for 152.1 miles since the previous fill up in Wells, Maine for 25.363 miles per gallons mostly in highway traffic. I then got off the Sturbridge exit paying a 50 cent tolls, and I took I-84 West. I stopped at the Connecticut welcome center. I then took I-91 South to the Wilbur Cross Parkway I-15 West, and I stopped at the North Haven rest area. I then continued west on the Merritt Parkway I-15 West, and I stopped at the New Canaan rest area. I got off at the North Street exit in Greenwich, and I drove to downtown Greenwich arriving about 3:15 P.M.. I stopped by the Chase Bank at 19 West Putnam Avenue. I then west by the Putnam Shell at 401 West Putnam Avenue, and I bought $19.03 of self service V-Power gasoline for $4.299 a gallon for 4.426 gallons for 130.8 miles driven since the previous fill up at odometer reading of 70549 miles for 29.553 miles per gallon in mostly highway traffic. I then stopped by the Valley Road Post Office, and I picked up my mail. I then returned back to my apartment at 4 P.M. for 259.9 miles driving since I left the family house in Kennebunkport, Maine. I brought up some items. I turned on the air conditioners, the hot water, and the toilet water. A pineapple lamp had fallen over in the bedroom where a box had slipped off a shelf falling on the lamp breaking its energy saving light bulb. I cleaned up the debris, and I put a new energy saving light bulb in it, and I replaced the broken lamp shade with another good one. The order with tracking of UPS: Tracking Information on the order for TRENDnet RBTW100BRF114U TRENDnet RBTW100BRF114U Recertified TW100-BRF114U Cable/DSL 4-Port Firewall Router w/ USB Print Server -(1-year limited warranty) from mwave.com for $14.99 with free shipping had arrived while I was gone. I drank a 12 ounce glass of www.coke.com . I brought down from Maine a few bananas and a onion and a jar of German Honey. I used my folding wire cart to bring up the rest of my luggage, and I unpacked. I watered the plants. I set up the laptop computer that I had brought with me. I chatted with a relative. I sorted through the mail. I threw out the garbage and the old periodical literature and the broken lamp shade and shipping box. I started the primary work computer and I also started the FIC server. I ate a 14.5 ounce Maria Callender chicken pot pie with a 12 ounce glass of 7-UP. CIO

Note: <888> 06/26/12 Tuesday 7:25 P.M. I arrived back home in Greenwich, Connecticut at 4 P.M. today without any travel problems. More to come later. CIO

Note: <888> 06/25/12 Monday 3:10 P.M. I woke up at 7 A.M. this morning. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with splenda and milk and sliced banana, a toasted English muffin with butter, a cup of coffee with splenda and half and half and a glass of watered down orange juice and vitamins and supplements. I showered, and I cleaned up. I loaded a relative's luggage into the back of the family car. At 9:30 A.M., we left to go up to the Portland, Maine jet port. At the same time the Cable Modem service started working. We took route 9 to U.S. 1 east, and we got on I-95 north to Scarborough, Maine. We then took the parallel road north to the Portland jet port, where we dropped off a relative with their luggage. We then went by Lowe's and returned a Welcome door mat. I used the bathroom there. I bought bone meal and a can of black spray paint to paint the pruned stumps on the plum tree. We then went to www.samsclub.com, and we go $50 of self service 92 octane gasoline for $3.599 a gallon. We did grocery shopping at Sam's Club. I looked at a knife demonstration there. I used the bathroom there. It started to rain heavily as I left. We then drove down I-95 to Biddeford, Maine. We paid a dollar toll each way. We stopped by Wal-Mart. I got four ears of corn and broccoli crowns and a 50 foot garden hose for $8.47. We then returned to Kennebunkport, and we went by the Kennebunkport post office. We returned to my relative's house. We put away the groceries. I ate two bacon lettuce and tomato sandwiches with mayonnaise on bagels and a 12 ounce glass of Nestea low calorie iced tea. I also ate two scoops of Shane's ice cream. While I was outside, another tree limb about 4 inches and diameter and 10 feet long fell down near the driveway. I put it out in the brush pile in back. I cancelled the Time Warner service appointment.

Another relative is showing up around 5 P.M. today. I am going to drive back down to Greenwich, Connecticut tomorrow morning ending my vacation. CIO

I drove over to the Kennebunk beach to pick up a relative. I checked the Audi's tire air on the way back at the Citgo gasoline station. The rear tires are 30 PSI and front tires are 31 PSI, so I did not need to pay a $1 for three minutes to put air in the tires. We then returned to my relatives' house. CIO

Note: <888> 06/24/12 Sunday 2:55 P.M. The Cable Modem quit again. I called them up again. They said they showed a spotty signal into the cable modem. I found out that there was a two way coaxial splitter coming off the coaxial cable from the bunk room bedroom wall into the coaxial two way splitter. I tightened the connections with a pipe wrench to make them tighter. Right now it seems to be working fine. CIO

Note: <888> 06/24/12 Sunday 2:20 P.M. I called up Time Warner Cable at 1-207-252-2222 or 1-800-833-2253, and they were not getting a signal from our cable modem. I tightened the coaxial cable on the cable modem and the coaxial connection to the bedroom wall. I reset the ground fault interrupter plug with the coaxial cable amplifier plugged into it by the circuit breaker box in the basement. I noticed the LAN cable connected to the Cable box to the Netgear Wireless G router was not plugged in all of the way into the cable modem, so I plugged it in all of the way. One of those methods seemed to have fixed the problem. I chatted with a relative, and he had me have Time Warner double the cable modem speed for 33 cents more a day which will be activated in 24 hours. I get up to 50 mbps second right now, so I guess it will be 100 mbps once it is doubled. I have a slip of paper with the Time Warner telephone numbers and reset procedure that I will place by the cable modem in the bunk room. I will now put the dry laundry away. CIO

Note: <888> 06/24/12 Sunday 12:30 P.M. I woke up at 9:30 A.M.. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with splenda and milk and sliced banana, a toasted English muffin with butter, a cup of coffee with splenda and half and half and a glass of watered down orange juice and vitamins and supplements. I started the dishwasher. I used a small pruning saw, and I cut off the lowest dead limb off the flowering plum tree in the front yard, and I threw the branch in the brush pile in the lower back yard. I used the leaf blower, and I cleaned out the garage and the driveway and the front walk. I loosed the soil around the two small azalea bushes in the back yard. I showered, and I cleaned up. I started a load of laundry. The internet is not working in the house, so I am connecting to a neighbor's wireless internet. CIO

Note: <888> 06/21/12 Thursday 12:05 P.M. I woke up at 9 A.M.. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with splenda and milk and sliced banana, a toasted English muffin with butter, a cup of coffee with splenda and half and half and a glass of watered down orange juice and vitamins and supplements. It is 92 degrees Fahrenheit in the shade in front of the house currently. I chatted with a relative on my wireless telephone. I showered, and I cleaned up. I went out with another relative, and we drove the back way to Route 9 in Biddeford, Maine to pick up a relative. We then returned the same way. We picked up the mail at the Kennebunkport post office. We then drove along the Kennebunk beach and back. It is 84 degrees Fahrenheit along the ocean front Kennebunk beach. We returned to my relatives' house. We are not driving down to Portsmouth, New Hampshire tomorrow, because the friend of a relative cannot make it. CIO

Note: <888> 06/20/12 Wednesday 8:35 P.M. I watched television. I chatted with relatives. At 5:30 P.M., we drove over to Biddeford to drop off a relative for the night. We then drove by Goose Rocks beach. We returned home. For dinner, I had barbecued on a cedar plank on low flame a filet of seasoned wild Atlantic salmon, two ears of corn on the cob with butter, a baked sweet potato with butter, and a barbecued half of a sweet onion and a watered down glass of orange juice. We cleaned up the kitchen. We sat on the deck enjoying the evening sunset. CIO

Note: <888> 06/20/12 Wednesday 2:20 P.M. I went out with my relatives to the Kennebunkport post office. We then drove along the Kennebunk beach. It was fully packed on a hot day. We sat out for a while at the Kennebunk beach enjoying the view of the ocean. We then went by the Citgo gasoline station in downtown Kennebunkport, and we got $15.09 of medium grade gasoline for my relative's car. We then went by Port Lobster and my relatives got two lobster rolls and a bottle of wine. We then returned to my relatives' house. CIO

Note: <888> 06/20/12 Wednesday 12:15 P.M. I woke up at 10 A.M.. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with splenda and milk and sliced banana, a toasted English muffin with butter, a cup of coffee with splenda and half and half and a glass of watered down orange juice and vitamins and supplements. I helped clean up the kitchen. A relative watered the plants in front of the house. I watered the plants on the rear deck and the rear flower box. I showered, and I cleaned up. I started a load of laundry. CIO

Note: <888> 06/19/12 Tuesday 10:15 P.M. I watched some television with my relatives. I will now shut down the laptop computer, and I will go to bed soon. It is suppose to be hot for the next few days. CIO

Note: <888> 06/19/12 Tuesday 8:50 P.M. We went out to dinner with my family to Bandaloo Restaurant at 2 Dock Square in downtown Kennebunkport, Maine. A relative treated us to dinner. I had the 14 ounce rib eye steak medium rare for $29 with garlic mashed potatoes and sautéed vegetables, sour dough bread and olive oil and a glass of iced water. I also ate part of a relative's baked haddock dinner. After dinner we drove along the Kennebunk beach. I stopped by the south end of the north beach to enjoy the view. We then returned to my relatives' house. CIO

Note: <888> 06/19/12 Tuesday 3:30 P.M. I ate a ham and cheese sandwich on a bagel with mayonnaise, pasta salad, potato chips, and a glass of watered down orange juice. One of my relatives and myself cut back the rhododendron on the north side of the driveway, so it would not brush against cars parked in that location. I threw the debris in the brush pile on the lower level in the back yard. I then used the electric leaf blower, and I cleaned out the garage, the front sidewalk, and the driveway. CIO

I ate breakfast of oatmeal with splenda and milk and sliced banana, a blue berry muffin, a cup of coffee with splenda and half and half and a glass of watered down orange juice and vitamins and supplements. I brought the trash can in from the street. I showered, and I cleaned up. I went out with my relatives. We went by the Kennebunkport post office. We then got some groceries at Hannaford's in Kennebunk, Maine. One of my relatives also bought another hanging plant. We then went to the Maine department of motor vehicles, and got a handicap sticker for a relative. It is good for another four years. We then went to the Irvine gasoline station, and we got my relative's car washed for $10. We then went by Port Lobster, but they were out of cracked crab. We then returned back to my relatives' house, and I brought the groceries into the house. This Friday, I am driving another relative in my Audi down to Portsmouth, New Hampshire to meet a friend of the relative's from Stowe, Vermont. CIO

I ate breakfast of oatmeal with splenda and milk and sliced banana, a blue berry muffin, a cup of coffee with splenda and half and half and a glass of watered down orange juice and vitamins and supplements. I took the Audi with a relative, and we drove over to Wells, Maine. We went to the Cumberland Farms Gulf gasoline station near the I-95 exit, and my relative bought me $21.09 of self service premium gasoline for $3.789 a gallon for 5.55 gallons for 151.7 miles driving since I filled up on the Massachusetts Turnpike a week ago at odometer reading of 70266 miles for 27.334 miles per gallon in mostly highway traffic when I drove up here. I then stopped by the Amtrak train station in Wells, Maine to use the bathroom. We then drove south on U.S. 9 to the Gray's garden center. My relative bought 7 tall perennials and 1 tall annual and bag of Maine potting soil. We then returned back to Kennebunkport. My relative stopped by Port Lobster to get some picked crab meat. We then returned back to my relatives' house. We planted the eight flowering plants underneath the front guest bedroom window, and we surrounded them with brown mulch. We also fertilized them. Another relative returned home. A relative also planted some orange marigolds by the front rock ledge. I ate a ham and cheese sandwich on a bagel with mayonnaise and potato chips and a glass of watered down orange juice. I showered and I cleaned up. CIO

