<888> 01/31/14 Friday 10:35 P.M. I ate a turkey and ham and white American cheese sandwich on 15 grain whole grain bread with Hellmann's olive oil mayonnaise and Wise sour cream and onion potato chips and a dill pickle slice and a 12 ounce glass of Schweppes Ginger Ale. CIO

<888> 01/31/14 Friday 9:35 P.M. I threw out the garbage. I went by the A&P Fresh. I bought a 12 pack of Thomas' English muffins for $2.99, bananas for .79 a pound for $2.46, a two pound bag of baby carrots for $3.49, broccoli crowns for $1.99 a pound for $1.33 and a $1.55 can and plastic bottle return for $8.72 total. I then went downtown, and I walked the entire length of Greenwich Avenue and the train station area. I stopped by Zen Stationary, and I played an Ace's High scratch card for a dollar and I won $2 for a dollar profit. I stopped by the Chase Bank across the street, and I used the ATM. That branch is closing February 28, 2014. I stopped by CVS, and I toured the store, and I used the bathroom. I sat out for a while after my walk. I then drove by CVS again, and I bought six 12 packs of Schweppes Ginger Ale for $22 and $3.60 can deposit and $1.14 tax less a $4 off $20 CVS coupon for $22.74 total. I also got $5 bonus bucks on a over $20 Schweppes purchase. I then bought two www.ge.com Energy Smart 20 watt light bulbs for $2.99 each less the $5 bonus bucks I got on the previous purchase for 98 cents total. I then went by the Putnam Shell at 401 West Putnam Avenue, and I bought $7 of self service V-Power premium gasoline for $4.199 a gallon with a dime a gallon off with my Stop and Shop card for 1.668 gallons for 16.9 miles driving since Saturday January 18, 2014 at odometer reading of 107464 miles for 10.132 miles per gallon in mostly local traffic. I then returned home. I used my little folding cart to bring up the Schweppes Ginger Ale. I put it back in the rear of the Volvo station wagon. I picked up the mail. <888> 01/31/14 Friday 6:40 A.M. Yesterday morning I called up the local security firm that is headquartered in the new building behind the Senior and the Arts Center, and they told me that in the New York City area passengers in taxi cabs and livery vehicles still do not have to wear seat belts. When I threw out the garbage two hours ago, the eastern side door was left opened about a foot, so any intruders including wild animals could be in the building. In letting my retired neighbor use one of my guest computers to fill out job applications, I found out that it take four hours to fill out the Stop and Shop job application here http://www.stopandshop.com/about_us/employment.htm?careers=1 and six hours to fill out the CVS application here <http://jobs.cvscaremark.com/articles/retail-jobs> including a lot of lengthy surveys which do not make much sense. <888> 01/30/14 Thursday 3:55 A.M. I chatted with <http://www.masseyeandear.org/about-us/contact-us/> about the large vacuum machine they had in their emergency room on the Charles River that at 2 A.M. in the morning in April 1977, they used to clean out my inner ears when I returned up north from Florida. They did not know what I was talking about, but they told me they have newer machines. The new hospital in Innsbruck, Austria in 1989 also had the same machine. I have never seen it anywhere else. When one is around the ocean at the beach for a long time, one gets a build up of sand, salt and wax in one's inner ear which can lead to temporary deafness unless treated. However, if one were subject to loud music, it is sort of nice to be selectively deaf. I currently every six months use about 20 drops of Debrox in each ear for 5 minutes holding my head sideways to keep the drops in , and then I wash out the ear with hot water with a hot water plastic ear ball that sprays the hot water into the ear. I think CVS has a kit that comes with Debrox or their generic version with the ear water ball. CIO

Now it seems everything we do or say has to be filtered through some higher authority which is probably the Chinese that make all of this communications equipment. The British have never shown any interest in the Scottish in America, so the Scottish in America have had to fill in for the British who are more interested in their local affairs back in the United Kingdom. Whether any of the so called British people I have dealt with over the years here in America are actually British or just actors on the world stage is opened to debate. I do know from my experience with the British that I have dealt with outside of America, they seem to be a different kettle of fish than the British I deal with here in the United States of America. When I spent many years down around the pier on Steamboat Road, besides a number of veterans down there regularly, there were two marksman that showed up down there. One was an Elk Hunter from Harrison, New York with a NRA sticker on his vehicle, and he wore those black sunglasses like one wears after cataract surgery. On Holidays, there was also a Federal Judge from Bedford, New York with a NRA sticker on his vehicle. Whether either of them was the shooter at me is probably doubtful, since I do not think one can shoot that far to Tod's Point. My best guess when I investigated the incident after it happened, there was a young blond boy getting off the launch at the Indian Harbor Yacht Club with a set of golf clubs which seemed unusual, so perhaps the golf club bag held a sniper rifle. Before personal computers and the internet became common over 20 years ago, when I was frequently on a night schedule, I used to like going out listening to disco music and occasionally dancing which was good exercise to lose weight, since one spends a lot of time on one's feet. However, as we all got older and had to work more at home, and 911 happened we put our disco lives into the background. <888> 01/27/14 Monday 4:45 A.M. I drank a 12 ounce glass of www.coke.com . Here in the Western Hemisphere in America, there are not that many Europeans that live here in exile anymore. I guess Europe has become so prosperous, they have all returned to the Eastern Hemisphere. They also do not seem to like to communicate with people over here anymore. I guess they seem to think they know it all. It is not like after World War II, when they needed our help. I manage to get along over here, but most people seem to think I am a first generation immigrant from Europe despite my extensive American background. The Europeans whom are here seem to work around me based on their reality as to how they perceive this area. I guess they are all looking for their European cousins to show up sooner or later. My father lived in Europe for a long time, so I was used to meeting and greeting with Europeans. However, now that I live more simply and am only able to sit out on a bench on Greenwich Avenue watching them come and go passing me by, I guess they are not use to seeing me out so much in public. However, as I have started to get older and the weather is much colder, I am enjoying spending more quiet time at home which is less stressful and more relaxing. To be constantly in the public eye is somewhat of a burden for myself and some of my more private friends that I have long since lost track of. I guess from what I know the only people whom are changing things in this area are the nearby residents of Manhattan whom visit on weekends and summer holidays. Whether they are here during the colder winter weather is opened to debate. CIO

<888> 01/26/14 Sunday 11:45 P.M. I showered, and I cleaned up. On Channel 13 PBS, I watched "Downton Abbey" and "Sherlock Holmes" for my English Cultural Entertainment for Sunday evening. It is not suppose to be too cold tonight, but the next two nights are suppose to be very extreme cold. It is best for older people like myself in this severe colder weather to stay inside particularly at night when it is colder. I suppose some of the younger generation are moving around amongst their various hot spots or where ever they know to go. Alas, I am not in tune with the activities of the younger generation. CIO

End of Scott's Notes week of 01/26/14

<888> 01/26/14 Sunday 6:20 A.M. On a minor note, my father Louis Dale Scott died in 1989 at a relatively young age from many years of hard work. If he were alive, today would be his 95th birthday. I will now send out my weekly notes. I will then shut down the primary work computer. I will then eat a Greek yogurt. I will then go to bed. CIO

<888> 01/26/14 Sunday 6:20 A.M. Since in the period from 1973 to 1982, when I was around Manhattan, I spent a lot of time walking around Manhattan, I know my way around Manhattan from the old days. I also spent a lot of time walking around <http://www.metmuseum.org/> keeping an eye on the art work. However, back then one was allowed to smoke cigarettes in the Engelhard Court which I did frequently and Tuesday nights a roast beef dinner with Yorkshire Pudding and beverage and trimmings cost $6.95 at the cafeteria, which was expensive, but it gave one a little bit of extra energy. Also when the tiny skinny fashion people took over Manhattan, they did not think people need to eat food and they also basically tried to run people into the ground for their own fun and profit. I still have a little bit of influence in the art world, and as a clever art detective I will now prove it. From this report http://www.greenwichct.org/upload/medialibrary/9c9/US Secret Service Flyer.pdf , it mentions there are little 77 numbers on the back right side of the counterfeit hundred dollars bills, so what could 77 stand for. Well if one looks at the Aga Khan's 77th birthday web site <http://www.amaana.org/agakhan/bd13.htm> , he is now trying to sell cars, so either some of his people are pulling a joke or he ran out of money or like all wealthy people in his old age after years of extravagance, he is getting more frugal. For all I know we actually are in a Potemkin City which Greenwich, Connecticut is suppose to be, so instead of Greenwich, Connecticut USA, we are not in Greenwich, India which would not be this cold, but maybe Greenwich, Russia which would be cold, but on Bloomberg News, they advertise Mongolia all of the time, and since Gingsu Khan came from Mongolia, the Aga Khan might still be in charge in Greenwich, Mongolia. CIO

<888> 01/26/14 Sunday 3:45 A.M. Now that I have your attention, I have a theory why it is getting colder here than normal. We have all read that every few hundred thousands years the earth flips on its axis. What if it does that but more slowly and not necessarily a 180 degree flip, but if it were a sideways more diagonal flip, it might explain the current weather conditions. Obviously if this were the case, a more advanced scientific group would already know it and be adjusting their new geopolitical portfolio to the new weather conditions. It is beginning to look like New England might be where Greenland once was in the future and since Europe is going downwards southerly, it might actually be warmer there. That is all I can figure out. I do know it is a 105 degrees Fahrenheit in southern Australia which seems a bit high, so maybe southern Australia is moving further northwards. CIO

<888> 01/26/14 Sunday 3:20 A.M. No News from Europe. I guess Europeans rest on weekends. CIO

<888> 01/26/14 Sunday 3:00 A.M. During World War II, it was the Nazi Zimmerman plan to invade the United States of America through Mexico. It is my viewpoint that when the Nazis lost, they built up a large force of Germans in Mexico over half a century, so all of these new Latino Mexicans showing up in this area are actually the avant guard of a larger German group which might try to come over here sooner or later. Of course the area seems to be getting better, but none of the "Old Guard" seem to be in charge anymore, so basically it seems like we have already lost before World War III has even begun. CIO

<888> 01/26/14 Sunday 2:20 A.M. I called up the Military Police at West Point at 1-845-938-3333

http://apps.militaryonesource.mil/MOS/f?p=MI:CONTENT:0::::P4_INST_ID,P4_CONTENT_DIRECTORY,P4_TAB:3745,ALL,IC , and I reminded them of the sniper incident at Tod's Point at the southwest picnic area during the last Thursday of the last week of May about 13 years ago. A local scuba diver I chatted with the area since then told me it could have been a Navy Seal. Today an Army Vet told me there are indeed Navy Seals in the area. Since I normally would not have been out there at that time of year, it was perhaps a case of mistaken identity for someone else they expected out there, since a florescent orange target marker was set up at the base of the tree where I was shot at. Beside replacing the bullet holes in the "No Clamming" signs, no investigation or interview was ever done. In other words it was either a cover up, or nobody believed me, although there were many witnesses. At the time JFK Jr. was a regular jogger out there, and George W. Bush appeared on television from Kennebunkport, Maine; so he could have been working his way north for the season while campaigning. The Bush family used to like playing horse shoes at Tod's Point. Whatever the case, there were lot of cars on the highway with people from down south going north for the season. Also at the end May, they have graduation at West Point, so a lot of military people converge onto this area from around the world. I even new Robert E. Lee's great grandson when he lived in Greenwich, and he had attended West Point, and he used to guard Mrs. Godfrey Rockefeller when she volunteered at the Merry Go Round Mews Thrift shop when it was there on Arch Street. One local waterfront neighbor told me it was just the local lobstermen fighting over lobster rights which sounds like a lot of baloney. Another friend told me it was Duck Hunters. At the time there were no boats or planes or helicopters or land base within shooting range, so it could have been a Navy Seal hidden in the water. If it were from a land base, it would have been a long shot, and my family just happened to be friends with somebody whom use to live at the nearest land base whom also worked at CBS at one time. Even if a bullet could carry over 2 miles at that distance the earth curves, so basically one would be firing into the ground or water. I did call up Donald Trump at the time, and I told him, and the following week he sold his house on the waterfront in Greenwich. CIO

<888> 01/25/14 Saturday 11:20 P.M. I ate a 19 ounce Stouffer's meat lasagna with grated parmesan and Romano cheese and a 12 ounce glass of www.coke.com . Greenwich, Connecticut is mostly a hometown for the temporary rich. Once they finish for owning and maintaining an expensive house in Greenwich, Connecticut; they usually go back to being middle class or less. The local residents are always looking to enhance their fortunes by befriending other established residents of substance. Whether any of them succeed in the long run is opened for debate. If you ever chatted with some of those old thread worn pensioners nursing one cocktail all night long in one of those common beer and burger joints on the upper east side of Manhattan, they could probably tell you some stories about the so called rich and famous, but you might have to buy them another cocktail or two. I will now shower and clean up. CIO

<888> 01/25/14 Saturday 10:05 P.M. I chatted with an Irish friend who is one of my eyes and ears in Manhattan, and he did not tell me much that I did not already know. I chatted with a relative twice. I watched the program on Cspan TV with the Barbara Bush interview about her years in the White House. She said it is very cheap to live there. Of course, when I knew Helen Kress Williams, she would make an A&P tea bag last a week, and then she would use them in her garden for fertilizer. Of course some of us are so busy, we are not always able to economize as best we can. When I slept on a bed made of two by fours in the basement of the Grennon guest house in Nantucket on Hussey Street for $40 a week, I was earning $8.75 an hour as the head dishwasher at their restaurant working up to 80 hours a week, but I was not able to save much money, since everything else was very expensive like roast beef sandwiches at the A&P for $8, so when I left the island unemployed, I would quickly become destitute and homeless. I do much better here in Greenwich, Connecticut accepting my disability and not trying to change the world on limited income based on my experience. CIO

<888> 01/25/14 Saturday 8:15 P.M. If you have wampum, you can search for people here <http://www.peoplesmart.com/> .

I chatted with a Dutch friend who like myself does not seem to know too many other Dutch people in this area. Maybe all of the Dutch people left in America should move back to the Netherlands where people might be more friendly. Recently a local Swedish business person from Ohio gave me the Hail Hitler salute on Greenwich Avenue, so I guess the Dutch American as they are perceived have a public relations problem in this area, since the Dutch also can have the same look as Germans or German Americans. Being Dutch and Scottish, I tend to worry more about the British, since the British are well known for fighting the Dutch and the Scottish. However, as a minor point of dispute my Grandma Scott's Gard family are from Devonshire, England; so I am also part English, so there is no point in fighting my own people. However the Gard family name besides being English can also be Swedish or French. Just because fat people wear suspenders does not mean they are German, it means they have no waist line to hold up their pants, so they have to wear suspenders or braces. CIO

I used four forever stamps to mail two copies of the Frank Sinatra CD to a relative. I mailed it in the mail room downstairs. CIO

<888> 01/25/14 Saturday 7:55 A.M. I burned four copies of the Frank Sinatra CD. I also copied it to a pin drive, and I put it on the IBM ThinkCentre along side the Ethan Allen recliner. I put one copy in the Sony 300 CD Disk Player as CD number 48. I have not used the Sony 300 CD player in about a year and a half, and the door would not open on it. I disconnected it, and I fiddled with it, and I finally got the door to open. Five Brahms CDs had come out of the carrousel, but I was able to get the door opened, and I put them back in the carrousel, so the Sony 300 CD player now works just fine. One has to have CD set on the Technics amplifier for it to work. I also copied my music files from the primary work computer to the Nokia 520 16GB micro SD card, but not all of the music files show up on the Nokia 520, but enough for now do show up. I suppose it has to do with the way the phone recognizes the file structure. CIO

<888> 01/24/14 Friday 4:50 A.M. I drank a 12 ounce glass of www.coke.com . The Scott family has had a long relationship with Coca Cola from what I know. In my generation, when I lived down south, it was a very popular soft drink, until we moved to Pepsi territory. At the First Presbyterian Church in Decatur, Alabama, one of my volunteer jobs after Sunday school was giving away soft drinks from the cooler. We had Coke, Orange Soda, and Lemon soda. I used to enjoy mixing them together for other flavors. When I got older, I had to go to church with the adults, so I no longer was able to hang out with the kids giving away soda pop. Up north in Boston, they call soda pop "Tonic". I guess Coke is a popular brand name world wide, but I started drinking less of it, when I was told it was good for removing rust from chrome automobile bumpers. Coke poured over a scoop or two of ice cream in a glass is called a "Float". Most people do not know the drink comes from Georgia which is some place they have never heard of, and probably will not visit. However, it is warmer there sometimes. Also if one is driving down south to Florida from up north, one usually has to drive through Georgia where there are a lot of paper mills also. South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana, and Texas all have gators. Living up north all of these years, I still remember warmer winters down south, but I find the colder weather more stimulating, but of course with the warmer weather down south, one is not trapped inside for a long periods in the winter. it says that I once lived in East Hampton, Long Island and San Diego, California which is not correct. When I built the garage apartment out in Plandome Manor, Long Island in 1982, one of the grandsons was visiting Byram frequently, since he had a girl friend here, and he later became a chef in the Hamptons after going to Johnson and Wales college, but when I lost my complete set of identification in August 1980 along with traveling money, it could have been him. Also Fred Von Mierers knew a air traffic controller in the Hamptons or Montauk. Also around 1968, I drove out to East Hampton with Myles McGough to visit a girl friend of his who was Kingman Brewster's daughter associated with www.yale.edu. However, I do not have any San Diego connections other than driving through it. I once visited the Hotel Coronado there. Also in the summer of 1973, I visited South Hampton twice. Also when I was out in Port Washington, Long Island between 1979 and 1980, I visited the Hamptons once. Hopefully the one in my apartment will not be set off by my frequent intestinal gas leaks or farts. I could transfer my music from the primary computer to the micro SD card, but I think I should save the space for video and pictures. The GPS program says there is a Starbucks across the street in Putnam Green, but the Starbucks app does not show one there, but there is a Starbucks in Port Chester that is closer than Greenwich Avenue along with a lot of other take out places. I heated and ate a 15 ounce can of Chef Boyardee mini ravioli and along with drinking a 12 ounce glass of 50% punch and 50% Schweppes Ginger Ale. CIO

<888> 01/21/14 Tuesday 8:40 P.M. Greenwich Snow Emergency Message:

This is an important message for all Greenwich residents from the Greenwich Police Department. As many of you know, significant snowfall is forecast for this evening through early Wednesday. In anticipation, the Town of Greenwich Board of Selectmen has unanimously voted to declare a Snow Emergency effective at 6:00 pm today, January 21st, 2014. The Snow Emergency will remain in effect until cancelled.

During the period of the Snow Emergency no vehicles are permitted to remain parked, stopped or standing on any Snow Emergency streets. Vehicles in violation will be subject to ticketing and immediate towing. If you are unsure if your vehicle is parked on a Snow Emergency street, a full list can be viewed at the Town of Greenwich website - www.greenwichct.org. Vehicles displaced from Snow Emergency streets may be lawfully parked in municipal off-street parking lots until the snow emergency is over. Your cooperation will ensure that road crews can keep Snow Emergency streets open for emergency First Responder vehicle traffic.

The Town of Greenwich is fully prepared for the coming snow event. Additional staffing, as appropriate, has been added to Public Works road crews and by Greenwich's emergency responder agencies. At this time, the State of Connecticut is anticipating that this will be a "moderate to major" snow event. Temperatures are also forecast to be well below freezing overnight and it will be windy, with gusts to 45 MPH. Sub-zero wind chills are likely to occur overnight. The most significant snow accumulations are predicted to begin in our area around 7:00 PM and continue until 4:00 AM tomorrow. Travel on roadways is predicted to become quite hazardous after 8:00 PM this evening. It is imperative that everyone exercise additional caution during the storm, limit travel to only essential trips and dress appropriately for what could be bitterly cold conditions.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated cooperation. Please stay indoors, stay warm and stay safe.

Capt. Mark Kordick
Greenwich Police Department

I think it is a Scottish trait, since in the movie Brave Heart about the Scottish fighting the English, they turn around and let loose with a large amount of fart gas. Whatever it comes from, the people whom work around horses do not seem to mind it. Possibly my diet of eating oatmeal in the morning like horses produces it. Maybe that is why the Scottish drink Scotch whisky to get rid of it. Still it is a problem I am used to, but nobody else seems to want to ever visit me, so I basically live like a trappist monk. When I lived on isolated islands, there were not as many people around to notice it. Message from Canadian Prime Minister:

Statement by the Prime Minister of Canada on National Non-Smoking Week

January 19, 2014

Ottawa, Ontario

Prime Minister Stephen Harper today issued the following statement to mark National Non-Smoking Week, taking place from January 19-25, 2014:

“Each year, smoking takes a deadly toll on Canadians, with thousands succumbing to heart disease, lung cancer and many other illnesses that it causes. In addition to the physical damage caused by smoke and second-hand smoke, smoking also puts emotional and financial stress on families who are dealing with resulting health problems, and places a substantial financial burden on our communities and healthcare system.

“The health of Canadians is a top priority of our Government. This is why, along with provinces, territories, municipalities and other partners, we have taken substantial measures to inform Canadians about the many health risks associated with smoking, to discourage people from starting to smoke and help those who wish to quit.

“In the past five years, our Government has taken significant action to help Canadians stay smoke free. These measures include combating the trafficking and cross-border smuggling of contraband tobacco, restricting access to tobacco products, especially for youth, and prohibiting tobacco advertising in daily newspapers and free entertainment weeklies. We have also introduced new warning labels on cigarette and little cigar packages, which feature a national quitline phone number and web address for those who want to quit.

“During this year's National Non-Smoking Week, we are also launching a five-year tobacco cessation marketing campaign aimed at reducing smoking rates by helping young smokers aged 20-24 quit smoking. The "Break It Off" tobacco cessation campaign will use social media to target young Canadians who have a higher rate of smoking than the national average.

“While the work our Government has undertaken to eliminate smoking is producing encouraging results, there are still too many Canadians who smoke. That is why we will continue to work with stakeholders across the country to help Canadians become and stay smoke-free.

“I wish all Canadians a happy, healthy and smoke-free 2014.”

Next week when one of the two orders arrives, the friend will come down and pick up his two and pay me for the order. The friend has rental properties. As of the first of the year in Connecticut Carbon Monoxide detectors are required in rental properties. <http://www.nbccconnecticut.com/investigations/LWRD-New-Law-Requires-Smoke-and-CO-Detectors-236142361.html> . Carbon Monoxide is a heavy gas, so I do not think one put the detectors on the ceiling, but lower down where the gas might linger.

<888> 01/18/14 Saturday 6:00 A.M. I have done a little bit of research on <http://www.amaana.org/agakhan/bd12.htm> on the internet. Since his family helped start the www.un.org , he has kept a presence in the New York area for a long time. It says his grandfather had his own state in India, and by today values, his grandfather was worth $165 billion. Thus if they did not give it all away to charity, more than likely he has other investments in this country. His roommate at www.harvard.edu was Adlai Stevenson III whose father was at the UN and also ran for President. Adlai Stevenson's farm area in Liberville, Illinois is now <http://www.mettawa.org/> where www.hsbc.com is headquartered in this country. Thus more than likely somewhere out there in the wood work, he has lawyers, accountants, public relations people, and the other employees that are needed to keep one's house in order. I was told he might have up to 600 different homes worldwide, so he probably travels a lot in his job. Since he is legally a Swiss Citizen, it is my guess; he might show up at Davos <http://www.weforum.org/> this coming week. I guess if he wanted to show up at the <http://www.sochi2014.com/en> , that the people from Moscow with the largest number of billionaires in the world might know how to entertain him. From what I know the last public relations I have read on him in the American Media was about three years ago, when he visited Atlanta and San Antonio. I will now shut down my primary work computer, and I will go to bed soon. I ate a ounce of almonds. I will not eat a Greek yogurt before going to bed. Yogurt although very expensive, if one buys it in the grocery store, when it is cheaper to make at home, has a lots of enzymes that are good for the digestion. CIO

If one reads the fine print here <http://www.celebheights.com/s/Adolf-Hitler-2572.html> , it says Adolph Hitler was 5 foot 2 inches tall. I once read that Joseph Stalin was 5 foot 6 inches tall, but here <https://www.google.com/#q=How+tall+was+Mao+Tse+Tung> , it says he was five foot eight inches tall, and Mao Zedong was five foot eleven inches and Vladimir Lenin was five foot five inches. Here it says Franklin Roosevelt was 6 foot 2 inches tall and some of his associates were shorter. <http://www.catalogs.com/info/bestof/top-10-list-of-famous-tall-men-in-the-white-house> . Apparently North Americans over generation eat more wheat which makes people taller and people in the southern hemisphere eat more corn meal which makes them shorter. I am not sure what grains the European politicians eat. They are taller in the Midwest of America, so by Midwest standards at 6 feet tall and 235 pound I am average to smaller. CIO

Canadian Prime Minister Message:

PM welcomes 2014 Royal Tour by Their Royal Highnesses The Prince of Wales and The Duchess of Cornwall

January 16, 2014
Ottawa, Ontario

Prime Minister Stephen Harper today welcomed the news that Their Royal Highnesses The Prince of Wales and The Duchess of Cornwall have accepted the invitation from the Government of Canada to undertake a Royal Tour in 2014.