Note: <888> 06/17/12 Sunday 5:45 P.M. I watered the plants at the rear of the house including the flower box. Another relative watered the plants on the deck and the front of the house. Vacationing at my relatives' house in Kennebunkport, Maine in the summer is good practice at knowing how to maintain a house should I ever be able to afford one. However, when I lived at home until 1976, I had lots of practice at maintaining a house. I even helped build a family house off Round Hill Road in Greenwich back in 1968. At my advanced weight of 229 pounds, it is hard standing up, when one is sitting down on the beach. It is sort of like watching an elephant stand up. I put a new dust cloth on the kitchen swiffer mop. While sitting at the Kennebunk beach today, I remembered that the GreenwichTime.com - GreenwichTime with the higher price of fuel in Greenwich still has not covered the story about the new comfort station at the southwest picnic area which should be ready for the summer activity. I photographed it while under construction this past winter mikelouisscott - YouTube . Any exercise walkers on the Far Side of Tod's Point should not have a convenient place to go. I remember the staff from the British consulate in Manhattan use to picnic out there occasionally, but they tend to avoid Americans, since we have a different point of view. The day Windsor Castle caught on fire, I was touring Terry Beasley from Sydney, Australia around the waterfront in Connecticut. He remarked that Old Greenwich looked English. He looked like Prince Charles, but was slightly larger. He told me Beasley was the original name of the town in England where Windsor Castle is now situated. A few years later, I showed someone else from England Tod's Point and the Greenwich Country Club GreenwichCC - Golf & Country Club . However, I guess with the higher prices of travel and the weak Euro, we do not get as many English visiting as we use to have. CIO

Note: <888> 06/17/12 Sunday 2:40 P.M. I hooked up the RealTek wireless device with the 15 inch antenna with a quarter mile range, and I can now pick up a dozen other wireless connections, besides the one in the house, but it only goes at 20 mbps. I ate a turkey and cheese sandwich with mayonnaise on a toasted bagel with potato chips and watered down orange juice and a piece of cantalope. I put in two new 60 watt light bulbs on the outside lights in the basement beneath the deck, and I got them working by turning on their circuit breaker in the circuit breaker box. CIO

We drove along the Kennebunk beach and beyond. On the way back along the beach, we stopped at the west end of the beach to view the surfers and the dog walkers. We also stopped at the East end of the beach. We then returned to my relatives' house. One relative cleared some vines out of the big bush on the north side of the driveway. I threw the debris down in the lower back yard by the marsh pond in the pile of green debris. CIO

Note: <888> 06/16/12 Saturday 3:25 P.M. I woke up at 9:30 A.M. this morning. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with splenda and milk and sliced strawberries and blue berries, a blue berry muffin, a cup of decaf coffee with splenda and half and half and a glass of watered down orange juice and vitamins and supplements. I raked up some pruning cuttings from the plum tree in front that a relative pruned. I showered, and I cleaned up. I went out with my relatives. We went by the Kennebunkport post office. We then drove the back roads to ocean along Fortune Rocks beach. We then drove into Biddeford Pool. We visited some friends that own Pool Lobster F.O. Goldthwaite's or www.poollobster.com . We chatted with our friends. My relatives had cups of clam chowder, and I ate an order of onion rings with spiced tartar sauce. They told us lobster is about $7.99 a pound. We then drove through the back woods area back into Kennebunk. They are having a big motorcycle rally just east on U.S. 1. We went to Hannaford's for some groceries and a couple of small plants. We then went to CVS. We then went to Port Hardware, and I got a faucet aerator for the library bar faucet for $4.51. We then returned to my relatives' house. I installed the part on the bar faucet. Note: <888> 06/15/12 Friday 8:35 P.M. I chatted with a friend. We ate some pretzel crackers, and I had some watered down orange juice. We watched the ABC evening news, and the person of the week was former President George H.W. Bush, and they did an interview with him at Walker's Point. For dinner, I ate a reheated T-bone steak with baked breaded Haddock, potato salad, steamed Green Giant green beans with butter, and sliced Campari tomatoes with vinaigrette dressing and a glass of watered down orange juice. I cleaned up the kitchen with family help. We sat on the back deck enjoying the sunset over the Kennebunkport harbor. I will now watch television with family members. CIO

Note: <888> 06/15/12 Friday 5:30 P.M. I have a nice view of the Kennebunkport harbor from my laptop desk in the bunk room of my relatives' house. CIO

Note: <888> 06/15/12 Friday 4:55 P.M. I chatted with my relatives. I put the laundry in the dryer. I drove over with a relative to the Kennebunk beach. We walked out to the breakwater. We sat at the beach for about a half hour enjoying the view at low tide. We returned back to my relatives' house. My relative lost a bracelet at the beach, so we returned to where we were sitting at the Kennebunk beach. We found the bracelet. We returned to my relatives' house. We walked around the house viewing the gardens. I still have to put the third bag of brown mulch underneath the front bedroom window. I put away my laundry. It is not very busy in downtown Kennebunkport. I guess either with the higher price of fuel people are not showing up here. However, it could possibly be because the northern schools are still not out of session. Still Kennebunkport appears to be perfectly maintained for anyone whom can afford to drive up north and show up in this POSH resort. They have a number of new places downtown, since I was last here in September 2010. Of course it is busier around here during rush hour traffic like elsewhere. CIO

Note: <888> 06/15/12 Friday 2:35 P.M. After watching television until 10:30 P.M. last night. I tested the automatic light shut off sensors on the electric garage door again. I moved the one on the lower south side slightly, so it aligned better with the other light sensor on the north side, so now the electric garage door light sensors at the ground level now work to stop the electric garage door from closing on an individual. I then went to bed. I woke up at 9:30 A.M.. The yard man was cutting the grass. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with splenda and milk and sliced banana and blue berries, a blue berry muffin, a cup of coffee with splenda and half and half and a glass of watered down orange juice and vitamins and supplements. I installed www.ccleaner.com and the XP updates on the HP

Netbook that a relative left here in the kitchen. I surfed the internet with it while waiting for a ant exterminator to arrive who has not arrived yet. I put in eight Jobe's fruit tree spikes in around the flowering plum tree in front of the house. I spaced them evenly around the edge of the tree line. I cleaned the dryer vent wire cover underneath the kitchen window. I put a 2 cubic foot bag of brown mulch in the flower box in the backyard and one bag in around the rose bushes at the front porch. A relative had fertilized both flower beds first before mulching them. We then watered them along with the flowers on the deck. I used the electric leaf blower to clean the garage floor and the driveway and the front sidewalk. I put 1/4th of a quart of Citgo 10-30W motor oil in the Audi to top up the oil. I reheated and ate the remaining sesame chicken and rice which I ate with a 12 ounce glass of Nestea low calorie iced tea. I emptied the dishwasher. I emptied the downstairs dehumidifiers. I showered, and I cleaned up. I started a load of laundry. I am supposed to go for a drive with a relative in a short spell. CIO

Note: <888> 06/14/12 Thursday 9:15 P.M. I woke up at 6 P.M.. We watched ABC Evening news and ate cheese dips and crackers, and I also had watered down orange juice. For dinner, we had T-Bone steaks cooked on the outside gas grill along with baked sweet potato with butter and steamed broccoli crowns with butter, and I also had a glass of watered down orange juice. We cleaned up the kitchen. We went for a drive in the Audi along the Kennebunkport waterfront as far as Walker's Point. We then drove through downtown Kennebunkport and along the beach in Kennebunk. I stood out briefly along the beach road looking at the view. As of June 15, 2012, one needs Kennebunk beach permits to park along the beach road from 6 A.M. to 11 P.M.. In the past, one could park there without a permit in the evening. We then returned to my relatives' house. I almost closed the electric door on my relatives when they were walking into the garage, because I had the garage door opener in my pocket, when I sat down back in the Audi, and it activated it to close it, but I caught it in time to keep them from being hit by the electric garage door. CIO

Note: <888> 06/14/12 Thursday 4:35 P.M. After the last note, I watched some television including a program about storage locker auctions. I went to bed at 10 P.M., and I woke up at 10 A.M.. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with splenda and milk and sliced banana and blue berries, a blue berry muffin, a cup of coffee with splenda and half and half and a glass of watered down orange juice and vitamins and supplements. I chatted with CVS in Greenwich, Connecticut, and I cannot refill my Connecticut Medicaid prescriptions in Maine, since Maine does not accept Connecticut Medicaid for prescriptions. I don't know if they would cover my other medical needs should the need arrive. I need some Lipitor, but a relative has some extra that they can give me. Before going to bed last night, I saw flashing lights, but I did not feel dizzy. Possibly I stood up too fast after watching television. I showered, and I cleaned up. I went out with relatives, and we went by the Kennebunkport town hall and got a parking permit for Goose Rocks beach. We then went by the Kennebunkport post office. We then sat out at the Kennebunk beach, and I walked with a relative out to the breakwater. We then returned back to my relatives' house. I vacuumed out my relative's car. I then washed my Audi with Turtle Wax car wash. I then dried it off. I then put my Audi in garage, and I waxed it with DuPont www.finaldetail.com car wax. I used the head light restoring system to compound the head light lens and then wax them. I vacuumed the Audi. I cleaned the inside windows with window cleaner. I dusted off the dashboard and instrument panel. I put a new Evergreen Christmas Tree scent card hanging from the driver's side rear seat window hook. The car looks like a new car. Of course the passenger side front electric window does not work, but since I never open the windows that does not matter. If Audi or other mechanic could get the $5 plastic part to repair it, it would take about two hours of labor to fix the window which would be close to $400. There might be cheaper mechanics up here, but I am not sure if they could get the plastic part. There is also a six inch long scratch on the passenger side front door which was caused by a snow brush a year and a half ago. I ate a ham and cheese sandwich with mayonnaise on a New York Everything bagel with potato chips and a 12 ounce glass of Nestea low calorie ice tea. I will now rest a bit.

We got off at Scarborough, Maine, and we drove north on the first north south road to Lowes in South Portland, Maine. We bought three 2 cubic foot bags of brown mulch for $3.50 a bag for $11.50 total. My relative also bought a door mat that she will return later because later they were half the price at www.samsclub.com . We then went to the Portland International airport. They have a new Hilton Hotel next to the Portland airport. My relative arrived about 25 minutes later. I picked up my relative with the luggage, and we left the Portland airport paying a $2 parking fee for short term parking for less than an hour. We then drove back down the way we came, and we went to Sam's Club. My relatives bought some food supplies and got a cheaper welcome mat. We then took I-95 south for a dollar toll from Scarborough, Maine to Biddeford, Maine, and we drove east to U.S.1 South, and we took U.S. 9 south into Kennebunkport, Maine. We unpacked the car. I left the bags of brown mulch on the side of the driveway. They are for the flower box in the rear yard of the house. I hung up the front porch flower pots, since they had enough rain. We watched the NBC evening news with the last five minutes of Jenna Bush Haggar interviewing her grandfather George H.W. Bush. Apparently he likes wearing argyle socks. For dinner I had baked breaded cod with baked Russet potato with butter and steamed green beans with butter and a glass of watered down punch. I washed the dinner dishes. CIO