“I am pleased that Their Royal Highnesses will be joining us in a few months time as Canada enters a five-year period of significant national celebrations, beginning with the centennial of the outbreak of the Great War and the 150th anniversary of the Charlottetown and Québec City Conferences, which led to the creation of the Dominion of Canada,” said the Prime Minister. “Canadians look forward to having Their Royal Highnesses with us for these and other important moments in the history of our country.”

The Prince of Wales and Duchess of Cornwall will tour Canada in May with stops in Manitoba, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. The programme will be coordinated by the Canadian Secretary to The Queen. A detailed programme for the visit will be released at a later date.

<888> 01/12/14 Sunday 1:15 P.M. $19.99 Omnitech 10 Sheet Cross-Cut Shredder . Back in the winter of 1978, the Key West Citizen newspaper published a picture of me reading in the Monroe Country Library, so if one were able to research their archives, one would see what I looked like back then. I was tanned, 6 feet tall and about 125 pounds. A lot of people thought John Bolton and myself were Episcopal priests, since we were around St. Margaret's Episcopal church next to the Casa Marina Hotel frequently. I think there was an older retired Episcopal priest that ran that church, and they had about 40 skinny older ladies that went to church there. Henry Flagler, when he built the Florida East Coast Railroad built hotels along the waterfront at major Florida railroad stops, and he also built an Episcopal church next to each hotel. His daughter used to go to the First Presbyterian Church here in Greenwich, Connecticut. Thus I guess one could say it is a railroad hotel and a railroad church. However, the Casa Marina Hotel is now part of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel chain, which is now a publicly traded company. When I was in Key West, I was told that all of the property along the waterfront was still owned by the United States Government, and it was just leased to the waterfront developers. In case of war or confrontation down there, the United States Government and Military could still reclaim their waterfront property. During World War II, the Casa Marina Hotel was used as the bachelor officers quarters. Before they started renovating the Casa Marina Hotel in the winter of 1976, they had used it a couple of years before as a Peace Corps Training Center. CIO

<888> 01/12/14 Sunday 11:35 A.M. Back in the 1970s during the major recession, people in the Florida Keys did not have very much money. When one drove down to the Florida Keys at night, one would see thousands of people on the many bridges with long poles with nets on the end with lanterns they would shine on the water, and they would be scooping up lots of shrimp from the water in the Florida Keys, so they would have something to eat. I could not afford to go out on a fishing boat, so I got a Cuban reel which is a plastic ring that can hold fifty pound test fishing line, and I would get old meat from the grocery store dumpsters to use for bait, and I would use a Mickey Mouse balloon from the Kress department store, and I would use a regular fishing hook, and I would let the wind by the Joint Chief of Staff building south of Mallory Square blow the balloon with the fishing line out to sea in the deep water, and I string the fishing line around one of the ship's pylons on shore, and I would try to catch some fish. The only thing is that I never ever got a nibble trying to fish that way. However, one could always buy fresh fish from the charter boat docks, since a lot of the charter boat fisherman did not eat their fish. John Bolton and myself once cooked a red snapper in Jimmy Eldert's apartment across the street from the Catholic church, and it seemed sort of strange that Jimmy complained that his apartment smelled of fish, since he had lived in Nantucket and Key West. I will now shower and clean up. CIO

Some of the political families my family have been around area down south, my father's company Chemstrand use to support various local politicians. My grandfather Scott's home turf of down state Illinois had many Illinois republicans. In Greenwich, Connecticut; we were neighbors of Lowell Weicker, the Bush family, Hicks, and the Rockefeller families. At Greenwich Country Day, I attended with members of the Warburg, Rockefeller, Deegan, Adams, and Morano families. At the Greenwich Country Club, the Harris family were members. At www.lfc.edu I was in charge of the young Republicans which included a classmate whose father ran the Rockefeller foundation. My mother's family were from Holland, Michigan which is near Grand Rapids, where the Ford family were from. One of my best friends in this area from Lake Forest College is related to the Harriman family. Another classmate at Lake Forest College was neighbors of the Kennedy family. Also Robert Morgenthau's daughter was in my class at Lake Forest College. The family that I knew out on Long Island were neighbors of the Roosevelt family. Also another family had a father in the State Department. My father knew Dwight Eisenhower's son. With those connections, I probably know some other political people. I also know two RTM representatives here in Greenwich. The current first selectman used to be a floor officer at my local bank. A friend of my mine also knows the Weld family from nearby Bedford, New York. I also know members of the Garfield family, and I attended the Taft School which is related to the Taft family, and a members of the Harding, Ford, Adams, and Taft families were at Taft, while I attended. A member of the Van Buren family used to live in my building where I currently live as does a member of the Pataki family. I also use to know a neighbor of the Nixon family. My family is also a neighbor of the Bush family in Kennebunkport, Maine, and my stepfather's Agnew family who were summer residents of Kennebunkport, Maine since 1876 were also the Manhattan representative to the Albany, New York State legislature around 1914, when he outlawed horse racing in New York State which was not popular. I once met Chris Shays in Washington D.C.. Another relative's grandparents were neighbors of Nancy Reagan's parents in Arizona, and he is also related to Howard Baker. Another relative's husband was the assistant district attorney in Tulsa, Oklahoma, so he knew politicians from that area such as the Clintons. I also know a couple of Federal Judges along with a few local judges in this area. I also know a few lawyers. Cravath, Swaine & Moore LLP , Davis Polk & Wardwell LLP , Milbank , The Law Firm of Vinson & Elkins, A Global Law Firm Serving Business Clients , and locally here in Greenwich, Connecticut named Larry Lawson on East Elm Street and Mason Street and Attorney Everett Fisher, Fogarty Cohen Selby & Nemiroff LLC, Greenwich, Connecticut . I was also in Plains, Georgia, when

Jimmy Carter showed up at the Holiday Inn there, when he had announced that he was running for President. I also camped out by Ronald Reagan's ranch in Santa Barbara, California before he was elected President. CIO

<888> 01/07/14 Tuesday 8:25 P.M. I chatted with a friend and a relative. When I was younger, the week before the Lake Placid, New York Olympics in 1980 http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/1980_Winter_Olympics I left this area about 7 A.M., and I drove up the New York State Thruway to Buffalo, New York, and I cross the border into Canada, and I stopped at the Duty Free liquor store, and I bought a 1.5 liter of <http://www.grand-marnier.com/dispatch.php> for about $14, and I returned back the same way stopping off at Lake Placid, but when I explored it; nothing was going on, so I returned to this area around 11 P.M.. That was when gasoline was 59 cents a gallon and my 1971 yellow Subaru wagon that I bought for a $150 out in www.nantucket.net got about 52 miles per gallon on the highway. Of course, I made it back to Toronto, Ontario, Canada back in December 1983, when it was zero degrees Fahrenheit there. I slept on a couch at the Anglican seminary library at the University of Toronto, and I explored Toronto. It was about zero degrees Fahrenheit in the day time there, and after that adventure, I settled back into my family's home town of Green Witch, Connecticut; where I have lived the most of my life, and my family have some sort of connection here, since although we are a private family, we have been neighbors of various politicians who were not so private. Since I never pay much attention to government, I keep busy with my own activities which I am more experienced with. It seems one has to be a lawyer to be involved in government. CIO

On the IBM ThinkCentre by the Ethan Allen recliner, on the Windows 8.1 second partition, I installed Office 2007. I configured Outlook 2008, and I imported my email address book. I am now installing the Office updates. I will then make a Paragon Backup of the entire system to the Seagate 2 TB external hard drive.

<888> 01/06/14 Monday 7:10 P.M. On the IBM ThinkCentre by the Ethan Allen recliner, I finished installing Windows 8.1 on the second partition, and it runs just fine. However, when I went to restore the Windows 7 backup of the first partition from the Seagate 2 TB external hard drive, the Windows 7 DVD restore program still did not find any of my backups. I can not figure out what the problem is, since it recognizes the backups from the other computers. However, I am able to restore the first partition from the Western Digital external hard drive, by selecting not to format the drive and only to restore the system drive and not the data drive which would be the Windows 8.1 partition. I will then configure the boot managers by repairing it with the Windows 7 and then the Windows 8.1 DVDs. I will then have to put the free Paragon backup program on the first partition and make a Paragon backup to the Seagate 2 TB external hard drive. I chatted with a friend and a relative. CIO

Town of Greenwich, Connecticut Emergency Message:

Good afternoon. This is a message from the Greenwich Police Department concerning weather conditions and travel considerations for this evening and tomorrow. Today is Monday, January 6th.

Evening temperatures are predicted to drop well below freezing tonight. Melting snow from today's warm temperatures and rainfall have left many walkways and roadways wet. Dangerous driving conditions will be present when roadways freeze over and so-called "black ice" forms. Similarly, there is significant potential for ice accumulations on walkways, sidewalks and outdoor steps and stairs. Yesterday morning we experienced similar conditions from a freezing rain event and many motor vehicle collisions and slip and fall injuries – some serious – were reported.

Temperatures are predicted to fall below 32 degrees a few hours after dark and remain below freezing all day tomorrow. Accordingly, the Town of Greenwich is advising all residents to exercise extreme caution if moving about outdoors or driving – especially after 7:00 pm this evening. The frail elderly, people who are unsteady on their feet or those who are mobility impaired will want to exercise special care in icy environments.

Beyond the potential for icing conditions, bitterly cold temperatures tonight and tomorrow will represent a danger to those outside without proper clothing. Rapid temperature drops can also negatively affect underground water mains, pipes in buildings and other infrastructure. Please be wary of these dangers.

All of the Town's public safety agencies are fully staffed and prepared for what could be a significant freezing event during the overnight period. Public Works crews are out now treating roadways and they will remain on the job through the night. Even so, drivers should make every effort to get off the roads by early evening and everyone should use extra care when moving about outdoors after temperatures drop below freezing.

Thank you for your attention and please exercise caution during what could be an extraordinarily cold and icy period.

Capt. Mark Kordick
Greenwich Police Department

End of Message CIO

<888> 01/06/14 Monday 4:05 P.M. On the IBM ThinkCentre by the Ethan Allen recliner, I tried to get Outlook 2007 working on the Windows 7 partition, but it would not work no matter what I tried. However, I have Microsoft Live Email on it. I installed the Paragon backup program, and then I did another Complete PC backup of the first partition to the Seagate 2 TB external hard drive. I am now installing some more Windows 8 updates on the second partition. I discovered that I did not have Windows 8.1 on it previously, just the Windows 8.1 Enterprise Preview release which would have expired. After I have installed the updates, I will try to install Windows 8.1 from the Microsoft Store which is a free upgrade. All of this, because I really do not have anything else to do in the bad weather. It is warmer today, but it is raining out. CIO

<888> 01/06/14 Monday 1:55 P.M. Back in January 1989, I went with two friends <http://mikelouisscott.com/photo/mike-scott-with-distant-relative-whom-knows-about-horses-with-relative-whom-knows-about-railroads-putnam-hotel-in-saratoga-ny-about-summer-1990.jpg> and <http://mikelouisscott.com/rv-ch-92.jpg> to http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/George H. W. Bush inaugural. We stayed at the Dutch Inn in Georgetown, which I had discovered back in February 1983, where I also had stayed briefly, until Dr. Gillespie told me it was a flop house and had me move to the Georgetown

Inn. At the Dutch Inn, my friend from New York brought his fiancée from Scotland. We went to the pre events the day before the inaugural including the Qualye reception which involved standing in a long line outside to see him for a brief period. The day of the inaugural, we went to Chris Shays' office. However, it was so cold that we watched it on television in the basement of the Dutch Inn while having lunch. We went out to dinner that night with our two dates, one of whom was Admiral Halsey's daughter in law whose husband was busy pulling around horse trailers in Maryland and the other was a reporter for the Philadelphia Inquirer. We had about a $900 dinner at an expensive French restaurant with two other friends that my friends paid for. My friend from Connecticut and myself and our dates went to the Connecticut party which was different than the New York party my other friend went to. I recall Michigan was also at the Connecticut party including a few other states. Our dates were busy networking. I chatted with a girl from Grand Haven, Michigan which is near Holland, Michigan. I also chatted with an older woman in wheel chair who was surrounded by eight joint chiefs of staff Marine honor guards in dress pinks. I thought she might have been http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jean_MacArthur who might have seen me when I used to walk through the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in Manhattan to warm up on one of my frequent walks when I lived there. After the party, my friend and I returned to the Dutch Inn. I then went out by myself to the 1782 restaurant, and I ran into Dr. Gillespie again, and we chatted until closing. He had me over to his house, and he introduced me to his new wife. We chatted until 6 A.M.. I then returned to the Dutch Inn, and my friends were getting ready to go to the National Cathedral event, but I finally went to bed for a while. The following day, I drove back to Greenwich with one of my friends. CIO

<888> 01/06/14 Monday 1:00 P.M. I threw out the garbage. It is suppose to get very cold the next two night down to the single digits. CIO

<888> 01/06/14 Monday 12:40 P.M. Tracking is <http://www.newegg.com/Info/TrackOrder.aspx?TrackingNumber=4200683092748901015478100002677705&type=4> on the order for Vantec Power Gem Blue 3500 mAh Rechargeable Portable Battery VAN-350BB-BL for $9.99 with free shipping. CIO

<888> 01/06/14 Monday 12:25 P.M. I showered, and I cleaned up. CIO

<888> 01/06/14 Monday 11:35 A.M. On the IBM ThinkCentre by the Ethan Allen recliner, I will also rename the Windows 7 partition, so I can also do a Complete PC backup of just the Windows 7 partition to the Seagate 2 TB external hard drive. After I have the three backups, I could install Windows 8.1 on the second Windows 8 partition, and when product activation comes up on the first Windows 7 partition, I could restore Windows 7 partition backup to enable it, and then go through the procedure that I have learned of enabling the boot manager for both partitions. I could then try to do a free Paragon backup of both partitions, but I think I tried that before, and the Paragon restore boot CD did not work on the IBM ThinkCentre along side the Ethan Allen recliner. CIO

<888> 01/06/14 Monday 11:10 A.M. On the IBM ThinkCentre along side the Ethan Allen recliner, I have the updates installed on both partitions. I also put Norton Internet

Security 2014 on the first partition. Both partitions are running just fine. On the Windows 7 partition, after I installed the last of the updates, the system would not boot up properly. I had already installed a wired keyboard, so I could try the F8 options, but they did not work, but a System restore from an hour earlier fixed the problem. I will not put Windows 8.1 on the Windows 8 second partition, since one can not back up or restore Windows 8.1. I am now backing it up with the Windows 7 Complete PC backup from the first partition doing a backup of both partitions to the Seagate 2 TB external hard drive. I will then make a second backup to the Western Digital external hard drive. Since to fix the system, I had to restore the backup from a year ago, it took a long time to install the updates on both partitions. Although I hardly ever use the IBM ThinkCentre along side the Ethan Allen recliner, it happens to be my primary demo computer for my Microsoft configurations, as I have figured out how to do them. CIO

<888> 01/06/14 Monday 7:15 A.M. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with honey and milk and sliced banana, a toasted bagel with olive oil, a 12 ounce glass of 50% punch and 50% cold filtered water and vitamins and supplements, and a cup of coffee with milk and Splenda sweetener. I washed the breakfast dishes. I made my bed. CIO

<888> 01/06/14 Monday 5:50 A.M. I went back to sleep after the last note. I woke up once to install more updates, and I am still installing updates. I just woke up again. CIO

<888> 01/06/14 Monday 12:15 A.M. I ate a 14 ounce Marie Callender sweet and sour chicken dinner with Smart Balance Spread and extra virgin olive oil on the vegetables and a 12 ounce glass of Schweppes Ginger Ale. CIO

<888> 01/05/14 Sunday 11:35 P.M. I woke up at 8 P.M.. I chatted with a relative. I watched the preview of Downton Abbey and then I watched the two hour presentation of season 4 episode 1 of Downton Abbey. I am still installing the Windows Updates on the IBM ThinkCentre along side the Ethan Allen recliner. CO

<888> 01/05/14 Sunday 2:40 P.M. I ate a baloney and Swiss cheese sandwich on 15 grain whole wheat bread with Hellmann's olive oil mayonnaise and Lays sour cream and onion potato chips and a dill pickle slice and a 12 ounce glass of Schweppes Ginger Ale. I will now take a nap. CIO

<888> 01/05/14 Sunday 1:35 P.M. I used the Seagate Utilities, and I did a low level format of the IBM ThinkCentre along side the Ethan Allen recliner. When I tried to install the Windows 8.1 backup from the Seagate 2 TB hard drive, it still would not work. I also tried two other Windows 8 and Windows 7 backups on the Seagate 2 TB hard drive using, the Windows 7, Windows 8, and Windows 8.1 DVDs, and none of them would work. In Windows 7 DVD, it would not find the IBM ThinkCentre backups. In Windows 8 and Windows 8.1 DVD, it found the backups, but gave an error message that the backups were created with a different operating system. I am now restoring the December 11, 2012 backup from the Rosewell external hard drive, and then I will have to install the windows updates on both partitions. I can not figure out why the restores of the backups from the 2 TB Seagate external hard drive would not work. CIO

<888> 01/05/14 Sunday 10:10 A.M. On the IBM ThinkCentre computer along side the Ethan Allen recliner, I tried restoring the Windows 8.1 backup that I made on November 11, 2013; but the restore program from the DVD would not find the backup although it is on the Seagate 2 TB external hard drive. I mentioned the procedure in my November 11, 2013 note at 12:45 P.M. here <http://mikelouisscott.com/11013013.htm> , but I never actually tried to do the restore. All I can think of is that since the Windows 8.1 Complete PC backup has different partitioning, one might have to do a low level format of the IBM ThinkCentre hard drive first, and then restore the Paragon backup of the first boot partition, and then see if the Windows 8.1 DVD restore program finds the Windows 8.1 backup. For now, I will leave Windows 8 on it, and not worry about it. CIO

<888> 01/05/14 Sunday 7:55 A.M. I woke up at 7 A.M.. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with honey and milk and sliced banana, a toasted bagel with olive oil, a 12 ounce glass of 50% punch and 50% cold filtered water and vitamins and supplements, and a cup of coffee with milk and Splenda sweetener. I washed the breakfast dishes. I made my bed. CIO

The www.forbes.com magazine arrived, but the way I figure it, they are probably down on the Highlander at <http://pier66.hyatt.com/en/hotel/home.html> heading towards http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Lyford_Cay to network with the British. Wharf rats always know. I had a telephone call from <http://www.amazon.com/gp/browse.html?ie=UTF8&marketplaceID=ATVPDKIKX0DER&me=A29IBD284EFUD4> , and they are only able to send three each of the two different sim cards. They will refund the small change for the over amount on the earlier order. They are located in Ontario, California, where it is probably warmer. CIO

<888> 01/03/14 Friday 5:25 P.M. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with honey and milk and sliced banana, a toasted English muffin with olive oil, a 12 ounce glass of 50% punch and 50% cold filtered water and vitamins and supplements, and a cup of coffee with milk and Splenda sweetener. I washed the breakfast dishes. I made my bed. There were no Thomas' English muffins or Stop and Shop English muffins, when I went there. CIO

<888> 01/03/14 Friday 4:30 P.M. I woke up at 1:30 P.M.. I dressed up warmly, and I went outside, and I cleaned the snow off my Volvo wagon. I drove it in an out of its snowy parking place to make sure it was good to go. I then came back inside briefly. I then went downtown to the www.chase.com bank at 19 West Putnam Avenue, and then I went to the Wells Fargo Bank on Havemayer Place, and I paid my rent to the Greenwich Housing Authority. I then went by the Stop and Shop, and I bought deli sliced German bologna for $2.49 a pound for $3.29, deli sliced Jarlsberg Light Swiss cheese for $8.49 a pound for $8.79, a 24 ounce Stop and Shop Simply Mashed potatoes for $2.50, a Marie Callender 16 ounce Turkey pot pie for $2.50, a 14 ounce Marie Callender sweet and sour chicken dinner for $2.50, a 59 ounce Simply Orange orange juice with calcium for $2.50, a six pack of Pepperidge Farm everything bagels for $4.49, a hot chicken dinner for $2.49 and another chicken and mashed potato dinner for $1.99 for $34.39 total. I then returned home, and I put away my groceries. CIO

<888> 01/03/14 Friday 8:00 A.M. I will now shut down the primary work computer. I will eat a Greek yogurt, and then I will go to bed. CIO

<888> 01/03/14 Friday 7:25 A.M. My two old Bibles in my apartment from my prep school days and my travels are a bit worn out and hard to read. To have a large print Bible in the King James Version from Thomas Nelson and Sons, I ordered KJV Giant Print Personal Size Reference Bible, Bonded Leather, blue-indexed for $11.99 and $3.99 shipping for $15.98 total. CIO

<888> 01/03/14 Friday 6:25 A.M. I ate two ounces of almonds. Spiritual journey: Minister says farewell to First Presbyterian Church, The Reverend Dr. William A. Evertsberg , <http://www.kuc.org/news-announcements/kuc-welcomes-rev-dr-william-evertsberg/> . CIO

<888> 01/03/14 Friday 5:50 A.M. I turned off the two DeLonghi oil filled radiators, since it is now 72.8 degrees Fahrenheit in the apartment. Since they are away from the window wall with the high ceiling and underneath the lower ceiling part, they bring the heat out into the main part of the apartment living room. However, they are expensive to run, but are probably more efficient than the wall electric radiators, since they maintain an even heat. I also keep a tower fan on the window ledge to blow the wall electric heat out into the apartment instead of letting it all rise into the ceiling area. Now that there are double pane windows in the apartment and fiberglass insulation in the false ceilings, the apartment is less drafty and warmer, and the electric bills are a bit less expensive. I went outside, and I measured the snow on the front sidewalk, and it is 4.5 inches deep, however that might now be an accurate measurement, since the snow is very powdery in the extreme cold weather, and it is blowing around with accumulations elsewhere and bare spots in the windy areas. There is little or no snow on the car roofs which are up in the wind. CIO

Town of Greenwich, Connecticut Snow Notice:

This is Greenwich First Selectman Peter Tesei with an important message for all Greenwich residents. As many of you know, significant snowfall and bitterly cold temperatures are anticipated to occur this evening through Friday morning. Accordingly, the Town of Greenwich Board of Selectmen unanimously voted to declare a Snow Emergency effective at 6:00 pm today, January 2nd, 2014. The Snow Emergency will remain in effect until cancelled.

During the period of the Snow Emergency no vehicles are permitted to remain parked, stopped or standing on any Snow Emergency Route. Vehicles in violation will be subject to ticketing and immediate towing. If you are unsure if your vehicle is parked on a Snow Emergency Route, a full list of all routes can be viewed at the Town of Greenwich website - www.greenwichct.org. Vehicles displaced from Snow Emergency Routes may be lawfully parked in municipal off-street parking lots until the snow emergency is over. Your cooperation will ensure that road crews can keep Snow Emergency Routes open for emergency First Responder vehicle traffic.

The Town of Greenwich is fully prepared for the coming snow event. Additional staffing, as appropriate, has been added to Public Works road crews and by Greenwich's emergency responder agencies. At this time, we anticipate the storm will be a moderate duration event with moderate impact. Even so, it is imperative that everyone exercise additional caution during the storm, limit travel to only essential trips and dress appropriately for the bitterly cold conditions.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated cooperation and best wishes for a safe New Year.

<888> 01/03/14 Friday 4:35 A.M. It is 70.8 degrees Fahrenheit in my apartment living room which is comfortable enough. However, since the temperature is going to be extremely cold for the next couple of days, I turned the living room thermostat up from 78 to 80 degrees Fahrenheit. I also turned on the DeLonghi oil filled radiator next to the primary work computer chair set at medium and 4 and the one by the hallway entrance. CIO

<888> 01/03/14 Friday 3:45 A.M. I ate a 16 ounce Marie Callender chicken and bacon pot pie with a 12 ounce glass of Schweppes Ginger Ale. This former resident of Greenwich <http://mikelouisscott.com/chris2000.jpg> was raised in north eastern Vermont, so he knew how to deal with severe winter conditions. He worked at Wendy's and he also worked at <http://www.christchurchgreenwich.org/> . The forty skinny ladies at Christ Church that control the Town of Greenwich, Connecticut liked him, and they found him very helpful. I had him over at my apartment a few times here in Byram, and I once was chatting with him, and he fell asleep on the sofa, and I kept talking because from my viewpoint there was somebody else there that looked a bit like him that might have been a ghost from the Christ Church cemetery that followed him around. The ghost sort of looked like the actor http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Kris_Kristofferson and had the same <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Talisman> as Chris from Christ Church. I figured it was probably some old Viking Ghost that got here before the recent European settlers of the last four to five hundred years. Alas Chris is not in this area to shovel snow at Christ Church, but I stay in touch with him on his facebook page, and I try to respect his privacy. I heard from another Facebook contact that it is extremely cold in Minnesota, and it is coming our way. Make sure your pipes don't freeze and don't leave any pets outside and be sure to keep the Freezing Norwegian Patrol active. There are too large monument type stones on the property of Vinci Drive, and I once thought they might be old boundry markers from the boundry of the New Haven and the New Amsterdam colony, since this was part of Lyon Farm whose homestead was moved just down the hill. However, the old monument stones might be old Druid stones from previous explorers. CIO

<888> 01/03/14 Friday 12:55 A.M. I have 40 minutes to go on one large dry cycle, and I put the other regular dry cycle away. Thus instead of costing me $5 for four regular machines, the laundry cost $6.75. CIO