Note: <888> 06/12/12 Tuesday 6:20 P.M. I woke up at 5 P.M.. I went for a drive with a relative along the Kennebunkport waterfront. We stopped by at Bradbury's grocery store, and we got a package of Green Giant green beans for $3.19. I sat out for a while at Cape Porpoise enjoying the view of the ocean. We then returned back along the waterfront in Kennebunkport. There seems to be some activity around Walker's Point, so I guess they are having a 88th birthday party for George H.W. Bush. Note: <888> 06/12/12 Tuesday 3:00 P.M. I woke up at 9 A.M.. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with splenda and milk and sliced banana, a toasted English muffin with butter, watered down orange juice, and a cup of coffee with splenda and milk. I brought the trash can and the recycle bin back from the street. I programmed the RCA remote control for the kitchen television. I did not put new batteries in it, since it had lithium batteries in it that might last longer. I made my bed. I showered, and I cleaned up. I went out with a relative, and we drove through downtown Kennebunkport. There is road work going on the west side of downtown of Kennebunkport which creates traffic jams. We drove along the Kennebunk beach. Nobody was there, since it was about 66 degrees Fahrenheit along the ocean. We drove into Kennebunk. We went to CVS. We then went to the Ace Hardware, where we got Jobe's fruit tree fertilizer spikes. We then stopped by Hannaford's and we got three 12 packs of Nestea diet ice tea for $10 all plus 5 cents can deposit. I also got a box of Cheez-its. We drove the back way to Kennebunkport. Today is election day for local elections. Today is also George H.W. Bush's 88th birthday. We went by the Kennebunkport post office. We then drove along the Kennebunkport waterfront. We returned to my relatives' house. I put away the purchases. I ate the remaining ham and Swiss cheese on a Kaiser roll that I brought up with me yesterday along with potato chips and a piece of pastry cake and cold filtered water. I will now rest for a while. Note: <888> 06/11/12 Monday 9:25 P.M. I chatted with a relative and a friend before going to bed last night. I woke up and ate a few day old muffin. I woke up this morning at 6 A.M.. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with honey and milk and a sliced banana, a toasted English muffin with olive oil, a glass 50% cold filtered water and punch, and a cup of coffee with splenda sweetener and milk. I washed the breakfast dishes. I made my bed. I showered, and I cleaned up. I prepared the apartment to leave. I put the last of my

luggage in the Audi, and I chatted with neighbors. I left my apartment building at 8:15 A.M. I drove east on Putnam Avenue to North Maple and up North Street to the Merritt Parkway East. My odometer turned to 70,000 miles at the New Canaan Stamford border. I took a pit stop at the New Canaan and Orange rest areas. I got on I-91 North, and I took a pit stop at the first rest area. I got on I-84 East, and I took another pit stop at the first rest area. I got on the Massachusetts turnpike East, and I stopped at the Chalmers rest area. I ate one of my ham and cheese sandwiches. I chatted with a relative on my wireless telephone. I bought $23 of Gulf Premium gasoline for $3.929 a gallon for 5.853 gallons for 143.3 miles driving since this last Saturday at odometer reading of 70114 miles 24.484 miles per gallon in mostly highway traffic. I then got off at the Auburn I-290 exit, and I paid a 50 cent toll. I took I-290 North to I-495 North. I took a pit stop at the Lowell rest area. I then drove to I-95 North, and I took a pit stop at the New Hampshire welcome center. I chatted with a relative. I got off at the New Hampshire liquor store exit <http://www.nh.gov/liquor/index.shtml> , and I chatted with a relative again. I bought a 1.75 liter bottle of Absolute 80 proof Vodka for $24.99. I got back at I-95 North, and I paid a $2 toll at the New Hampshire Toll and a $2 toll at the Maine Turnpike Toll. I got off at the Wells exit, and I drove east on U.S.1 to 9 South into Kennebunkport, Maine. I arrived at my relative's house at 3 P.M. for 261 miles driving from Greenwich. The Audi ran just fine. I chatted with a relative, and I was shown the changes in the house. I unpacked the car, and then I unpacked downstairs and setup the laptop. I have wireless in the house. I put the U.S.A. flag on the flag pole in front of the house. At 5 P.M., I went out with a relative, and we went by CVS in Kennebunk. We then went to the restaurant Sebago in the Hannaford shopping plaza. I had a glass of ice tea with splenda and a slice of lemon, and three baked Hawaiian chicken breasts with bake potato with butter and sautéed zucchini for $11.99 for the entrée and I ate one of my relative's chicken breasts. We then went to the Hannaford grocery store, and we did some grocery shopping. We then drove back to Kennebunkport, Maine; and we drove along the waterfront and returned to my relatives' house. We then put away the groceries. I put out the garbage the recycle bin. CIO

Note: <888> 06/07/12 Thursday 12:10 P.M. Of course the other dog at the apartment in Manhattan was a Doberman Pincher that had been left by my roommate's son. When I walked the dogs, there was no lease law back then in Manhattan, so the Doberman Pincher would disappear for a half hour to an hour before returning. When I called the Doberman which was named "Dobbie" in the park, I would be walking through the parks yelling "Dobbie". Primarily I walked the dogs in Riverside Park and occasionally in Central Park and around Columbus Avenue on the West Side.

My family has known members of the www.forbes.com family since moving to Connecticut in 1962, so the Riverside Park was near the Central Park boat basin where the Forbes kept their boat "The Highlander", and also they would occasionally visit the Indian Harbor Yacht Club and Kennebunkport, Maine, and also they would moor it in the winter at the Pier 66 Marina in Fort Lauderdale. Also the Winfield Scott historical town house is across the street on West 13th street from the Forbes building on Fifth Avenue and 13th street. Thus when I used to visit the Greenwich Village neighborhood, I would see a lot of the Forbes' Manhattan neighbors. I was also their house guest in Far Hills, New Jersey back in 1974 as I recall. Another friend's grandfather lived nearby in Gladstone, New Jersey which I visited around 1973. Back around 1964, I was on the Highlander up West Point during a foot ball game Our neighbors on Round Hill Road would frequently entertain Bruce Forbes and his wife Shorty, so we got to know them. The publisher of Forbes also used to live on Glenville Road here in Greenwich. Thus I could be one of the Forbes' wharf rats. I don't ever recall seeing the Highlander in Nantucket, just the Amway. I do know other distant members of the Forbes family from Boston own one of the Elizabeth Islands. Of course other than Steve Forbes who is frequently on Fox Business, I don't know what the other member of the family look like anymore. The Forbes told me they own the www.honda.com franchise for New Jersey. CIO

Note: <888> 06/07/12 Thursday 11:05 A.M. I once read a report that people from California and out west, when they drive back east to Connecticut during the warmer months like camping out at the State of Connecticut camp ground on Route 7 north of Danbury, Connecticut. However, in the report, it said they frequently run into bears. New York City when I lived there until February 1982 had a white polar bear in the Central Park Children's Zoo. The Polar Bear liked looking at the White German Shepard dog that I used to walk in Manhattan. Since the owner's of the White Shepard was a friend who went to work for China Airlines, and left it with her mother who was the head of word processing for Cyrus Vance's law firm after he was secretary of state, I technically could be a retired state department dog walker. However, I do not have the time to walk a dog six times a day or the money to maintain a dog. The white Shepard was named "Silver" and I was always calling the dog "Silver" in the various parks I walked the dog at, and at the time the price of the commodity silver was sky rocketing. If one makes financial decisions by second sight, we could be heading for a "Bear Market". CIO

I have never been able to afford to visit the United Kingdom. However, when I used Fred Von Mierers' apartment in Manhattan from October 1973 to February 1975, it was a couple of blocks away from the British consulate, so I saw a few British people in the neighborhood. On July 5, 1976, I saw Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip tour Bloomingdales department store during the Bicentennial. The only Commonwealth Countries I have visited are Canada, Bermuda, the Bahamas, Tobago, and I changed planes in Trinidad and Barbados, so my British Commonwealth experience is limited. On the matter of taxes in Greenwich, Connecticut:

The Federal Income Tax is 35%

The Connecticut State Tax is 6.5%

The Connecticut Sales Tax is 6.5%

Of course, people also pay Social Security Tax, Real Estate Property Tax, Automobile Property Tax, Unemployment F.I.C.A. tax, Medical Insurance and Premium television to keep lying to you, so when one adds these costs to the 50% government tax, people are paying over 60% tax and possibly up to 70% of their income to survive in Connecticut. Note: <888> 06/01/12 Friday 11:40 A.M. I have Windows 8 Release Preview installed and configured on the second Dell Latitude D410 laptop computer. It runs just fine. However, for some odd reason Windows 8 Release Preview DVD will not boot up to install on the Dell Latitude 4600i computer in the bedroom. It just gives several error messages, and tells one to reboot the computer. The startup screen does not boot to the install screen. I tried the other DVD, and I got the same message. This is strange since Windows 8 Consumer Preview installed on it without any problems. CIO

Note: <888> 07/31/12 Tuesday 11:55 P.M. The stainless steel EveryReady flashlight bulb burned out, so I put in bulb from the Roy-O-Vac flashlight that does not work for some reason, so the EverReady flashlight with three D batteries on the white bookshelf at the kitchen entrance now works. The Ray-O-Vac flashlight has Lou Scott written on it in green paint, and for some reason even with a new bulb, it does not work. It is a very simple mechanism with a sliding copper connector, but I can not figure out why it does not work. I saw a car from Naples, Florida downtown tonight, so I guess we have visitors from Florida. Jim Eldert use to have relatives in Naples, Florida, and the first time I started washing dishes for a living was at the Howard Johnson's in Naples, Florida back in the winter of 1977, when Jim and I hitchhiked out of Key West to Naples across Alligator Alley only to find out his relatives were not there, so I worked a day at the Howard Johnson's there to get some money for food, and we then returned back to Key West. I then went downtown, and I sat out for a while. I chatted with a local walker on my wireless telephone. I did not walk, because I did not feel like it. It was not very busy downtown. I then went by the Greenwich Library, and I chatted with a reference librarian. I checked out a BluRay DVD called "The Scorpion King III". I sat outside at the library for a while after it closed. I chatted with a relative on my wireless telephone. I then returned home. I put $25 more time on my AT&T Go Phone plus $1.59 tax for $26.59 total. I now have $207.29 on it good until October 29, 2012. I printed out two copies of my Microsoft Money 2007 Income versus Spending Report for July 2012, and I have one copy that I will mail to an interested relative. I delivered another package to a neighbor. I chatted with a neighbor. I tried on the shirt, and it fits just fine. I hung it in the left center of my bedroom closet. They way I figure it, the people whom rent in Greenwich, Connecticut in July will be leaving today, and the super rich people whom rent in August will be arriving tomorrow, so we have to have the town in tip top formation for those renters. I hear tell some people pay a lot of money to rent houses in Greenwich, Connecticut in August, be we probably have to respect their privacy whomever they might be. I still have a large size Hemingway shirt in my bedroom closet that I have never worn. CIO

I then added a half of a peeled cucumber that I sliced into 1/8th inch thick slices. I then added 8 quarter inch thick slices by 1.5 inch by 1.5 inch pieces of Cracker Barrel Vermont extra sharp cheddar cheese that I cut into half inch pieces. I then added 15 extra large pitted black olives that I cut in half. I then drained two 6 ounce cans of solid white albacore tuna fish, and I ran it with the top on under cold water, and then I drain it again, and I diced it into small flakes, and I added it to the salad bowl. I diced into quarter inch cubic pieces five kosher dill slices. I peeled and diced a Bermuda onion and I added to the salad bowl. I added three plum tomatoes that I diced into half inch cubic pieces. I added two teaspoons of Grey Poupon Dijon country mustard. I then added about a third of a cup grated parmesan and Romano cheese. I then mixed up thoroughly with two large serving spoons. I put one third on a large dinner plate and two thirds in a large Rubbermaid container with lid, and I refrigerated it. One the serving on the salad plate, I added a couple of dozen Rothbury Farms cheese and garlic croutons and Wish Bone chunky blue cheese dressing, extra virgin olive oil, and freshly ground pepper and salt, and I mixed it all together. Note: <888> 07/29/12 Sunday 10:30 P.M. I watched a video about Malibu, California. I have not been out in California, since the week after election day in November 1980 which would be about 32 years ago, when I was 30 years old. Nobody paid any attention to me out there on my trips out there from October 1978 to November 1980, except for the fact that my cars had either Massachusetts or Connecticut license plates on them. I occasionally see cars back east from California, but I never figure out whom is driving them. There use to be an automobile rally from the Lock Stock and Barrel restaurant in Darien, Connecticut to the pier in Malibu, California back in the early 1970s, but it used so much gasoline that it caused the Arab Oil embargo, and the people left back east were left in the suburbs without gasoline, so we ended up spending a lot of time in Manhattan walking around in circles trying to make new friends. I guess most people are not interested in seeing what is in between both coasts of America, so they prefer to fly by jet back and forth. I sold my Belgium Volvo near Disneyland and left California by jet on my last trip. California is like a whole different country, when one gets out there. The people do not eat much red meat, and they seem to live on vegetables and sunshine and orange juice. I might still know a few people out there, but they have lost touch with me over the years. I also have relatives on the West Coast whom have settled out there. I will now shut down the primary work computer, and I will go to bed soon. I can not figure out anything new to do on my computers for the time being, but I have enjoyed getting outside in the sunshine and the fresh air and the daytime for a change. Californians tend not to smoke cigarettes, so they tend not to network with me, when I see them, but when I was out there, some of them would smoke clove cigarettes, and I will pretend they do not smoke anything else out there either. Maybe that is why we never hear from them. I know they are into a lot of nature activities, but at my age I would not be too good at exploring the wilderness areas of California. Also I am told not to go out to the beach until after 3 P.M. in the afternoon, since I have already had too much sun in my life from my days in Nantucket and Florida. CIO