<888> 01/03/14 Friday 12:35 A.M. I went down to the laundry room, but the far right Maytag washer machine was unbalanced again, and I tried to restart it by unplugging it, and then its front panel went black when I plugged it with the door locked. I tried resetting the circuit breakers in the mail room. Its door did unlock, so I put a load of wet laundry in the larger dryer which costs more money of $1.50 , and it will take about two large dryer loads to get dry. I also started a regular dryer load. I was finally able to get the far right Maytag laundry machine working by leaving it unplugged for a few minutes and then plugging it in. It then came on with six minutes to go which was too late to spin dry the laundry. I chatted with a neighbor. CIO

<888> 01/02/14 Thursday 11:10 P.M. I put clean linens on the bed. I showered, and I cleaned up. I started two loads of laundry, and I have 20 minutes to go on the wash cycles. I threw out the garbage and the old periodical literature. There is a yellow construction tape strung the entire length of the east wing parking area, so I guess they need that parking space for the construction work. However, once the snow is over, they will also have to plow those spaces. I watered the plants. CIO

I ate breakfast of oatmeal with honey and milk and sliced banana, a toasted English muffin with olive oil, a 12 ounce glass of 50% punch and 50% cold filtered water and vitamins and supplements, and a cup of coffee with milk and Splenda sweetener. I washed the breakfast dishes. Recently the Stop and Shop has been sold out of Stop and Shop English muffins, but there are still Thomas' English muffins which are a lot more expensive. They make Thomas' English muffins at the nearby Byram commercial bakery which is now owned by <http://www.bimbobakeriesusa.com/> and http://www.bimbobakeriesusa.com/our_brands/arnold.html, so somebody is probably working over there 24 hours a day. <888> 01/02/14 Thursday 10:20 A.M. Well, the <http://www.greenwichtime.com/> said 15 years ago that http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Guy de Rothschild had moved to Byram Shore Road in the Byram section of Greenwich, Connecticut, and since his family are world class smugglers <http://www.prisonplanet.com/rothschilds-rockefellers-trillionaires-of-the-world.html> , this area for some of the new people is doing better than in the past. All I can tell from the local viewpoint is that <http://www.varmax.com/> now has a larger assortment of liquors and wines from around the world, so it is not like the old days, when the teenagers would drive over to Port Chester, New York and buy a case of Colt 45 Malt Liquor http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Colt 45 \(malt liquor\)) for $4. However, back in the 1960s a teenager would die from drinking and driving about every six months here in town. Of course using electronic devices while driving today probably causes more driving accidents. I chatted with a relative and a friend. CIO

I ate some Lays sour cream and onion potato chips and a slice of Swiss Cheese.

From my perspective, I am doing a lot better than the mid 1970s when Ford and Rockefeller were President and Vice President and my family lived in the Bush Rockefeller neighborhood in Greenwich, Connecticut. After a night in Manhattan, when most of my relatives were away, I would return home to an empty house, and the only thing in the refrigerator would be eggs and a five pound box of mushrooms from Bonjournos. I became an expert at making mushroom omelets, and occasionally English muffins would show up out of no where. Of course back then, I only weighed about 130 pounds at six feet tall at age 25, so I did not need as much food. The only person around here that seems to have money once was a neighbor of http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Old Overholt . It costs $15 a bottle here http://www.binnys.com/spirits/Old Overholt Rye Whiskey 195761.html . His neighbor used to have barrels of it in their basement. CIO

<888> 01/02/14 Thursday 7:40 A.M. I mailed the Microsoft Money 2007 reports in the mail room downstairs. It is cold in the hallways in this building. CIO

<888> 01/02/14 Thursday 7:05 A.M. I woke up at 2:30 A.M.. I spent some more time putting more applications on the $59 with free shipping Nokia Lumia 520 No Contract for AT&T . I do not run my wireless, when I am not using it. I now have 450 megabytes of free space left on it. There is a storage cleaner application to free up a bit of free space. I have more than enough applications. I probably will not use it too much, since I do not travel far from my apartment. When I do go out, I like to be free from the internet and to observe ordinary life in our simple community. However, if I ever did have to travel a short distance, and there was free wireless, it would be handy. The AT&T GoPhone data plans are absurdly expensive for the common person. I ate a muffin. I chatted with a friend. Sometimes Amazon sells it for $40, but they are higher now $59.99 with free shipping Nokia Lumia 520 GoPhone (AT&T) . If it were $40 again, I might buy another one for backup. Since Apple sells their phones which are about 50% bigger for several hundred or more dollars <http://store.apple.com/us/buy-iphone/iphone5s> with service contract plans which cost more, I can not figure out why anyone would spend the extra money for an Apple. CIO

<888> 01/01/14 Wednesday 8:35 P.M. I will now shut down the primary work computer. I will eat a Greek yogurt, and then I will go to bed. They way I figure it with the snow and extreme cold weather coming, I will probably not be going anywhere until this Saturday at the earliest. CIO

$9.85 credit from last month for lowering to the economy package

TV taxes and fees $6.13, Phone Sales tax $1.18, E-911 Fee $.70, Federal Universal Service Fund $.51 for a total of $142.37 and if one adds the $9.85 credit, it means that next month the bill would be about $152.22 give or take a few cents. I technically could get rid of the Ultra 101 High Speed Package which costs $14.95, but that might effect my Internet video speed.

I will now shower and clean up. I will not be going out for groceries tonight, since it is too cold out. However, I will probably have to go out tomorrow night. CIO

<888> 02/28/14 Friday 6:00 A.M. For night people, the worst thing about this Greenwich Byram area, there is no longer any 24 hours grocery stores. However, I have not checked out the location where the Cumberland Farms store used to be across the border in Port Chester, New York where there is a small grocery store, but I do not know if it is 24 hours or not. I normally do not drive in that direction. Where the large amount of vacant ground floor space is at the West Putnam Avenue CVS location, one could put in a 24 hour grocery store there, but it probably would not be too busy. Greenwich people being mostly family people tend to be daytime people. CIO

<888> 02/28/14 Friday 5:45 A.M. Over 20 years ago, when gasoline was a lot cheaper, and I was younger and not afraid to travel on cold nights, I used to go to other parts of Fairfield County and Westchester County and network with people in a few local pubs. The net result is that Greenwich, Connecticut seems to have gotten busier for better or worse. I liked White Plains, New York; because I knew the United States Secret Service has an office there, where the New Haven office was too far away, and Westport, Connecticut used to have the Connecticut State Police branch, and Danbury, Connecticut had Hughes satellite where they were making the Hubble telescope mirror. North Salem, New York had a lot of horse country estates, if one did not want to pick apples. Now that we are prisoners of Greenwich and even worse Byram, the neighbors in the neighboring towns must have already investigated Greenwich pretty thoroughly, and they are not interested in networking with us in our simple village atmosphere. I did once notice something odd at a small three story apartment building near the waterfront in Southport, Connecticut. For years, there was a sign in front of the building that said "No Parking, British Embassy"; so more than likely someone from England was living there. A foreign ambassador does not have to have residence in Washington D.C. where most of the embassy buildings are near the Federal Government, but the foreign ambassador can live anywhere they chose in the Continental Unites States. Thus technically some poor third world country without an ambassador in the United States of America could sell the job to somebody and they could legally live where they could afford and have full diplomatic recognition and immunity. Thus a rich person could by the job and live where ever he might chose with diplomatic recognition and immunity. CIO

<888> 02/28/14 Friday 3:25 A.M. For March 2014, I paid my <http://optonline.net/> Digital Cable TV, Optimum Boost Plus, Optimum Voice, and my <http://www.cl-p.com/> electricity bill, and my <http://www.verizon.com/> local telephone bill. My current Optimum bill was now $142.37, but that was with a $9 credit from last month with the economy cable service, so the new Optimum Bill will be about $152, which is about $65 for high speed Cable Modem, $35 for Optimum Voice long distance and about $52 for economy Cable TV. However that includes $25 in discounts for all three packages which covers the two cable boxes which are about $12 and taxes another fees. CIO

<888> 02/28/14 Friday 2:40 A.M. I was just thinking, if David Rockefeller should still be in the area and not down south somewhere warmer, he could put in a time capsule at the new www.chase.com bank office complex construction foundation across the street from the Greenwich Library, where the old www.exxon.com gasoline station used to be. Since it would be a business trip, he could probably write it off on business. They are in the process of pouring the foundation at the current time. CIO

<888> 02/28/14 Friday 2:15 A.M. Since when Colonel Tom Scott was President of the Pennsylvania Railroad after the Civil War, and he was in partnership with William Vanderbilt, he organized the Standard Oil Trust for John D. Rockefeller giving John D. Rockefeller the exclusive right to haul oil on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Tom Scott's telegraph operator was a young Scottish boy named Andrew Carnegie who he also let borrow books from his private library. Later when John D. Rockefeller got too big for his britches, he had the railroad union burn out the rolling stock of the Pennsylvania Railroad, so he could have the exclusive monopoly on oil through the Standard Oil pipe line. Thus in the economic depression of the 1870s when Tom Scott was in his mid 70s, he was financially ruined. However, Andrew Carnegie did make some money, and his niece married Stillman Rockefeller here in Greenwich, Connecticut where the family has lived here for over a hundred years. For her own personal viewpoint of Greenwich, Connecticut; the Greenwich Library Oral History published this memoir.

<http://mikelouisscott.com/Nancy%20Rockefeller/>

<http://mikelouisscottcom.cv.siteprotect.net/Nancy%20Rockefeller/>

Thus beside many other Scottish families in the area, they have had a profound influence on the local community.

I was thinking if the Scottish should vote to become independent from England, they could make Scotland a tax free haven, and let the British bank all of their money there tax free. It might be profitable. CIO

<888> 02/28/14 Friday 1:50 A.M. I used to know Robert E. Lee's great grandson here in Greenwich, Connecticut. After the www.army.mil where he was a medical doctor and Colonel after attending www.usma.edu . He used to volunteer at the Merry Go Round Mews thrift shop on Arch Street with Mrs. Godfrey Rockefeller and Jack Ceci the Italian godfather. He seemed to know something about my old American family. He was also living in retirement in Coral Gables, Florida; so I figured he would be an excellent hurricane observer. However, when we started having a lot of hurricanes about seven years ago, I tried tracking him down, and I called up www.usma.edu , and they told me he had died in Houston, Texas the year before. He also looked like William Rockefeller from Rye, New York; so maybe they were distantly related. He also looked like Colonel Joe Knolton in Boston, Massachusetts who was a friend of my father, and Joe Knolton was the head of the museum of science and industry in Boston <http://www.mos.org/> . As I recall Joe Knolton had several sons with the same look that I have which the first generation immigrants here in America seem to think is a German look. The Merry Go Mews thrift shop used to be the Scott family boarding house in Greenwich, Connecticut before Nancy Rockefeller bought it for a retirement home. It also was about the warmest place in town. CIO

!!!!!! <888> 02/26/14 Wednesday 11:30 P.M. Iranian warships heading to USA to show reach . John Bolton in his republican news letter said:

Iran is taking America to the cleaners.

As Iranian warships steam through the Suez Canal heading for open waters of the Atlantic Ocean near the United States, we should be reminded of an important fact:

Iran doesn't fear the United States, our allies, or international sanctions. It fears no one.

Iran's recent actions are a clear message that they are feeling quite pleased with themselves and that they have broken through the West's regime of sanctions and feel secure enough to project their power on a global scale.

Recently, we received proof when Iran's foreign minister boldly disputed claims that Iran agreed to dismantle its nuclear program. He boasted, "We did not agree to dismantle anything!"

Michael, are you comfortable with the fact that Iran's power is growing and America's power is declining? I'm certainly not.

I formed John Bolton PAC for one purpose -- to see that our leaders remain committed to restoring American economic and national security.

Barack Obama does not truly see America as exceptional; instead, he sees America as just another player in an increasingly multipolar world that includes an ascending Iran.

Imagine this - if Iran completes its nuclear weapons program those ships in the Atlantic could be carrying nuclear tipped missiles. Its radical Islamic regime could park them off of New York, Boston or Washington and directly threaten American power and security.

And why can they do this?

Because Obama has made us weak.

We must be prepared to do what it takes to protect the idea of American exceptionalism and our basic Constitutional priorities -- the preservation of which are essential not only to our security, but to our prosperity as well.

I'm done accepting second rate leadership for the best nation in the history of mankind.

So Michael, are you with me?

Sincerely,

John Bolton

Greenwich, Connecticut Hurricane Sandy Information Message:

Dear friends and neighbors,

We would like to pass on information from the Greenwich Conservation Commission.

The Town of Greenwich Conservation Commission will be hosting a workshop for all residents impacted by Sandy. The workshop will take place on Tuesday, February 25 from 7:00-8:30 p.m. at Greenwich Town Hall (101 Field Point Road) in the Town Hall Meeting Room.

It was originally stated that folks who attended the 2/11/2014 would not need to attend again.