I noticed, one of their patrons left their new Mercedes Benz running in front of the store, which I told the patron, he should not do, since I am not sure if some of the local residents and visitors respect private property. I kept an eye on it until the patron returned. In some countries I have heard, everything is government property, so there are no private property rights. I went to my 11 A.M. appointment. I then sat out briefly downtown. There is this distressing article in today's paper Tesei scouts waterfront home for Senior Center - GreenwichTime . I think the senior center should stay where it is where there is good security and other convenience for the local senior population whom live nearby. Possibly they could move the art center down by the waterfront. It is slippery and icy down by the waterfront in the winter which would not be good for the local senior population. I then returned home without my walk, because I am hungry and it might rain. CIO

Nobody ever contacted me about my internet work, except a few of my directory users. I went to four www.microsoft.com conferences, and Tim Berners Lee emailed me to keep up working on the internet, when he was working at www.mit.edu. I also have a relative that is a summer neighbor of an www.ibm.com employee. My Norwegian friend Rhone Dietrin from Lanzarote in the Canary Islands never surfaced on the internet, so possibly if he is still around, he might be working for his father's airline Flights to Sweden, Norway, and Denmark - Scandinavian Airlines - SAS. I moved the Cambridge Sound Speaker System subwoofer on my living room television setup from on top of the Sony BluRay system to the right on top of the black breakfast tray on top of the www.harvard.edu chair. When I was around Fred Von Mierers when he was working in Manhattan, most of his clients would not get up early in the morning, and Billy Baldwin got him to get them interested in various types of breakfast trays, so I guess they slept late and ate breakfast in bed. Out here in the more primitive parts of Connecticut, people tend to eat breakfast at their kitchen tables, and drink coffee in the morning organizing their days and communicating with their neighbors. Of course the people whom are lucky enough to find jobs in Manhattan, probably eat a bowl of cereal on the run before they catch the train. There is $5 off coupon in the Greenwich flyer circular today for a discount good until October 12, 2012 over at Oil Star in Stamford, Connecticut, if one needs their oil changed. CIO

Note: <888> 07/19/12 Thursday 5:50 P.M. On the Sony BluRay player, it will also play on the Sony CRT television, if one changes the video input from 1080p to 480p which is a lower resolution. CIO

Note: <888> 07/19/12 Thursday 4:50 P.M. Instead of cleaning up, I moved the Sony Media player back into the kitchen connected up to the older Sony Trinitron television. Video 2 from its remote control selects the Sony Media content. I then installed the Sony BluRay player on top of the Memorex DVD player on top of the Sony television in the living room. I setup the Netflix and Hulu content on the device, and it all works just fine on the Sceptre 23 inch LED TV off HDMI port 2. It will not play at the same time on the older Sony television, because the older Sony television is not HDMI, but that does not matter. I am listening and watching the Amazon.com: Roy Orbison - Black & White Night (DVD & DVD Audio): k.d. lang, Bonnie Raitt, J.D. Souther, Jennifer Warnes, Jackson Browne, T-Bone Burnett, Elvis Costello, Roy Orbison, Steven Soles, Bruce Springsteen, Tom Waits: Movies & TV which sounds just fine, although it is only in black and white. I will now shower and clean up. CIO

Note: <888> 07/19/12 Thursday 2:10 P.M. I woke up, and I ate a 8.5 ounce bag of 60% reduced fat Chex mix. I finally woke up this morning, when the local FedEx office called me up at 8 A.M.. I checked outside my apartment, and the package with the Sony BluRay player was outside my door. I told the local FedEx office the package had arrived. I then received a telephone call from the Greenwich Housing Authority, and I told them the package had arrived. I chatted with a relative. I guess the building custodian had stored it away, and he delivered it this morning, but I have no confirmation to that fact. I then told the Greenwich Police department. I then chatted with Sony up in Toronto, Canada. I then chatted with the Nashville, Tennessee FedEx office. I then chatted with a friend and a relative. Thus my whole morning was spent on the telephone. I have only had about five hours sleep the last two days, so I am getting less sleep than normal. I feel like I am driving across country taking naps at various rest areas along the way. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with honey and milk and a sliced banana, a toasted English muffin with olive oil, watered down fruit punch, and a cup of coffee with splenda and milk. I washed the breakfast dishes. I made my bed. I had a neighbor knock on my door, and I let the neighbor use my cell phone to call her relative who had locked the neighbor out of the apartment. I will now shower and clean up. CIO

Note: <888> 07/19/12 Thursday 2:00 A.M. I ate a Stouffer's 18.5 ounce five cheese lasagna with grated parmesan and Romano cheese and a 12 ounce glass of Sprite.

On a sad note former Air Force General Walsh's 80 year old son Pete Walsh died after a prolonged illness today. He will be missed by family and friends. A memorial service will be held at a later time in Virginia. This is the only Walsh family member Official Biography: Major General Robert S. Walsh that I can find mention of on the internet that is in the military, so he might be a relative. Pete like talking about his friendship with Hugh D. Auchincloss - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia and the Corcoran Gallery of Art - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia and he was a lifetime member of the Alfalfa Club - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia and the Society of the Cincinnati - Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia. He liked spending his summers at remote beaches in New England with his many relatives and friends.

Note: <888> 07/18/12 Wednesday 11:30 P.M. I moved the Sony Media Player out of the kitchen hooked it up the same way to HDMI 2 to the Sceptre television in the living room and the Sony 24 inch Trinitron in the living room, so it is now available for living room viewing. I probably would not have not watched Netflix in the kitchen, but it might have been useful to watch cooking shows off the Sony Media device, but to be realistic I can not do any better cooking on my budget. I went outside, and I chatted with an older neighbor from the www.army.mil . I told him that the current government has more high tech devices than Cablevision. More than likely they are capable of tracking anyone that they chose. Also the media content from what I can tell on Cablevision is mostly Children's programming, so possibly the people whom watch satellite programming are watching more advanced television which I can not afford and besides people in my public housing project are not allowed to install satellite dishes. I also told the neighbor that the original concept of Cable TV when I lived in Greenville, South Carolina during the winter of 1976 next to the first Cable TV coming out of Atlanta which was a www.cbs.com station that we could program the local cable television content in each area or state, so for example the President of the United States in Texas might still be a Bush or Johnson, and the President of the United States in California might still be a Reagan, and the President of the United States in Illinois might still be a Lincoln or a Obama and the President of the United States in New York might still be a Roosevelt or Clinton or a Van Buren or a few other names people have forgotten. For all I know Lowell Weicker is the President of the United States in Connecticut, but nobody ever sees him around anymore except some of his relatives that like to stay very private. Thus if someone told you who they thought the President of the United States was, one would be able to know where they watch most of their television. After chatting with the neighbor, I walked around the building to make sure my package was not around the perimeter of the building. I chatted with a young person waiting for a friend in his car. His car was a www.honda.com that got 36 miles per gallon and had GPS. As I recalled the www.forbes.com family in New Jersey have the Honda franchise in New Jersey if you want to look for a cheaper Honda. Of course back in February 1975 during a blizzard in Manhattan, I threw a party across the street from the C.B.S. broadcast center on West 57th street for my two thousand closet friends, and for $5 you could have all of the liquor that you wanted in the blizzard. I drove my relatives in Chevrolet Monte Carlo from Greenwich in the blizzard to Manhattan and picked up Helen Kress Williams and Fred Von Mierers in Manhattan, and my relatives saw their apartments. There were about 200 security people at the party with a lot of younger people that like looking at the aquariums that were setup for decoration. I had a few Jack Daniels on the Rocks, and I recall talking to a large number of people including a concert pianist named Lance. One of the other guests told me that Lance was the grandson of the Emperor of Japan, so possibly some day if I ever make it to Japan I will see their more advanced electronics from an Imperial viewpoint. The party was in a large loft above the General Motors Automobile dealership on West 57th Street across from the C.B.S. broadcast center. As I recall from reading the guest list one of the VIP guests was suppose to be Henry www.ford.com. We did make it back safely to Greenwich that night. In later years that particular loft location was the headquarters of Amnesty International and also the Red Parrot discothèque night club which catered to the passengers off the cruise ships on the west side of Manhattan. The only celebrities that I recognized while I was at www.cbs.com for two or three months at the spring and summer of 1973 was Michael Thomas and Mr. Green Jeans. Because Watergate was going on, there was no local programming at CBS but a live feed from the Senate hearings. I recall once when I was sitting on the steps of the broadcast center, five thousand French sailors walked by off a French aircraft carrier, so I figured possibly there was a Coupe D'Etat going on in America that was not being broadcast. I knew the French government had a stockpile of nuclear weapons, so I figured they were possibly up to something besides shore leave. Possibly they planted a hidden nuclear device in Manhattan to have available in case Anglo French relations ever deteriorated. However, back then a number of other governments could have done the same thing, since from experience New Yorkers do not watch the waterfront very closely. I should know having seen a lot of waterfronts particularly in Manhattan. Thus if I don't gossip too much with the general public, it is not to scare them based on what I know. When I was at the C.B.S. broadcast center I was a clerk typist earning $85 a week doing the paper work on forms for billing for the commercials and I used an I.B.M. Selectric Typewriter. My office was next to 60 Minutes. I worked from 10 A.M. to 7 P.M., and I would watch the Evening news in the three television room across the hall from my office which I shared with about a dozen other people. I lived at the St. Clair residence on West 10th street just west of Fifth Avenue for $35 a week in a small room with hallway bathroom shared with other tenants. I took the subway from Union Square to 57th Street, and I would walk back and forth from the Carnegie Hall subway stop to the C.B.S. broadcast center on West 57th street. There was a pub in the Greenwich Village neighborhood where a lot of the C.B.S. employees hung out, and uptown at the Plaza Hotel Oak bar, I would see a lot of the White House staff that was being investigated. I lost my job because I had a hard time making it work before noon. However possibly since my immediate boss that fired me, might not have realized that the person who recommended me for the job was a Group President for the C.B.S. division of Creative Play Things, he might have overridden my immediate boss, and left me to do my own thing as best I could survive. Still from my viewpoint, once I quit showing up at the premises and my paycheck quit, I no longer worked for them, but a lot of people whom I had told I worked for C.B.S. might have thought I still do. CIO

$40 with coupon code "OUTLETBDPS185X" and $2.54 tax for $42.53 total with free shipping had been delivered. I went downstairs to get it, but it was not there. I called up FedEx, and they told me it was left in the United States Postal Service mail room at the building I live in. I looked around various locations in the building and chatted with neighbors. Two neighbors whom were using the adjacent laundry room at the time it was delivered said it had been left in the mail room. I called up FedEx again, and they said they would do an investigation. I called up the Greenwich Police, and they came over, and they told me I should wait to see if the building custodian knows anything about it, and possibly the building custodian might have locked it away for safe keeping. If not they would come by tomorrow and file a report. I left a message with the Greenwich Housing Authority to contact the building custodian. I called up Sony in Canada, and they told me they would replace it if stolen, but currently the item is not available. I chatted with a few more neighbors. Hopefully the building custodian has it, and it has not been stolen. I chatted with another neighbor. CIO

Note: <888> 07/18/12 Wednesday 6:10 A.M. I went downtown, and I walked the entire length of Greenwich Avenue and the train station area. I sat out at various locations. It was not very busy early in the morning. www.starbucks.com opened at 5:30 A.M., and there were a few patrons waiting to be served their morning coffee. I then returned home. I have noticed over the last month or so that on West Putnam Avenue in the south east bound lane opposite the entrance to the Greenwich Library, there is a man hole cover that is recessed several or more inches into the pavement causing a road hazard with the uneven pavement at that location. There is white paint around it marking like they intend to repair it, but they have not gotten around to it in over a month. CIO

Note: <888> 07/18/12 Wednesday 3:10 A.M. The Sony BluRay media player that is arriving today has the Sony Streaming Media device built into it. I am going to connect it up to the living room television setup. I moved the existing Sony Streaming Media device from the living room setup into the kitchen, and I hooked it up to the 20 inch Sony Trinitron television in the kitchen. I put the Sony Streaming media device on top of the Sharp Convection oven on top of the refrigerator, but one does not have to reach it, since it is controlled by its remote control. To get the Sony Streaming media device content on the Sony television in the kitchen, one has to use the Sony television remote control and switch the TV/Video switch to Video 2. I ran a 25 foot LAN cable from the TrendNet router into the kitchen to the Sony Media device for its internet connection. Thus there will be a spare LAN cable available by the television setup in the living room besides the one for the BluRay device. CIO

Note: <888> 07/15/12 Sunday 1:30 A.M. I went out, and I threw out an old bathroom scale. I went downtown, and I walked the entire length of Greenwich Avenue and the train station area. I sat out at various locations. At the top of Greenwich Avenue, I moved the green bench off the grass back to its usual place on the sidewalk. The water sprinklers came on at 11:40 P.M., so the bench might still get wet from the sprinkler system which makes it uncomfortable to sit on the bench. After I finished my walk, I sat out and watched Bartlett Dairy & Food Service make its regular midnight delivery to Starbucks. It was a moderately busy evening with a few young people pub crawling. I then went by Putnam Shell at 401 West Putnam Avenue, and I bought $10.01 of self service premium V-Power gasoline for $4.299 a gallon for 2.329 gallons at odometer reading of 70626 miles for 23 miles driving since last Sunday July 8, 2012 for 10.273 miles per gallon in mostly local night traffic. I then went by CVS at 644 West Putnam Avenue, and I bought two CVS 100 capsule garlic oil softgels for $5.79 each, buy one get one free of CVS balance B-50 100 capsule for $9.49 both, buy one get one free of CVS MSM 1000 mg 60 capsule for $7.29 both, buy one get one free of CVS Niacin flush free 500 mg 100 capsules for $8.39 both, buy one get one free of CVS B-12 1000 mg 60 capsules for $7.49 less a $4 off CVS store coupon from the machine on a $20 purchase and $2.56 tax for $42.79 total. I then returned home. There was a young raccoon that bothered a neighbor that was sitting outside. I let the neighbor inside, since the neighbor was having problems with the door key. CIO

I figure that older people like myself at age 62 should not be out downtown at night after 10 P.M. at night. There are younger people in their 20s and 30s that seem to go to the local pubs. I guess the Tapas Restaurants in CT, Spanish Restaurants CT, Barcelona Wine Bar Restaurants in Greenwich, Stamford, Sono, New Haven, West Hartford is the local hot night spot downtown. Traditionally Spanish restaurants do not open until 10 P.M. at night and do not start to get busy until 11 P.M. at night. CIO

Note: <888> 07/14/12 Saturday 9:40 A.M. I called up Safelite AutoGlass® - Windshield Repair & Replacement, and they can not fix the plastic clip on the passenger side front door window, and they said I would have to take it to an Audi dealership to get it repaired which would be over $400. I think for now I will leave the board inside the door that props up the window closed. For the procedure this video is available on the internet Audi A6 Power Window Repair - YouTube, however I am afraid of breaking the glass so I tried to do it myself. I am also not sure if the new replacement plastic clip is available to fix the defective clip that came with the Audi when it was new. I think Audi should have a recall, since they know the plastic window clip is defective, and they should fix it for free. CIO

I then added a half of a peeled cucumber that I sliced into 1/8th inch thick slices. I then added 8 quarter inch thick slices by 1.5 inch by 1.5 inch pieces of Vermont extra sharp cheddar cheese that I cut into half inch pieces. I then added 15 extra large pitted black olives that I cut in half. I then drained two 6 ounce cans of solid white albacore tuna fish, and I ran it with the top on under cold water, and then I drain it again, and I diced it into small flakes, and I added it to the salad bowl. I diced into quarter inch cubic pieces four kosher dill slices. I peeled a Bermuda onion and I added half of a diced onion to the salad bowl. I added two large plum tomatoes that I diced into half inch cubic pieces. I added two teaspoons of Grey Poupon Dijon country mustard. I then added about a third of a cup grated parmesan and Romano cheese. I then mixed up thoroughly with two large serving spoons. I put one third on a large dinner plate and two thirds in a large Rubbermaid container with lid, and I refrigerated it. One the serving on the salad plate, I added a couple of dozen Chatham Caesar croutons and Hidden Valley original dressing and Kraft blue cheese dressing, extra virgin olive oil, and freshly ground pepper. I ate it with a 12 ounce glass of Canada dry diet ginger ale and two ears of sweet corn on the cob with Smart Balance spread and extra virgin olive oil and a cup of green tea with spenda and Borden's lemon juice. Note: <888> 07/11/12 Wednesday 8:55 A.M. I will now shut down the primary windmill computer, and I will go to bed soon. I ate five white chocolate and macadamia nut cookies. As I have explained many times in my notes, when I went out west from 1978 to 1980 it was to look into living in a warmer climate and getting work in the computer industry which never happened as it never happened in Florida earlier. I am well settled in up north. We had a warm winter this past winter and will probably have a warmer winter this coming winter because of the 12th and 13th years of the Solar Flare cycle at their height in the 13 year cycle, but after that we will probably return to colder winters and cooler summers unlike the warmer summer we have had recently. Since Mount St. Helen's erupted May 18, 1980, I made two trips out west after that last event including a side trip to Hawaii and Maui, so although I could not afford to visit the Northwest, the people I was around out west were well aware of the Mount St. Helen's eruption, and knew there would be colder winters up north. I left Hawaii in August 1980 wearing a three piece vintage wool Brooks Brother's suit which the local islanders thought quaint. However that following winter in New Canaan, Connecticut there were extremely large Hawaiians working at the Mobil gasoline station on the Merritt Parkway, and apparently a lot of people who go to Hawaii also go to Alaska, so they probably had Alaska experience for the following colder winters. Thus I did my bit to get prepared, but with little funding they were awfully cold winters in 1981 and 1982 up north, but I was younger then. CIO

Note: <888> 07/11/12 Wednesday 8:05 A.M. In my life I have been as far south as the military super power of Tobago, and as far west as the military super power of Maui, and as far north as the military super power of Norway and as far east as the military super power of Turkey. I have spent all together on five trips to the Eastern Hemisphere from 1972 to 1992 about nine months in the Eastern Hemisphere. I have been in France, Italy, Switzerland, Spain, Lanzerote, Greece, Turkey on the first trip in 1972. In 1980, I visited Frankfurt, Germany. In 1983, I flew to Oslo, Norway and returned via Copenhagen, Denmark. In 1988, I flew into Düsseldorf, Germany and on to Munich and traveled by land to Innsbruck, Austria and returned the same way. In 1992, I flew to Paris France and via land I traveled through Brussels, and visited Amsterdam in the Netherlands and then back through Brussels, Luxemburg and back into France to Albertville with a side trip to Geneva, Switzerland and back to Albertville and returned to Paris and back to the Western Hemisphere on my last trip. On all of those trips I saw lots of security and military with lots of military and police carrying automatic weapons and machine guns. The most memorable event was when George Cary and I were in Greece during the Military dictatorship in the spring of 1972, and we drove from Athens east along the coast surrounded by the Greek National guard, and when we crossed the border into Turkey at 1 A.M. in the morning, George had fallen asleep, and I drove about five hours on a deserted two lane highway with Turkish machine gunners elbow to elbow on both sides of the road all of the way to the Bosphorus which we crossed on a ferry, and on the other side there was no security, but the generator on the $300 red and white Opal station wagon broke, so I spend $5 to have it recoiled, and we continued south to a new resort that did not make the Michelin Guide and was deserted except for a German couple in an old green Volvo, and it was only $5 a night to stay there, and after a week stay we headed down to Selchuck to meet up with our other college classmates that flew by aircraft. Coming out of Istanbul back to Greece there was not much traffic or security. I did notice in Turkey a lot of the wealthier young boys had pet bears which I thought was sort of odd. CIO

Note: <888> 07/11/12 Wednesday 7:05 A.M. When I was around my friends in Plandome Manor, Long Island and Port Washington, Long Island and Manhasset, Long Island and the same family in Manhattan from 1978 to 1982, the paternal grandfather in the family was a colonel in the www.army.mil in Atlanta, Georgia. At Ronald Reagan's first inaugural, I had vodka and tonic drink at the Sheraton Hotel next to the www.whitehouse.gov , and the person sitting next to me looked like Stansfield Turner who ran the www.cia.gov . The person that ran the ice cream parlor in the basement of the Hilton Hotel next door looked like Jimmy Eldert whose grandfather was Richard Nixon's neighbor in Key Biscayne, Florida. I recall, I ordered a Butter Scotch Sunday. When I knew Wiley Middleton in Fort Lauderdale, Florida in the fall of 1976, he told me he had been in the www.usmc.mil in World War I, so more than likely he had younger friends who were in wars that came later. There are relatives of the Sherman family that also live in Greenwich, Connecticut. Brent Scocroft is around the Bush group, and I have obviously been around the Bush group. When I had lunch with the head of PARC, a Xerox company in Dana Point, California, the other guest was the head of Camp Pendleton. When I use to drink alcohol and travel, I used to frequently walk into bars where everyone was dressed in military officer's uniforms. When I was in St. Thomas, I sat next to somebody in a restaurant in a British Naval officer's uniform that looked like Prince Charles. In Key West, Florida; nobody could afford uniforms, so they just wore blue jeans or blue jean cut offs. A few rich people wore khakis. James Warburg senior here in Greenwich was in the Army Air Corps in World War I, and he was also an economist and under secretary of the treasury for Franklin Delano Roosevelt. My only expertise in weaponry is as a youth I used to own a Whamo sling shot and later on I practiced archery which I was pretty good at. At Lookout Mountain Camp, I qualified for the National Rifle Association badges with a 22 rifle when I was 8 and 9 years old. At www.lfc.edu I once bought a www.sears.com shotgun for $20 that was made in Japan for trap shooting, but the first time I tried to fire it, it fell apart into several pieces in my hand, but it did not harm me. I returned it to Sears and got my $20 back. I think I used friends' shotguns for trap shooting after that, but I was not very good at it. I have a friend locally that was in the www.army.mil and he is suppose to be an expert hunter and marksman, but he no longer visits anymore, because I live too far away from his new home. Also whenever he goes hunting anymore, he keeps getting Lyme Disease. CIO

Note: <888> 07/11/12 Wednesday 6:15 A.M. I use to see Charles De Gaulle's grandson around Manhattan. One could not miss him, because he was tall. In Illinois and Florida, I knew General Hurley's grandson. In Greenwich, Connecticut; I met Robert E. Lee's great grandson. The Mead family helped establish Greenwich, Connecticut; so they might have been related to General Mead. I once knew somebody with the last name Grant in Manhattan, but I don't know if he was related to Ulysses S. Grant or not. I also knew Grant family members in Illinois. Since I played a lot of golf from 1957 until 1968, I might have seen Eisenhower around a golf course, but I did not know who he was. I used to walk around the Waldorf Astoria neighborhood where General MacArthur's widow lived. I lived in Greenville, South Carolina for six months in 1976, and that is where General

Westmoreland was from, and at Daniel Construction part of www.fluor.com , there were a lot of retired military personnel. Military people are always on the move, so if one moves around in the general public a lot like I do, more than likely one will see some military people. I used to see Alexander Haig in Manhattan. However, my grandfather Scott was a railroad engineer, and my father Louis Dale Scott was a chemical engineer, and I am an economist and personal computer engineer, so none of us were ever in the military. However, one of my grandfather Scott's brothers was in the Army Corps of Engineers. I have a relative that lives next door to an www.army.mil base. On my mother's side of the family her father was a dry goods store operator, and one of her brothers was an orthodontist in the www.af.mil . Of course, in Greenwich, Kennedy's secretary of the Army named Blair was from Greenwich. Having lived around the waterfront a great deal of my life, I have seen a lot of www.navy.mil and www.uscg.mil personnel. One of my best friend's in Alabama had a father who was the Presbyterian minister where Paris Island is located down in South Carolina. I don't follow military affairs, and the television media that I watch does not cover the military, so I do not know much about what is going on with the military today. Since I am an economist, I watch the business news which I know something about. I exercise walk to stay fit and to stretch my eye vision away from the computer monitor. CIO