However, since there is new information on the Hazard Mitigation Grant Program (HMGP), all HMGP applicants may want to attend this meeting as well. Also discussed at the meeting will be grants that residents can apply for.

The CDBG program funded by HUD is available to residents that had damage to their homes during Sandy. Residents may want to consider this funding. There are income guidelines, but they can fund folks at all income levels depending on who applies to the program. This is the OORR grant which is up to $150K.

<http://www.ctrecovers.ct.gov/ctrecovers/cwp/view.asp?a=4498&q=528758>

The first step in applying for this grant is to sign up with an intake center to be able to work with someone on the grant application. All but one of the intake centers are closing as of Feb 28, 2014. The center in Fairfield will be open until April 1, 2014. The attached link provides information on this. Therefore, residents interested in this grant should apply as soon as possible. You may elect not to apply for a grant but at least you will have the option and won't be closed out of the program. This program funds restoration, not just mitigation.

<http://www.ct.gov/ctrecovers/cwp/view.asp?a=4498&Q=540102>

Note: Greenwich has residents who are not yet back in their homes following Sandy. These workshops are for residents with unmet needs as a result of the storm. This is not a workshop on the new FEMA flood regulations.

We hope you find this information helpful. As always, please feel free to contact our offices with any concerns you may have about state issues.

Best Regards,

Livvy Floren, 149th District

<888> 02/24/14 Monday 7:15 P.M. I took the 8 GB microSD card out of the Roku 3 device in the bedroom, and I put in the Roku 2 GB microSD card that I just received. The Roku 3 device formatted it. Although it is a smaller microSD card, it works a lot better, and the channel icons in the menu interface now come up instead of being blank. I took the 8 GB microSD card, and I put it in the microSD to SD adapter, and then I put the SD adapter in the SD to USB adapter plugged into the primary work computer. I then formatted the 8

GB microSD card, and I put it in the older Nokia Go Phone, and it is recognized as 8 GB of microSD storage. CIO

<888> 02/24/14 Monday 6:20 P.M. I threw out the garbage. The recycling dumpster was emptied today. I centered the Volvo wagon in its regular parking place. I said hello to a health care worker and a neighbor. I picked up the mail. The order for www.roku.com/microsd for $4.99 and $4.99 shipping and .32 tax for $10.30 total arrived. The order for Smithsonian Lincoln Edition for $9.99 and $1 shipping for $10.99 total arrived. I put it below the Sceptre television in the living room. I got a new Greenwich Parks and Recreation sticker for the Volvo wagon. Its number is 14-49663. CIO

<888> 02/22/14 Saturday 9:00 P.M. I chatted with a neighbor. I threw out the garbage. I went downtown. I walked the entire length of Greenwich Avenue and the train station area. I sat out at various locations. I stopped by Zen Stationary, and I played an Ace's High Scratch card for a dollar, but lost. I stopped by the Greenwich Cigar Store, and I played an Ace's High scratch card for a dollar, but I lost. I stopped by CVS, and I bought two 8.5 ounce cans of barbecue almonds for $5.99 both. I sat out at various locations. I said hello to a former neighbor. It seemed to be busier on Greenwich Avenue with younger people. The green bench across the street from Starbucks was broken by the snow plow on the south side of the bench. I then went to the Stop and Shop. I bought an eight ounce Stop and Shop parmesan and Romano cheese for $2.99, German deli sliced bologna for $1.99 a pound for a $1.85, a package of four reduced price tomatoes for $2.06, fresh bananas for .79 a pound for $1.95, a four pack of 6 ounce Chaboni peach Greek yogurt for $4.29, a 15 ounce Smart Balance Lite spread for $4.19, a 59 ounce Simply Orange orange juice for $2.50, a six pack of New York Everything bagels for $4.69, a prepared dish of onion rings for $2.99 less 50 cent coupon, a prepared dish of popcorn chicken for $2.99 less a dollar coupon and .45 can return for $28.55 total. The onion rings were suppose to be $1.78 less .50 cents, so I am owed $1.21 cents, but I will let it slide unless I get desperate at the end of the month. I chatted with an employee about grocery store politics. I then returned home. I picked up the mail. I chatted with a relative who got Samsung - 40" Class (40" Diag.) - LED - 1080p - 60Hz - Smart - HDTV on sale. CIO

<888> 02/22/14 Saturday 4:30 A.M. I printed out the link to <https://www.safelinkwireless.com/> for a neighbor that needs a free cell phone, and I gave it to the neighbor downstairs in the community room. CIO

<888> 02/22/14 Saturday 4:15 A.M. While fiddling with the Watch Cell Phone, I mistakenly dialed the www.whitehouse.gov which was on my phone list. I hope I did not wake up anyone around 9 P.M. this past evening. I got an RMA from www.newegg.com for $37.99 to return the watch phone. I took the H2O sim card out of it, and I put it back in the old Nokia AT&T GoPhone. I took the 8 GB microSD card out of it, and I put it in the bedroom Roku device, and it was recognized, and I formatted it in the Roku 3 device. Thus it will save its content to the 8 GB MicroSD card, and work a little bit more fluidly. I packaged up the contents of the Watch Cell Phone, and I put it in its shipping envelope, and I taped a large label on it. I then dressed up warmly. I scraped a layer of thin ice off the Volvo wagon windows, and I drove over to the Valley Road Post office near by, and I mailed it to Whittier, California for $3.94 first class and three day delivery. I am not sure though if the mail there goes out on Saturday morning from the lobby box. I then returned home. The roads look like they might be very slippery, and but I drove very slowly, and there was only one other car driving around. I chatted with a neighbor watching television in the community room. I could see out the back window of the community room a fire truck with flashing red lights responding to an emergency situation. I chatted with the neighbor a bit. CIO

<888> 02/22/14 Saturday 1:25 A.M. I have gone through 50 more channels on the Roku device in the bedroom, and I have 55 more to go. I fiddled with the watch phone. The TracePhone Obama Phone sim card does not work with it. The AT&T sim card from the Nokia Lumia 520 GoPhone works with it, when placed back in its larger sim card cut out. However, both times I tried the two different sim cards, it gave me the option to import the telephone numbers, so I ended up with three sets of identical telephone numbers on the watch phone. When I tried to delete the telephone numbers from the watch phone, it was password protected on the phone and not the sim card, and I could not find any mention in the instructions or the internet of a password to unlock the function. Also changing the watch phone password requires the existing password, which I do not have. I emailed the manufacturer http://www.china-msd.com/CN_contact.asp about the problem. I would rather not return it to NewEgg within 30 days of February 12, 2014 invoice, when they have to receive it with my cell phone private telephone numbers locked into it. I put the H2O sim card back in it. It has a function, when one makes a cell phone call to enable the speaker, so one can hear more loudly. Earlier I chatted with a

!!!!!! <888> 02/21/14 Friday 2:55 P.M. $49.99 with free shipping Nokia Lumia 520 GoPhone (AT&T) . It is cheapest to use with H2O WIRELESS Micro SIM CARD KIT - works w/ AT&T & Unlocked Phones for sale for a penny. You can buy $10 of time for ten cents a minute good for three months at <https://www.h2owirelessnow.com/> and from Jolly Old England in Red FLIP WALLET LEATHER CASE COVER FOR NOKIA LUMIA 520 + FREE SCREEN GUARD for $4.95 and $2.48 Royal Air Mail for $7.64 total. You can also order a 16 GB microSD card for it at the cheapest site you can find it at <http://www.newegg.com/Product/ProductList.aspx?Submit=ENE&DEPA=0&Order=BESTMATCH&Description=16+GB+microSD+card&N=-1&isNodeId=1> . The Nokia Lumia 520 GoPhone works with wireless, and it has 8 GB of space for applications, and if one put the www.skype.com application on it with free wireless, one can call England for 2 cents a minutes or many other destinations for a similar price. Also there is a new Windows 8 software upgrade for it, but one needs 1.3 gigabytes of free space on the 8 gigabytes of storage space to install the upgrade. It also has a camera and voice activation and a responsive touch screen. It also works with ear buds and the storage microSD can be synched with one's computers music files or one can just plug it into a windows computer USB port and transfer one's music files to it. It is good overall value for the price, and one is not tied into a service contract Also if one has a larger regular sim card, one can transfer it using a <http://www.ebay.com/itm/Standard-Sim-to-Micro-Sim-Card-Punch-Cutter-2-Micro-to-Standard-Sim-Adapters-/231125211631?pt=US+Other+Cell+Phone+Accessories&hash=item35d022d9ef> , but be sure to cut it properly. It has to be a standard AT&T GoPhone sim card though. One can transfer one's telephone directory from the older sim card and save it, and then use the cheaper H2O sim card for calling and transfer one's saved numbers to the H2O sim card. However, without wireless available, data plans with H2O are still expensive. I will now take a nap. CIO

<888> 02/20/14 Thursday 7:50 P.M. I chatted with a friend. I put the 8 GB microSD card and the regular H2O sim card in the watch phone. The sim card has to be properly situated for it to be recognized, but it all works just fine and recognizes the H2O AT&T network. I tested it by calling a friend. I set the time and date. I am charging it up with the USB charging cable. It comes with a little metal stylus in the wrist band for touching the 1.5 inch square LCD screen. It recognized my telephone numbers on the H2O sim card that I stored from the Nokia Go Phone, and it also copied them to the watch phone memory. The watch phone came with a set of ear buds for easy listening. It has a camera and FM radio and web browser and text messaging along with the calling features. It works all around the world depending on whose sim card, one might be using. CIO

I turned off the small white elephant light in the living room window. Thus when the apartment lights are turned off, one can turn off the kitchen stove light and the hallway book light, and the apartment will be in red black out light including the red bulb in the bathroom night light. I will turn on the red light in the living room, when going to bed, but there will still be white light from the hallway book light and the kitchen stove hood light. CIO

I put one red light bulb in the small lamp at the bedroom entrance, and I put a small white lamp shade on it. Thus I now have night vision lighting in the bedroom. Since I always keep a white night light in the hallway and one in the kitchen and one in the living room, there is not point in put in more red lights at the moment. Back to the kitchen Roku device. I have it setup to work off the wired LAN which is always on. The Sony Streaming device is now port 2 working off the wireless which is not always on. The Memorex DVD player is port 3 and the living room cable box is port 4. The port switch device remote has to be pointed at the IR sensor of the left side of the Haier TV screen, or it can be manually switched. I activated the Roku 3000, and I installed its 203 channels and updates. When I checked out the Truman White House at the Key West Navy Annex during the winter of 1978 with a friend, it appeared to be just a one story two or three bedroom bungalow, and when I walked into it, it was full of termites, and my foot went through the floor. It was well photographed, so I am pretty sure it was it. The Navy base was abandoned with lots of palm frons and coconuts lying all of the place. <888> 02/16/14 Sunday 5:55 P.M. I threw out the garbage. I went downtown to CVS, and I picked up a prescription. I then went by the ATM machine at the Chase Bank at the top of Greenwich Avenue. I then drove further downtown, and I parked in my usual location. There is no point in cleaning off the snow off the benches, since there is too much snow around them. I stopped by Zen Stationary, and I played a Quick Pick Powerball Ticket for $2. I then walked the entire length of Greenwich Avenue and the train station area. I sat out at various places that were clear of snow, but a bit damp. I used the bathroom at Starbucks. I toured CVS again. There are two flyers outside CVS for a Wired Haired Terrier lost in Bruce Park with a thousand dollar reward and a 914 area code. It looks like the dog that won the Westminster Dog Show. The sidewalk at the top of Greenwich Avenue as it turns into West Putnam Avenue is extremely slippery and icy and dangerous. I finished my walk, and I sat out for a while. I then went by the Stop and Shop. I bought a 48 ounce Quaker Old Fashioned oats for $4.24, a quart of Borden's lemon juice for $2.69, a 8.5 ounce bag of Cape Cod Kettle potato chips for $3, bananas for .79 a pound for $2.06, four 19 ounce Stouffer's meat lasagna for $3 each, a six pack of Arnold New York Everything bagels for $3.99, a chicken and scallop potato dinner for $2.49, and 40 cents can return for $30.07 total. I then went by the Putnam Shell at 401 West Putnam Avenue, and I bought $11.02 of self service premium V-Power gasoline for $4.199 a gallon with a dime a gallon off with my Stop and Shop card for 2.624 gallons at odometer reading of 107489 miles for 25.4 miles driven since Friday January 31, 2014 for 9.68 miles per gallon in mostly local traffic. <888> 02/15/14 Saturday 8:40 P.M. I chatted with a relative. When I chatted with the walker who lives downtown today, he told me that nobody is cleaning off the snow off the benches downtown. I guess they have to have a town meeting and come up with an executive decision to figure out whom might do it. Maybe they should start charging for people to sit on benches, and then they could afford to pay someone for cleaning the snow off the benches. Also they should shovel pathways to the benches, so one can reach them more easily. I guess with the snow melting a little bit in the daytime and freezing at night, it is quite treacherous out there on the wilds of Greenwich Avenue. I used to go out there in cold weather all of the time around the clock until about a year ago, when I decided I was too old for that adventure. The safest sidewalk in the winter in Manhattan is the sidewalk around the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, because they have steam pipes in the sidewalk to keep it defrosted. Of course that is the high rent district. The cheapest place I know to stay in midtown Manhattan is the <http://www.ymcanyc.org/vanderbilt/> which is convenient to Grand Central terminal. Nobody seems to have reason to communicate with me through the internet, so I guess they do not find my content too interesting, although I do have a lot of experience in this area and with the internet. The cheapest place to stay in this area is the <http://stamfordymca.org/> . In Elmsford, New York and in Norwalk, Connecticut they have <http://www.extendedstayamerica.com/> . More than likely with the colder weather up north, the wild life that is still active will be foraging for food closer to where people live. The <http://glorydaysdiner.com/> in Greenwich, Connecticut across the street from the Y.M.C.A. is opened 24 hours on weekends. The pubs in Greenwich close at 2 A.M.. I think www.mcdonalds.com and www.wendys.com are opened until midnight on West Putnam Avenue. Of course in my neck of the woods on West Putnam Avenue, we have three 24 hours gasoline stations with mini marts and a 24 hours CVS, so you know somebody is always moving around in this area. By exit 5 on I-95, we have the Riverside Shopping center with a 24 hour CVS and just to the east a 24 hour Walgreen's and 24 hour Getty gasoline station and 24 hour Mobil station, and a few blocks to the west, there is another 24 hour Mobil station. Unfortunately in central Greenwich downtown after 10 or 11 A.M., there are no grocery stores or gasoline stations opened. I think downtown Starbucks on Greenwich Avenue closes at 11 P.M. on Friday and Saturday nights, and the other nights at 10 P.M.. The Stamford, Connecticut train station is opened 24 hours, but I never checked it out in the early morning hours. The rest areas on I-95 in Darien, Connecticut are opened 24 hours. In the old days, one could try to sneak into the basement of the www.yale.edu law school and sleep on one of their red leather couches in their well heated basement. There is a homeless shelter at Westchester County airport, but one needs to be referred by a Westchester County social services agency. Also in Stamford, Connecticut and Norwalk, Connecticut; they have homeless shelters. Westport, Connecticut has a small homeless shelter for about 25 people near the center of town, but it fills up fast. New York City has a large shelter network, and I think the police are required to round up homeless people in severe cold weather and take them to the shelters. Of course there are always people falling through the cracks of the social services safety net. CIO