Note: <888> 07/11/12 Wednesday 5:45 A.M. Since I lived in Pensacola, Florida from 1953 to 1955, I was probably around a lot of retired senior military veterans, whom probably are not around anymore. I remember some of them use to talk about the Civil War and the Spanish American War. In Alabama, I use to ride horses on General Joe Wheeler's plantation, but I am not sure if General Joe Wheeler was still around or not. CIO

Note: <888> 07/11/12 Wednesday 5:35 A.M. I might still have a friend from the 1970s still left in Manhattan. He produces video, and he walks a lot, since his father was a Major at Fort Hood in Texas, and since Fort Hood is the size of the state of Rhode Island, he was use to walking a lot, so he walked a lot in Manhattan. The last I knew he lived near the www.forbes.com building downtown in Manhattan, and he also used to live near the telephone company switching center in lower Manhattan near the headquarters of Military Intelligence, before it was moved to Fort Devens in Massachusetts. He knew a lot of night time people, but he might have retired elsewhere, since many of his friend probably left Manhattan years ago. Another friend might be there, and his family name belongs to a military academy in another state. I guess the most senior military person that I met while I was in Manhattan was when I first moved there in January 1973, and around December 1973, I had lunch down on Wall Street with General Pershing's grandson who was a friend of a friend of a friend of mine. He did not hire me for his Wall Street firm though. CIO

Note: <888> 07/11/12 Wednesday 4:35 A.M. I watched series 3 episode 4 of "Sherlock Holmes". In the good old days, when the Greenwich Hospital Thrift shop used to sell electronics, they used to get quite a number of Holmes humidifiers, so I guess the Holmes family branched out into electronics in the modern generations.

About the most significant business news I head on Bloomberg TV Bloomberg Television: Live TV - Bloomberg was that Donald www.trump.com finally opened his authentic

Scottish golf course up in Scotland Trump opens controversial $150M golf course in Scotland - CNN.com and Trump International Golf Links - Scotland . I guess he could not afford to join the GreenwichCC - Golf & Country Club . I once met Donald Trump's caddy from the Winged Foot Golf Club over 20 years ago, and the individuals was a long distance runner, so I figured he would be good communications in case modern electronic communications failed. He could easily run 20 miles in the old days without effort, but perhaps after all of these years, he is cooling his heels. Possibly he trained a newer replacement since he became a physical fitness trainer, and his father started the jogging revolution in Manhattan. I won't tell you what he said about Donald Trump, but in my case I am shaped like a pumpkin these days. Thus when rich people make money they tend to get out of shape, and even poor people when they try to make money spending all of their time on the internet for 22 years, they end up getting out of shape too. I used to drive over to White Plains, New York at night on cold winters nights to a pub where there were cold weather people and even a few New York Rangers type of people hanging out, but recently the more Nordic people have been fewer and farther between and hard to find anymore. Besides Greenwich, Connecticut is a lot more peaceful than White Plains, New York. White Plains, New York does have a half dozen five star hotels and very good security. I drove over to White Plains, New York a little before midnight many years ago, when www.compusa.com was having Midnight Madness for the launch of Microsoft Windows 95, and the CompUSA store for some odd reason was closed. I did notice in driving through White Plains, New York, I saw a tiny young Hispanic fellow driving a tiny little old beat up foreign car driving the wrong way down a one way street about four lanes wide, and out of nowhere about 50 www.chevrolet.com police cars intercepted him for driving the wrong way down a one way street. White Plains, New York has Cornell Medical Center, New York Hospital and the Burke Rehabilitation Institute, so they have a large number of medical personnel and staff awake all night over there serving the Westchester County area. Also I have noticed that the White Plains, New York Airport has one flight a day on Northwest Airlines to Rochester, Minnesota where the Mayo Clinic Mayo Clinic is located. Thus besides the New York City hospitals and the Connecticut hospitals, there is also the nearby Westchester County hospital network. Also there is a Cardiac Hospital I believe in Valhalla, New York nearby White Plains. CIO

Note: <888> 07/11/12 Wednesday 12:35 A.M. I ate a ham and cheese sandwich with mayonnaise on a Kaiser roll with Pringles sour cream and onion potato chips, two ears of corn with Smart Balance Spread and extra virgin olive oil and a dill pickle slice and a 12 ounce glass of 7-UP and a cup of green tea with splenda sweetener and Borden's lemon juice. Note: <888> 07/10/12 Tuesday 11:20 P.M. I threw out the garbage. I checked the motor oil on the Audi, and it is fine. I went downtown. I chatted with a local tech person. I then walked the entire length of Greenwich Avenue and the train station area. I told a group of young people from South Africa how to get to the Greenwich Train Station taxi stand. I stopped by CVS. I bought a 3 quart bottle Clorox Bleach for $1.99 and .13 tax for $2.12 total. I sat out at various locations. I chatted with a couple from Columbia about life down south. I waved at a few regulars from Starbucks. I returned home. I chatted with neighbors. CIO

Note: <888> 07/10/12 Tuesday 7:10 P.M. I took two 6 foot YnPbPr cables, and I connected them together with three RCA cable connectors. I ran the 12 foot length of cable from the bedroom Cablevision Digital Cable box to the Sceptre 23 inch LED TV YnPbPr cable connection, and then I took a 12 foot RCA audio cable, and I ran it from the bedroom Cablevision Digital Cable box to the RCA audio inputs on the Sceptre 23 inch LED TV. Now on the Sceptre 23 inch LED TV, the input selection for the living room Digital Cablevision box is TV or HDMI1 with HDMI1 as the best connection. The input selection for YnPbPr is for the bedroom digital Cablevision cable box, HDMI2 is for the Sony Streaming media device, and input HDMI3 is for the Memorex DVD player and AV is the video feed from the FIC server. Thus I don't need the 25 HDMI cable that I have ordered, and all of my devices are connected. Technically, one could watch the bedroom Digital Cablevision cable box on the Sceptre 23 in LED TV with YnPbPr input, and the living room digital Cablevision cable box on the living room Sony TV, so one can now watch two different TV stations at a time in the living room or the bedroom which was already setup. I will now shower and clean up and go out for a walk. I will eat a couple of day old muffin before I go out. CIO

I hooked it up with a coaxial cable to the living room digital cable box, and I used the HDMI cable to hook up the Sony Media Center to the HDMI port 2. It sound is all right, but for even better sound, I connected the Cambridge Sound speaker system to the head phone jack for even better audio. I have the Cambridge Sound speaker system and the Sceptre LED TV power cables hooked up the Phillips power squid on top of the Sony television, so that has to be turned on to use the devices. I tweaked some of the setting. I stored away the Sceptre box, and I threw out the shipping box and the garbage. I installed the TRENDnet RBTW100BRF114U TRENDnet RBTW100BRF114U Recertified TW100-BRF114U Cable/DSL 4-Port Firewall Router w/ USB Print Server -(1-year limited warranty) from mwave.com at the second router on my network after the Dynex router and before the Netgear Switch. I have the Dynex router connected to the primary work computer, the FIC server, the Netgear Storage device, and then the Trendnet router. I have the Trendnet router connected to my Netgear Switch. I disconnected the two Sony Media players from the Dynex router and connected them to the Trendnet Router. I connected the Lexmark E238 laser printer to the Trendnet router USB port, and one the fourth IBM ThinkCentre, I was able to install the Trendnet router printer port and after a bit of tweaking the Lexmark E238 laser printer now works on the network. I will install it on the other computer on the network in a little while. However, the Netgear storage device does not work on the network, but I might be able to tweak that later on. To have spare ones, I ordered two TRENDnet RBTW100BRF114U TRENDnet RBTW100BRF114U Recertified TW100-BRF114U Cable/DSL 4-Port Firewall Router w/ USB Print Server -(1-year limited warranty) from mwave.com for $14.99 each and $10.94 shipping for $40.92 total. Note: <888> 07/05/12 Thursday 2:35 A.M. I ordered three New RJ45 CAT 5 6 LAN Ethernet Splitter Connector Adapter PC Three Female | eBay for .99 each with free shipping for $2.97 total. I will try to hook up the Trendnet and Dynex routers with one of them, so I can use the print server on the Trendnet Router on the network, and still have the higher speed Dynex router running the server. I still have the Netgear FR114P router with LAN print server and spares, but they only run about half the speed as the other two routers.

I ate two slices of ham and two slices of cheese and a couple of day old muffin. I will now shut down the primary work computer, and I will go to bed soon. CIO

Note: <888> 07/03/12 Tuesday 10:10 P.M. In a large salad bowl, I put in a half head of iceberg cello lettuce that I broke up into smaller pieces that are eatable. I added 40 baby carrots that I cut into quarters lengthwise. I then added a 3/4th of a cup of broccoli crowns that I cut into half inch to three quarters cubic inch pieces. I then added a half of a peeled cucumber that I sliced into 1/8th inch thick slices. I then added 8 quarter inch thick slices by 1.5 inch by 1.5 inch pieces of Vermont extra sharp cheddar cheese that I cut into half inch pieces. I then added 30 extra large pitted black olives that I cut in half. I then drained two 6 ounce cans of solid white albacore tuna fish, and I ran it with the top on under cold water, and then I drain it again, and I diced it into small flakes, and I added it to the salad bowl. I diced into quarter inch cubic pieces four kosher dill slices. I peeled a Vidalia onion and I added half of a diced Vidalia onion to the salad bowl. I added two large plum tomatoes that I diced into half inch cubic pieces. I added two teaspoons of Grey Poupon Dijon country mustard. I then added about a third of a cup grated parmesan and Romano cheese. I then mixed up thoroughly with two large serving spoons. I put one third on a large dinner plate and two thirds in a large Rubbermaid container with lid, and I refrigerated it. One the serving on the salad plate, I added blue cheese dressing, extra virgin olive oil, and freshly ground pepper. I moved the K-World tuner from the Acer 22 inch LCD monitor by the Sony television to the primary computer setup, so it displays on the left monitor. I hooked up the pair of generic speakers from the FIC server for its audio. The K-World TV audio turns on with the upper left control panel switch which is labeled. The K-World tuner power comes from the power strip whose switch is also labeled on the control panel. The power strip has to be turned on to get video on the left monitor. It works just fine. It is connected to the Digital Cable box, so whatever channel the cable box is on displays on the K-World tuner. I moved the Acer 22 inch monitor to the IBM ThinkCentre in front of the mahogany bureau. I moved the 19 inch Eizo monitor from there to a second on the right monitor on the bedroom Dell 4600i computer setup. I put a new spare speaker system on the FIC server. It might have come from exposure to toxins when I was a youth, since my Father was a Chemical Engineer around hazardous chemicals. I take my medication and see a psychiatrist regularly. I need to get my rest and maintain a quiet routine, and I seem to do well. Also the medication that they have me on is 1 MG of Risperidone twice a Day. CIO

Note: <888> 08/23/12 Thursday 3:20 P.M. I chatted with a relative. I ate a slice of Swiss cheese, 20 cherry tomatoes, and three scoops of coffee ice cream. I will now shut down the primary work computer, and I will go to bed for the day. I emailed my friend from Brazil that I would probably be too tired to have him visit, but he might come up here anyway. Younger people seem to have the means of travel, but at my age I need more rest to keep focused on my internet routines. Also when I am awake at night, there are very few other people awake at night anymore, since most of the people seem to prefer to be awake in the daytime. I guess at night since one has to use electric lights, it is more expensive to be awake at night than living off sunshine. CIO

Note: <888> 08/23/12 Thursday 12:40 P.M. I went to my 10:30 A.M. appointment. I then went downtown, and I sat out for a brief spell. It is quite busy downtown. I then went by the Greenwich Hospital Thrift Shop. They have their large variety of various items which are probably useful for people just starting out in a house or a apartment. I then returned home. CIO

Note: <888> 08/23/12 Thursday 9:45 A.M. I went downtown, and I walked the entire length of Greenwich Avenue and the train station area. I sat out at various locations. I stopped by CVS, and I bought a set of three stick proof fry pans 7 inch, 9 inches, and 10 inches for $5 and .32 tax for $5.32 total. I used the bathroom at CVS. On the way down Greenwich Avenue, I noticed the new coffee shop is called "CFCF". I stopped by the Greenwich Hardware store to see if they have any little Brazilian flags, but they are all sold out. I went by the Stop and Shop, and I bought a six pack of Stop and Shop English muffins for $1.49, two 4.7 ounce tubes of Pringles sour cream and onion potato chips for $1 each, two nine ounce tubs of Stop and Shop sliced honey ham for $2.50 each tub, bananas for .79 a pound for $1.44 and day old reduced cherry tomatoes for .81 for $10.74 total. I then returned home. I have a 10:30 A.M. appointment this morning. CIO

Note: <888> 08/20/12 Monday 7:10 P.M. I went out, and I went by the Valley Road Post Office. I mailed the Electrolux upholstery brush to a relative for 6.5 ounces for $2.63 total first class postage. I noticed the Valley Road Post Office has some pretty sloppy gardening for Greenwich, Connecticut, but perhaps they are trying to make it more naturally environmental without cutting the grass. Some people think one should not cut the grass and let it grow tall. I then went downtown, and I walked the entire length of Greenwich Avenue and the train station area. I sat out at various locations. I toured CVS. The new coffee shop up the street from J. Crew looks to be almost complete, but it does not seem to have a name yet. I noticed after I finished my walk, and I was sitting out downtown that Google Camera was photographing the Greenwich Avenue area with their lime green car with round dome camera elevated over the car. I told a few people about it. I used the bathroom at Starbucks. I then went by the Greenwich Library, and I chatted with a local patron and two reference librarians. I read www.pcworld.com. There is a way to add the Windows Media Center to Windows 8 by clicking a corner and using Search and searching for "Add Features", but I forget the rest, but it might explain. I then went by the Stop and Shop, and I bought a 59 ounce container of Tropicana Premium orange juice with calcium for $3, Margarita Genoa deli sliced Salami for $5.99 a pound for $6.08, Stop and Shop deli sliced smoked provolone cheese for $5.99 a pound for $6.05, and bananas for .79 a pound for $1.34 for $16.47 total. I then returned home, and I put away my groceries. CIO

Note: <888> 08/20/12 Monday 11:20 A.M. I will now shower and clean up. It is amazing with worldwide communications, nobody ever contacts me outside a few family members and a few old friends. I guess, I am not advanced enough in the computer world to have anything exciting to add to the existing internet world as we know it. Possibly, I should look at some other web sites besides BBC News, but it is in English which is pretty much the only language that I can read in. I am not really good enough in French to make any sense out of the French web sites. CIO

Note: <888> 08/20/12 Monday 10:40 A.M. I woke up at 8:30 A.M.. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with honey and milk and a sliced banana, a toasted English muffin with olive oil, watered down fruit punch, and a cup of coffee with splenda and milk. I washed the breakfast dishes. I made my bed. CIO

Note: <888> 08/20/12 Monday 1:10 A.M. For people in the Know, there is a group of local residents in Greenwich, Connecticut that stand out at the Greenwich Town Hall on the first day of the year that it is opened to get Camping Permits for Captains Island out in Long Island Sound. I think they allow one or two families to camp out there every night in the summer, so depending on the weather, various families have different experiences enjoying the view of Manhattan. CIO

Note: <888> 08/20/12 Monday 12:40 A.M. I called up www.cvs.com at 1239 East Putnam Avenue in Riverside, Connecticut at the Riverside Plaza, and I chatted with their manager. I gave him a briefing. I was told on the Back to School Specials sale, the CVS truck has not come in yet. Also only the smaller Hot and Spicy bags of Chex Mix are on sale for 10 for $10, but they don't have any yet. As many long time residents know Interstate 95 is called the Governor John Davis Lodge turnpike. When I lived in Nantucket at 31 India Street, I used to see Henry Cabot Lodge III at the Dory restaurant every morning, when I had breakfast there if I were not eating at the restaurant that I worked at. Henry Cabot Lodge III was Richard Nixon's ambassador to Viet Nam, and his son Henry Cabot Lodge IV worked for Bill Cary who owned a lot of real estate in Manhattan. However, in Boston the Lodges only talk to the Lowells and the Lowells only talk to the Cabots and the Cabots only talk to God. On a minor note, back in 1982 when Ronald Reagan was President of the United States of America, he disbanded the Anti Terrorist task force in Manhattan, and he moved the United States Military headquarters for the Northeast from Manhattan to Fort Devans in Lowell, Massachusetts, so the Federal people whom were in Manhattan when I lived there up until February 1982 are probably no longer there anymore. Of course there is probably a younger generation of Boy Scouts doing something besides buying beans on Wall Street. CIO

Back in the period from October 1973 to February 1975, when I used to use Fred Von Mierer's apartment in Manhattan at 420 East 49th Street, occasionally, there was a person in the neighborhood that looked like Bill Clinton and was Bill Clinton's age, and he once even visited Fred's apartment. He told me his boss lived in the neighborhood, and Ted Kennedy did have an apartment at East 54th street and First Avenue and Henry Kissinger lived at East 52nd Street East of First Avenue. Of course Billy Baldwin was personal friends of the Duke of Windsor, so there were also quite a few British people in the neighborhood. Billy Baldwin as I recall lived west of Third Avenue on 60th Street. Of course Fred was frequently at Barbara Rockefeller's townhouse on East 67th street just off Fifth Avenue, so I figured Fred met a lot of his friends there. The most senior Federal official to visit my apartment at 71 Vinci Drive in the 22 years that I have lived here is Larry Berger who is an www.fbi.gov official at Two Federal Plaza in Manhattan. He also looks like Bill Clinton too. He bought the Buick station wagon from me. CIO

Note: <888> 08/19/12 Sunday 4:35 A.M. I managed to escape from my self imposed prison exile in my apartment for a brief spell. I went over to the 24 hour CVS on West Putnam Avenue, and I bought two chocolate, four cheddar, and four traditional 60% reduced fat 8.5 ounce bags of Chex Mix for $1 each for $10 total. Since their computers did not show the right price, I had to convince them that as the circular said, they are ten for $10. They tried to convince me that was a smaller bag, but I know from experience that is the only size bag they make. I then drove down the World Famous Greenwich Avenue, and the Greenwich Fire Department was out in force in front of the www.apple.com computer store. I drove down by the waterfront on Steamboat Road, and no one was fishing on the waterfront. I then returned through town and the Greenwich Fire Department was no longer in front of the Apple computer store. I then returned home. All quiet in Greenwich, Siberia. CIO

I put a 15 ounce jar of garlic Bertolli Alfredo sauce in a plastic microwave proof pot with lid, and I mixed in a generous amount of garlic powder, ground black pepper, celery salt, Italian seasoning, and oregano. I put it in the GE microwave oven. I took a 5 quart Revere pot with lid, and I filled it half way with water, and I added a teaspoon of extra virgin olive oil and a teaspoon of salt, and I brought it to a boil with lid on, on a high heat on a large electric burner. I added a 16 ounce package of Barilla linguine and I boiled it for 10 minutes with the lid off. At the same time, I heated the Alfredo sauce in the GE microwave oven on four vegetable cycles. I then drained the linguine and hot water into a colander sitting on top another large pot, and I dumped out the hot water in the bathroom sink to clean out the drain. I put the cooked linguine in a large mixing bowl, and I added a half cup of grated parmesan and Romano cheese and a quarter of a cup of extra virgin olive oil, and I mixed it all together. I then added the heated Alfredo mixture, and I mixed it all together. I put one third of the linguine and Alfredo sauce on a large dinner plate, and I refrigerated the other two thirds in a large Rubbermaid container. I ate it with a glass of Sprite and a cup of green tea with Splenda sweetener and Borden's lemon juice. CIO

Note: <888> 08/16/12 Thursday 7:50 A.M. As I recall, back on August 16, 1977, when Elvis died Elvis Presley (American singer and actor) -- Britannica Online Encyclopedia , I was working at the Gordon Folger hotel in Nantucket as a $2.15 an hour pot scrubber. However, about that time, I think I first started working at the Le Languedoc

Bistro a Nantucket Restaurant and Inn. Serving French cuisine on Nantucket for over 30 Years as pot scrubber for $2.85 an hour, and I was living at Flossie's Flop House at 31 India Street in Nantucket just east of Jim Eldert at the India House and just west of Fred Von Mierers at John Rugg's house. However, that summer I was so busy washing pots after starving in south Florida the winter before, I only saw them once or twice, although they were neighbors. However, I did see a lot of other people. I was staying in the front bedroom of 31 India Street with three other various boarders. I was working up to 80 hours a week. On my one day a week off, I would buy a $2 bottle of French white wine and try to find some place quiet to relax and drink it. I remember once sitting out at the Carnival which was there and talking to the baby Elephant after the carnival had closed. CIO

Note: <888> 08/16/12 Thursday 7:05 A.M. I finished configuring the Windows 8 RTM ninety day demo partition on the third IBM ThinkCentre. It works very well. The only problem that I have is that it brought up product activation on the primary partition which I can fix when I remove the demo in the future. Also the Windows 8 RTM demo driver for the Lexmark E238 laser printer using the TrendNet router did not work, but the Universal Driver from Lexmark for the E238 does work, so the demo has print capability. I downloaded the 32 bit Windows 8 demo. I burned it to DVD, but it would not boot from DVD on the Epox computer which has an older AMD Sempron 3000 processor. However, from Windows XP, it will not allow an upgrade, but it seems that it will allow a new install, which I did not want to do, since one can not repartition it from setup in XP, only from booting it from DVD. I am now installing it on the third IBM ThinkCentre in front of the mahogany bureau in the living room. I made three copies of the 32 bit DVD for the Windows 8 demo. CIO

I bought a six pack of day old Kaiser rolls for $1.49, a six pack of Stop and Shop English muffins for .99, a pound of Boar's Head deluxe deli ham for $7.99 a pound for $8.39, a pound of Stop and Shop deli Swiss cheese for $5.99 a pound for $6.02, a two pound bag of baby carrots for $3.29, Del Monte bananas for .79 a pound for $1.68, broccoli crowns for $1.99 a pound for $1.77, two ears of sweet corn for .33 an ear for a $.66 for $24.29 total. I chatted with the Scottish resident some more. I then drove down Greenwich Avenue which was deserted. I then stopped by the Putnam Shell on 401 West Putnam Avenue, and I bought $11 of self service premium for a dime a gallon off with the Stop and Shop card for $4.399 a gallon for 2.501 gallons at odometer reading of 70736 miles for 30.9 miles driven since Tuesday August 7, 2012 for 12.355 miles per gallon in mostly local traffic mostly at night. I then went by CVS at 644 West Putnam Avenue, and I bought two 7.5 ounce pretzel and blue cheese combos for $1.50 each and two quarts of Welch's grape juice for $3 each for $9 total. I then returned to Chez Mike's, and I put away my groceries. CIO

If IBM ever comes down from Mount Armonk, I have noticed in the foot hills of Byram, Connecticut, we have three 24 hour gasoline stations and mini marts on West Putnam Avenue along with the 24 hour CVS with pharmacy. I think over in downtown Byram, there might be a 24 hour Laundromat besides the one in Cos Cob. I noticed for any of the night shift employees Davy Byrnes tavern is still opened nearby in Port Chester, New York. A friend of mine that was a local landscaper use to like going there to see the wild side of Greenwich. The Black Sheep tavern and Willow Street are no longer in Port Chester, New York as far as I know, and the pub in White Plains near the Public Works department is long since gone. I don't know where the younger generation go in the early morning hours anymore, but some of them probably still work at night. In the news business in the old days chatting with people in pubs could be informative, since people when they are having a drink tend to talk more freely for what its worth. I noticed about 22 years ago, when I use to talk about computers in pubs everyone would tune me out, and a friend was given a videotape on the Seattle Chamber of Commerce. I guess the Wall Street crowd around here overwhelms the computer nerds. I will now shut down the primary work computer, and I will go to bed soon. Also across from the Y.M.C.A. in Greenwich, there is still the 24 hour diner. CIO

However, I then hooked it up to the ATI video card on the Epox computer, and the color is just perfect. I left it setup in clone mode, so whatever is on the Epox computer monitor is on the Sceptre 23 inch LED TV, when it set to input of AV. Thus I can watch internet video and media on the Sceptre TV in fast good quality video with good sound from the Epox computer Monsoon speaker system. I also hooked up the wireless remote control mouse to the Epox computer, but it only has a range of about four feet, so it is not very useful for remote control use. CIO

Note: <888> 08/15/12 Wednesday 1:05 A.M. I can not afford to fiddle with this Raspberry Pi at Newark .