<888> 02/14/14 Friday 8:35 P.M. Town of Greenwich Message:

This is an important message from the Greenwich Police Department. Today is Friday, February 14th, 2104.

By unanimous action, effective at 3:00 pm this afternoon the Town of Greenwich Board of Selectmen has lifted the Snow Emergency parking restrictions set in place on Wednesday. Even though the Snow Emergency has been cancelled, small amounts of additional snow are forecast for tomorrow and the Town of Greenwich continues to encourage residents to voluntarily avoid on-street parking as best possible. Many roadways remain narrowed by accumulated snow and ice. Public Works crews will remain at work throughout the weekend removing snow and dressing roads. This work is accomplished much more efficiently when streets are clear of parked vehicles.

Relative to snow removal from private property, residents and especially snow removal contractors are reminded that it is unlawful to deposit any plowed or shoveled snow onto any public street, roadway or sidewalk. Violations of this type are aggressively enforced by the Greenwich Police Department. Violators are subject to a fine of 118 dollars per violation.

Also, and in accordance with Town of Greenwich ordinance, owners and occupants of property with public sidewalks are reminded that they are required to maintain these sidewalks as free from snow and ice. Snow and ice must be removed from sidewalks not later than 18 hours from the time the snow has fallen or the ice has formed.

Finally, with all of the winter weather and cold temperatures many fire hydrants are becoming obstructed under unmelted snow and ice. The Town is encouraging those who have a fire hydrant on their property to help keep it visible and accessible by shoveling it out. Even if you do not have a fire hydrant on your property, please do not be afraid to adopt a nearby fire hydrant in your neighborhood. Ready access to water for firefighting can be a true lifesaver when seconds count.

Spring is just around the corner. Until it gets here, please stay warm, stay safe and have a wonderful Valentine's Day.

Capt. Mark Kordick
Greenwich Police Department

It is interesting about the Greenwich Time article Greenwich grand list shows \$24 billion in residential property about two of the three most expensive residential properties in Greenwich, Connecticut being on Byram Shore Road. In the 1960s, Chuck King introduced me to a family that lived on Byram Shore Road. Once at Odd Job in Port Chester, New York about 23 years ago, I met a German pilot with bad arthritis that looked like Adolph Hitler, and he lived on Byram Shore Road. Also about 15 years ago, Guy De Rothschild lived on Byram Shore Road for a couple of years, before he returned to France and passed away and left all of his money to his second Dutch Catholic wife. Also at Odd Job in Port Chester, New York, I once met the Bush family private pilot, and he also lived in Byram. He told me when George H.W. Bush was on the board of directors of Texas Gulf Industries, and when they were flying the private jet out of an airport in Africa, the locals were shooting at it. Also Julius Silver the treasurer of Polaroid used to live in the Byram section of Greenwich. Also Lucy and Dezi Arnez got married at the Justice of the Peace in Byram, Connecticut. Being on the border of New York State, Byram Connecticut probably has a lot of other refugees from New York State. About 12 years ago, I saw Senator DuPont walking down West Putnam Avenue in my area. Town of Greenwich Snow Notice:

This is an important message for all Greenwich residents from the Greenwich Police Department. Today is Wednesday, February 12th, 2104. As many of you know, significant snow and ice precipitation is forecast to begin later this evening and continue through tomorrow evening. In anticipation, the Town of Greenwich Board of Selectmen has unanimously voted to declare a Snow Emergency effective at 6:00 pm today. The Snow Emergency will remain in effect until cancelled.

During the period of the Snow Emergency no vehicles are permitted to remain parked, stopped or standing on any Snow Emergency streets. Vehicles in violation will be subject to ticketing and immediate towing. If you are unsure if your vehicle is parked on a Snow Emergency street, a full list can be viewed at the Town of Greenwich website here. Vehicles displaced from Snow Emergency streets may be lawfully parked in municipal off-street parking lots until the snow emergency is over.

Even if you do not live or work on a snow emergency street, if you have off-street parking available for your vehicle, you are encouraged to use it during and after the storm. Snow and ice accumulations from previous storms are already narrowing some roadways. It is much easier for Public Works to fully clean the street without vehicles parked in their way. Your cooperation will ensure that road crews can keep all streets open for emergency First Responder vehicle traffic.

Further, with all of the winter weather and cold temperatures many fire hydrants are becoming obstructed under unmelted snow and ice. The Town is encouraging those who have a fire hydrant on or near their property to help keep it visible and accessible. Ready access to water for firefighting can be a true lifesaver when seconds count.

The latest predictions indicate that we should receive at least six and as many as fourteen inches of additional snow accumulation over the next 24 to 36 hours. Icing conditions on walkways, roads, trees and power lines may become problematic especially late in the day tomorrow. Obviously, residents should restrict travel during the storm only to essential trips.

Additional staffing has been added to Public Works road crews and to Greenwich's First Responder agencies. The Town of Greenwich is fully prepared for the coming winter storm event. You can best help us by remembering to move vehicles from snow emergency routes, keeping vehicles off of non-snow emergency streets as well if possible, and making sure that fire hydrants are clear of snow and ice. During the coming storm, please stay indoors, stay warm and stay safe.

<888> 02/12/14 Wednesday 8:15 P.M. I was here in Greenwich, Connecticut in the winter of 1992 after http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Mount Pinatubo erupted the previous June 1991. That winter we had a lot of snow including a two foot snow fall that brought the town of Greenwich to a stand still. What was very frustrating though for us whom like to see our traditional winter wonderland landscape, the second day after the snow fall, the Town of Greenwich Public Works Department showed up that evening on Greenwich Avenue after all of the cars had been removed with lots of dump trucks and front loaders, and they stole all of the snow off of Greenwich Avenue in less than four hours. There was a big debate with the environmentalists as to whether they should be allowed to dump the snow in Long Island sound which might have road oil in it, so they now dump it all at the Grass Island Parking area. <888> 02/12/14 Wednesday 3:50 P.M. I got a notice, they will be doing asbestos removal in the building for the next week or two as part of the new elevator project. The building custodian had me move the Volvo wagon from its usual spot to the north end entrance of the building, so when the snow comes tonight and tomorrow until Friday morning, there will be an area to clear the east side of the parking lot. I chatted with neighbors. It says 6 to 10 inches of snow until 6 A.M. on Friday http://forecast.weather.gov/showsigwx.php?warnzone=CTZ009&warncounty=CTC001&rewxzone=CTZ009&local_place1=&product1=Winter+Storm+Warning#.UvvacfuS7AM ,

If I do cancel the Digital Cable TV subscription, I might continue to pay for the two cable boxes which is about $10 a month, until I am sure I want to return them. My friend out in Melville, Long Island told me the snow is piled up there a lot deeper than Nassau County to the west of them. CIO

<888> 02/11/14 Tuesday 8:00 P.M. I ate a muffin. The way I figure it as an established Republican Party member in this country, the local branch of the democrat Roosevelt family in Darien, Connecticut which managed with all of their money to build

<http://maritimeaquarium.org/> is the cause of a lot of the problems in this area which the Republican Party members encounter. Since they have established assets, they might encounter lawsuits should any republican party members choose to prosecute or bring them to court, even if it has to be at the Hague <http://haguejusticeportal.net/>, since there might not be a fair trial in this country. Yes, we have made the case. I emailed this to the Hague.

I once had a BA in Economics from Lake Forest College in Lake Forest, Illinois. James Paul Warburg of the Warburg banking family was a family friend. Since I am legally disabled, I have not practiced in economics, but I just read short summaries. I have worked the internet "<http://mikelouisscott.com/>" and "<http://mikelouisscottcom.cv.siteprotect.net/>" to try to make some sense out of it. All I can figure out is that the Rothschild family is making all of the money out of the so called New World order, and as a person whom objects with others, we are being held prisoners of economics in our homes. As a Dutch American citizen, I seem to have no rights but to chat with a government paid psychiatrist and take my medication and constantly be intimidated by gangs and hoods when I try to network in the general public. Then they try to blame me for the problems by giving me the Hail Hitler salute, when all I have done is peacefully sit in public here for 30 years and observe and smoke cigarettes and work the personal computers. I was told by a German Physicist before he died that they do not like me in Greenwich, Connecticut since I look German, although I have lived here most of the time since 1962. I think because I only know English and have 5 years of High School French, some individuals have slandered me and my friends for their fun and profit. From what I can see on the Bloomberg News here in America, there is a lot of economic hype of worthless internet companies, possibly to launder drug cartel profits.