I don't really have much computer work to do. With all of the people away on vacation in August, there is also not very much content on the internet. Of course, one could always look at the large volume of old content that one has missed in the past.

Chris Shays lost the Republican Primary for U.S. Senate. There are obviously more powerful people with more money than politicians whom spend a lot of money to get their jobs. Most people with money prefer not to spend their money on politics since they pay enough taxes. I guess it is the people whom watch too much television that are interested in politics.

From what I know some of the best home computers are used mostly for computer gaming which a lot of the younger generation have grown up doing.

Note: <888> 08/14/12 Tuesday 10:45 A.M. I threw out the garbage. I found discarded by the dumpster a 20 year old Electrolux tank vacuum cleaner with hose and power nozzle and extra hose with floor attachment. I brought it up to my apartment, and it works just fine. I went out, and I voted for Christopher Shays — Christopher Shays for US Senate at the New Lebanon school in Byram, Connecticut. I then went downtown, and I walked the entire length of Greenwich Avenue and the train station area. I used the bathroom at Starbucks midway through my walk. I toured CVS on the way up Greenwich Avenue. I chatted with a local. I stopped by the Greenwich Hardware store, but they did not have C Electrolux bags. I finished my walk, and I sat out for a while. The new name of the coffee shop across from CVS is not on the building permit on its windows. I then drove over to the Electrolux store across from the Toyota dealership in Cos Cob. They wanted $40 for 30 C tank Electrolux bags which I could not afford. I chatted with the sales person about Electrolux. They told me they now make them in Bristol, Virginia. A new tank model costs about a thousand dollars. I then went by the Greenwich Library, and I chatted with the reference librarian. I told her in the old days a British Company called the Cambridge University Press used to be on Midland Avenue in Port Chester, New York, but I am not sure they are there anymore. I then drove over to Port Chester, New York to Willett Vacuum, Inc. at 440 Willett Ave. in Port Chester, New York 10573, and I bought a 12 pack of Envirocare Technologies C Tank Electrolux bags for $12.95 and .96 tax for $13.91 total. I noticed on the Port Chester Greenwich border the Sunoco gasoline station is now a Exxon gasoline station with mini mart. I then returned home. I chatted with a relative. On the way up Greenwich Avenue, I stopped by Starbucks, and I used the bathroom. I fixed the toilet in the men's room, since the handle had come detached from the flush mechanism. I stopped by CVS on the way up Greenwich Avenue. I bought two six packs of Dove gentle exfoliating soap for $7 a six pack and a 2.7 ounce Degree men dry protection deodorant stick for $3.79 and $1.13 tax for $18.92 total. I got $5 CVS bonus bucks on that sale for buying over $15 of Dove and Degree products, and I bought another six pack of Dove gentle exfoliating soap for $7 less $5 bonus bucks and .13 tax for $2.13 total. Thus the 18 bars of Dove soap cost me about 94.6 cents apiece which is a good savings. Dove is a Dutch www.unilever.com and Unilever global company website company that makes a large assortment of household products. On the way down Greenwich Avenue, I noticed the construction plywood facing is taken off the new coffee shop where The Complete Kitchen was, but from the work permits, I could not figure out the name of the new coffee shop. Bush was sworn in as President of the United States of America, I got to meet Congressman Christopher Shays in his office in Washington D.C.. I noticed he had a statue of Abraham Lincoln in his office. However, it never lead to a job for me in government, since I guess I do not have any qualifications they need, particularly since I prefer to live in the Nordic area of America in Greenwich, Connecticut. I did email him about trying to get funding for my volcano directory when I used to work on it. I asked for $50,000 to further my efforts. However, I guess the government considered the problem too serious for me to handle, so they turned down my request; but shortly thereafter they gave Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory (LLNL) a billion dollars for volcanic research, but as far as I can tell, they do not publish any information about volcanoes on their web site as major links, but this search shows what they have available Search LLNL - Results: volcano . More than likely with their super computers, they are doing some sort of volcano modeling on super computers. Possibly it is on a Need to Know Basis. CIO

I am baking it on the raised stand in the middle of the Sharp convection oven at 425 degrees Fahrenheit for 25 minutes. Note: <888> 08/08/12 Wednesday 6:40 P.M. Also late this spring, I was dive bombed by a vicious Hawk that also attacked a local youth in the neighborhood. One does not see many squirrels around here if any, and I think most of them stay downtown around police station where it is safer. CIO

Note: <888> 08/08/12 Wednesday 6:25 P.M. Since about a month ago, the Greenwich Housing Authority or the Town of Greenwich Highway Department posted a sign at the entrance of Vinci Drive that "No Animals are Allowed" technically since people are Animals, people are not allowed on this property either. I was told that the local tenants did not like people walking their dogs, since they did not clean up after their dogs. Technically, the sign probably should say "No Dog Walkers Allowed". However, I regarded the dog walkers from the neighborhood as a good Neighborhood Watch, and they used to have a sign that said "Neighborhood Watch" which I don't see anymore. Also since I have lived here for 22 years and spend a great deal of time outside observing particularly at night, when I am coming and going from downtown Greenwich Avenue, I have seen a number of wild animals on the property. The wild animals I have seen are skunks as big as raccoons, great horn owls that eat skunks, red tail fox, deer and fawns, raccoons, bunny rabbits, and the most memorable animal was a Carolina or Texas Red Wolf that sort of looks like an all tan German Shepard. They are extremely dangerous, and they can even take down cattle, so humans are no match for them. We also had a young two year old black bear in the neighborhood about two months ago. Since we live in a building over a hundred years old, there could also be any number of types of spiders in the building. I have seen some pretty nasty looking spiders around the building, but I don't know much about spiders. Also last summer at this time, we had a young baby black panther or puma walk along side the building that I saw. Of course with the woodland area on the property, Connecticut woods do have rattlesnakes and copperheads. CIO

Town of Greenwich, Connecticut Police Emergency Message:*This is a message from the Town of Greenwich, Connecticut Police Department .

Yesterday's storm damaged a major transmission line responsible for the delivery of electric power to the Town of Greenwich. The damaged transmission line failed completely at approximately 10:00 am this morning, Monday August 6th, 2012. In response to the townwide power emergency, the First Selectman declared a state of emergency at 10:15 a.m. today and the municipality has opened it's Emergency Operations Center. At this juncture, Connecticut Light and Power representatives have advised the Town that repairs will take 6 to 8 hours. To avoid further power problems, CL&P must restore power to the Town by sections in a process which may take an additional 2 to 4 hours.

During the power outage, many traffic control signals may not be operating. Metro-North trains are currently not operating west of the Cos Con RR station. Residents are encouraged to use extra caution when traveling. Any business or residence that utilizes the municipal sewer system can help us by conserving water to the greatest extent possible to reduce the strain on the municipal sewer pump stations and treatment plant.

In the event of an emergency, please contact police headquarters by dialing 911. An additional message will be broadcast via this system if power is not restored in the anticipated timeframe or if other important information becomes available.

I ate a 11 ounce sautéed London Broil, a ear of sweet corn on the cob and steamed slices of baby carrots with broccoli crowns with Smart Balance Spread and extra virgin olive oil and a 12 ounce glass of Sprite. I washed the dinner dishes. The expected thunderstorm was in full force and at 8:45 P.M. the power went out. I used my emergency jump start light, and I chatted with a relative on my wireless telephone. I chatted with a neighbor. I checked downstairs and the power was working in all the hallways and the community room powered by the generator. Some neighbors took refuge in the community room. I gave a neighbor two CVS D alkaline batteries. I rested for a while keeping low light in the bedroom with LED lantern. I chatted with a relative. I tried the second Dell Latitude D410 laptop, but there was no wireless available. The primary Dell Latitude D410 laptop would not start up, because its battery was worn out, I think. I will have to look into it. I put the good battery from the second Dell Latitude D410 laptop in the primary Dell Latitude D410 laptop. The neighbor's flashlight still did not work with the D batteries. I got a orange flashlight out of the Audi that I put the two D batteries in, so the neighbor finally had a flashlight. At 10:30 P.M. the power came back on. I started up the computers. I set the clocks that needed to be set along with the microwave oven clocks. The town of Greenwich Police message that I got on the telephone said that 5,000 CL&P customers were without power and 65 roads were blocked and power might not be restored until tomorrow. They advised people to stay inside. CIO

I took all of the lose computer parts behind the Harvard Chair on the shelf in the stereo entertainment center, and I put them in a plastic garbage bag that I store underneath the adjacent mahogany telephone table. The only other place I can think it might be is somewhere unknown in the bedroom. I don't really need it, since the TrendNet router had a USB print server for all of the computers on the network except the primary work computer and the FIC server. The flashlight bulb in the stainless steel flashlight burned out, so I put a spare bulb in it. CIO

Note: <888> 08/02/12 Thursday 7:20 P.M. I put a 15 ounce jar of Bertolli Alfredo sauce in a plastic microwave proof pot with lid, and I mixed in a generous amount of garlic powder, ground black pepper, Italian seasoning, and oregano. I put it in the GE microwave oven. I took a 5 quart Revere pot with lid, and I filled it half way with water, and I added a teaspoon of extra virgin olive oil and a teaspoon of salt, and I brought it to a boil with lid on, on a high heat on a large electric burner. I added a 16 ounce package of Ronzoni linguine and I boiled it for 10 minutes with the lid off. For the last five minutes, I heated the Alfredo sauce in the GE microwave oven on two vegetable cycles. I then drained the linguine and hot water into a colander sitting on top another large pot, and I dumped out the hot water in the bathroom sink to clean out the drain. I put the cooked linguine in a large mixing bowl, and I added a half cup of grated parmesan and Romano cheese and a quarter of a cup of extra virgin olive oil, and I mixed it all together. I then added the heated Alfredo mixture, and I mixed it all together. I put one third of the linguine and Alfredo sauce on a large dinner plate, and I refrigerated the other two thirds in a large Rubbermaid container. I ate it with a glass of www.coke.com and a cup of green tea with Splenda sweetener and Borden's lemon juice. Earlier when I arrived home, I drank a 12 ounce glass of Sprite. CIO

Note: <888> 08/02/12 Thursday 5:55 P.M. I went out, and I went by the Chase Bank at 19 West Putnam Avenue. I then went by the Wells Fargo Bank on Havemayer Place, and I paid my rent to the Greenwich Housing Authority. I then walked upper Greenwich Avenue as far as CVS. At CVS I bought three 15 ounce Bertolli Alfredo Sauce for $5 and three 15 ounce Bertolli Alfredo Garlic sauce for $5 for $10 total. I got $3 in CVS bonus bucks, so I bought one more each of the Bertolli sauces for $3.34 less the $3 bonus bucks for .34 total. I then walked back to my car further down Greenwich Avenue. I then went by the Stop and Shop. I bought a six pack of day old Kaiser rolls for $1.50, five 16 ounce Ronzoni Linguine for $1 each, a two pound bag of baby carrots for $3.29, broccoli crowns for $1.69 a pound for $1.27, four ears of sweet corn on the cob for .33 each for $12.38 total. I then returned home, and I put away my groceries. CIO

I checked the flashlight bulbs, and they do work. I put one in the Lou Scott Ray-O-Vac flashlight and another in its storage base, but the flashlight still does not work which has me confused, since it is a simple mechanism. There is a tiny spring in the bulb assembly. It quit working when I knocked it on the bedroom floor a few years ago, and I have not been able to fix it. Of course I have lots of other flashlights and lanterns and spare batteries. I chatted with a relative. CIO