<888> 02/10/14 Monday 11:15 A.M. I chatted with a friend whom knows a few Canadians. Of course with the colder winter, the St. Lawrence Seaway is obviously frozen over for a longer period of time, so all of the shipping out of the Great Lakes which also includes a lot of food can not make it to the other ports in the world particularly Europe where it might be needed. It costs too much money to haul bulk cargo via air. CIO

Still, if one organizes oneself, one does not need to venture out in an automobile on a daily basis just to spin one's wheels. In Europe a lot of people have automobiles which they leave parked most of the time, since gasoline can be over $8 a gallon there almost twice as much as here. It said on Bloomberg News this morning, a lot of our energy is supplied by natural gas which has gone up over 65% recently. If one is out on Long Island driving on the Long Island Expressway in the Queens Section of New York City near Le Frac City, one can see the <https://www.psegliny.com/> natural gas tanks, and easily tell by their height how much natural gas supply is left in them. Also from Steamboat Road here in Greenwich, Connecticut on cold clear days, one can look across Long Island Sound and see a lot of steam escaping from one of the power plants out there. When I knew Helen Kress Williams in Oyster Bay, Long Island; I think her family were involved with <http://williamsenergygroup.com/>. Now if one happens to know any Canadians, back in the period when I was working out on Long Island between 1978 and 1983, a group of other workers built a natural gas pipeline down from Canada to New Rochelle, New York and under Long Island Sound to supply Long Island with more Canadian Natural gas, so if one wants to stay warm out on Long Island, remember Canadians are supplying your Canadian Natural Gas. I then decided I wanted the model with an ice scraper too, and they let me have that model for the same price, although it was $7 more. Since I have kept an eye on the downtown area of Greenwich for 30 years, they sometimes give me discounts at the local shops. Obviously it costs me a lot more to go downtown and walk the entire length of Greenwich Avenue frequently than a few minor discounts, particularly in Green Witch, Connecticut. I next parked further downtown, and I chatted with a retired person walking a wired hair terrier. I then walked the entire length of Greenwich Avenue and the train station area. I used the bathroom at Starbucks. I went by Zen Stationary, and I bought another Ace's High scratch card for a dollar, but I lost. One can now win up to a thousand dollars on a Ace's High scratch card, which would probably pay for dinner on Greenwich Avenue for your twenty closest friends. I also stopped by the TD bank to tell them about the Aga Khan traveling all the way up to Canada. I washed the breakfast dishes. I made my bed. Basically in back country Greenwich for the people whom live up Round Hill Road, it is such a long trip down Round Hill Road, people usually on northern Round Hill road only go downtown once a week. Also when coming down Round Hill Road, just before Pecksland Road, one has to deal with the dangerous "Dead Man's Curve" which has claimed quite a few people over the years. Still one can live in back country off Round Hill Road and try to survive off supplies from the local Round Hill store. When my family lived off Round Hill Road, we use to attend the Round Hill Community Church, when it was at John Street, but I have never gone to their new church <http://www.roundhillcommunitychurch.org/> at the Round Hill Community House except once to head Bishop John Moore from St. John's cathedral in Manhattan speak. They now have a system, where one can go through the prompts to get through to their emergency number in London, and if one is Scottish, London will transfer one to Edinburgh, Scotland; where they seem to understand and listen. CIO

<888> 02/09/14 Sunday 2:35 A.M. If you want to see how the Rockefeller family control the www.greenwichtime.com , one might notice in the earlier Greenwich Time article about the grand list of property in Greenwich, there is no mention of the Stillman Rockefeller property which is about two thousand acres on the east side of Glenville Road. They might not list it, because technically I think it is a Christmas tree farm accessed at only a million dollars as rural agricultural property. Of course they also have property in Texas and Scotland, so they probably regard that as a small piece of property. So be nice to the Scottish. Stillman's wife Nan was Andrew Carnegie's niece. Of course there are other neighborhoods in Greenwich that look more deluxe where the Vanderbilt family have lived. Also the Bush family were once neighbors of the Dodge family. The Frick family also lived near where the Vanderbilt family lived. The area where the Frick and Vanderbilt family lived might be where the Ford family might also have a house, since it looks like Grosse Point Farms, Michigan. The Reed family also lived there amongst other neighborhoods in town. I think the Mellon family might have property north of Greenwich in Banksville, New York which is more undeveloped. CIO

<888> 02/09/14 Sunday 2:10 A.M. Basically from what I know about the neighborhood where the Aka Khan has a house in Greenwich, Connecticut is near where my family once had a house. In that neighborhood, the Rockefeller family, the Bush family, the Shah of Iran family, the Norwegian Royal family, the J.P. Morgan Belgium branch family where I bought my first personal Apple IIe computer for $100 at a tag sale, and the Bentley family all have homes in that neighborhood, and it is near where the Peterson and Watson and Powers and Shepard families once lived too. There are quite a few other families in that neighborhood whom managed to stay more private for economic reasons. It costs money to be public. Tom Shaw whose family is in the construction business in town whom I had one of my first cigarettes with also built a spec house in that neighborhood recently, but he prefers to live down in Melbourne, Florida near www.nasa.gov . There are also wild animals in that neighborhood. Quite a few people from that old neighborhood have also ended up at <http://www.johnsislandclub.org/> . Of course the Aga Khan has multiple homes around the world, so whether he ever uses his property in Greenwich is opened to speculation. CIO

Prime Minister of Canada to welcome Aga Khan:

PM to welcome His Highness the Aga Khan to Canada
February 7, 2014
Standoff, AB

Introduction

Prime Minister Stephen Harper today announced that His Highness the Aga Khan will make an official visit to Canada later this month. During his visit, the Aga Khan will meet with Prime Minister Harper, who has invited him to deliver an historic address to Parliament.

Canada has a warm and enduring relationship with the Aga Khan, 49th hereditary Imam (spiritual leader) of the world's 15 million Shia Ismaili Muslims. The Government of Canada has a strong, long-standing relationship with the institutions of the Ismaili Imam, including the Aga Khan Foundation Canada (AKFC) and the Aga Khan Development Network. AKFC is a trusted partner of Canada on a wide range of international development initiatives, including in Afghanistan, in the areas of health, education, rural and economic development, and the creation of new opportunities for women. The Network's underlying ethic is that of compassion for the most vulnerable in society and service to humanity without regard to faith, origin or gender.

Quick Facts

- Since taking on his role as Imam in 1957, the Aga Khan has been deeply engaged in improving the quality of life of the most vulnerable populations, while emphasizing the need to uphold human dignity as well as respect for tolerance and pluralism. There are more than 100,000 Shia Ismaili Muslims in Canada.

- The Aga Khan was formally granted honorary citizenship in May 2010 during an official visit to Canada. This initiative was passed unanimously in the House of Commons on June 19, 2009.
- In May 2010, the Aga Khan and Prime Minister Harper took part in the Foundation Ceremony of the Ismaili Centre, the Aga Khan Museum and Park in Toronto. The Aga Khan Museum is the first museum in North America dedicated exclusively to the arts of the Islamic world. The museum seeks to inform, educate and inspire audiences about the arts of the Islamic world and the plurality within Islam whereas the network of Ismaili Centres globally, through their design and function, reflect and illustrate the Ismaili community's intellectual and spiritual understanding of Islam, its social conscience and its tolerant attitude.
- In October 2006, Prime Minister Harper announced that our Government was partnering with the Aga Khan to establish the Global Centre for Pluralism in Ottawa. The Centre promotes pluralism internationally as a means to advance good governance, peace and human development. It also supports academic and professional development, provides advisory services, and supports research and learning in developed and developing countries.
- The Government of Canada and the Aga Khan Foundation cooperate in development projects around the world, including in Afghanistan, Pakistan and eastern Africa. Collaboration has been particularly strong on promoting maternal, newborn and child health - one of Canada's development priorities - including in Afghanistan, Tanzania, Mali, Mozambique and Pakistan.
- The Aga Khan Development Network (AKDN) is a group of private, international, non-denominational agencies, established by His Highness the Aga Khan, working to improve living conditions and opportunities for people in some of the poorest parts of the developing world. The network is active in over 30 countries and employs over 80,000 people globally. Its nine agencies address complex development issues including the provision of quality healthcare and education services, cultural and economic revitalization, micro-enterprise, entrepreneurship and economic development, the advancement of civil society and the protection of the environment.

Quotes

“Our Government is honoured to once again welcome His Highness the Aga Khan to Canada. Our country has a warm and lasting friendship with His Highness, who was granted honorary Canadian citizenship for his leadership as a champion of international development, pluralism and tolerance around the world.” - Prime Minister Stephen Harper

<888> 02/07/14 Friday 11:45 P.M. I chatted with a friend. I watched the opening of the Winter of Olympics from Russia that was broadcast on N.B.C.. I guess to afford to pay off their $750 million cost to broadcast it, they have to have a lot of commercial advertising. I ate three ounces of almonds while watching the show. It seems we are having a colder than normal winter, but it is my viewpoint that this Has the Sun gone to sleep? might be true. CIO

<888> 02/07/14 Friday 6:55 P.M. I picked up the mail. I chatted with a neighbor and the building custodian. If one reads the small print in the www.nytimes.com , in their article about the Tapan Zee bridge reconstruction, the picture of the heavy lifting barge they brought in from San Francisco through the Panama Canal says <http://www.fluor.com/pages/default.aspx> , and since I once worked for Daniel Construction in Greenville, South Carolina as an expeditor, and since Daniel was bought out by Fluor, more than likely somebody in this area is involved in the new bridge project. They only paid me about $550 a month after taxes, and I lived in a $140 a month one bedroom apartment near the Greenville, South Carolina sheriff's department, where I saw about 200 sheriff deputies every morning on my way to work in my 1966 Chevrolet Biscayne light blue 4 door sedan, we had pretty good security. Also General William Westmoreland was from Greenville, South Carolina, so Daniel employed quite a lot of retired military personnel. They offered me a job in Saudi Arabia building an air force base there. When told that all of the tankers full of cement in the hot harbors had their cement going bad, I suggested that they build cement plants in Saudi Arabia, since they have most of the natural ingredients there. Alas, since I live so far up north in wilderness of New England, those peanut munchers down south have long since forgot about me. I still have communications with other relatives down south, but mostly I hear about grocery store politics from them. CIO

<888> 02/07/14 Friday 5:40 P.M. A good way to jam the <http://www.nsa.gov/> by playing this <http://www.disco-disco.com/sounds/djsets/robbieleslie-studio54-podcast.m3u> . It is also good work out music for exercise. Of course to loud disco music probably made people a bit deaf. Also the people who produced other music did not like it, since it was quite popular at one time. I always wondered if the strobe lights in the disco were photographing people while they partied. The music file said they were also using a lot of drugs at the discos to get "HIGH". I guess that is what the West Coast was all about, while we were all freezing in the cold back East. It is also was part of the Miami Sound Machine group of people. The first discothèque I discovered was in Grenoble, France at the "Bird Land" disco in Marcelle's old barn behind his villa where Charles Rising King and his classmates at the University of Grenoble were staying during the French student riots. Of course in French, the word discotheque means "Hall of Records". A lot of disco music was never heard in this country, since it was only licensed for various cruise ships on various voyages. They were sort of like the Beatles' "Magical Mystery Tours" to www.nantucket.net .

He told me one has to clear the ground, where one puts the bird seed. He told me while watching the birds feeding, a goshawk swooped down and ate a dove. I guess it is still survival of the fitness up in the north country. I am comfortable at home for now, but after spending all of those years out in the cold on Greenwich Avenue, it is sort of hard to get use to staying inside at home; but I suppose it is better than freezing out in the very cold weather. Town gears up for snowy week

Town of Greenwich, Connecticut Emergency Message:

This an important message from the Greenwich Police Department. As many of you know, significant snow and ice precipitation is forecast for this later evening through tomorrow. In anticipation, the Town of Greenwich Board of Selectmen has unanimously voted to declare a Snow Emergency effective later this evening at 1:00 am, Wednesday, February 5th, 2014. The Snow Emergency will remain in effect until cancelled.

During the period of the Snow Emergency no vehicles are permitted to remain parked, stopped or standing on any Snow Emergency streets. Vehicles in violation will be subject to ticketing and immediate towing. If you are unsure if your vehicle is parked on a Snow Emergency street, a full list can be viewed here: Snow Emergency Streets Vehicles displaced from Snow Emergency streets may be lawfully parked in municipal off-street parking lots until the snow emergency is over. Your cooperation will ensure that road crews can keep Snow Emergency streets open for emergency First Responder vehicle traffic.

At this time, the State of Connecticut's Department of Emergency Services and Public Protection is anticipating that this will be a "moderate to major" winter storm event. Light snow beginning around midnight is predicted to give way to very heavy, wet snow through the early morning hours continuing to midday tomorrow with some periods of limited visibility. The snow will be mixed with and finally end with periods of sleet and freezing rain. Total snow accumulations are predicted to be 6 to 10 inches and total ice accretions of up to one-quarter of one inch are likely. Temperatures, even during the daytime, are not predicted to be above freezing for several days. This storm, especially with its potential for significant icing may cause trees and branches and power lines to become heavy and fall. Residents should use extra caution when outdoors, be aware of the potential for falling trees and branches and never approach downed wires of any type. Additionally, residents should be mindful of the possibility of power and communications interruptions during and following this winter storm event.

Additional staffing has been added to Public Works road crews and to Greenwich's emergency responder agencies and the Town of Greenwich is fully prepared for the coming snow and ice event. You can best help us by remembering to move vehicles from snow emergency routes. Please stay indoors, stay warm and stay safe.

Division Commander
Greenwich Police Department

He told me there were five thousand people working for RCA Global Communications in the Bahamas. I then called up the British Embassy in Washington D.C. at 1-202-588-6500, and I worked my way through the prompts twice, but when they answered in London, England, they would not chat, and they said there was no Scottish number they could transfer me to, which they have done so in the past. I then called up <http://www.scotland.police.uk/contact-us/> at 441786289070, and I told them what I wanted to tell them which is that I was told by a U.S.A. www.army.mil veteran from World War II, the United States Military liked the British soldiers, because they were willing to charge up a hill and get killed, when the American soldiers were not willing to do so. <888> 03/24/14 Monday 12:15 A.M. When I was downtown on this past Saturday afternoon. I saw a train go by going west to east pulling an unknown number of coal cars. I did not see the whole train, so I was not able to tell how many coal cars it was pulling. Also I could not tell if the coal cars were loaded or not. Also at the bottom of Greenwich Avenue on the east side where the new building is, the vacant lot on its south side has a new construction fence around it. What is strange if that there are about 20 large 2 foot by 6 foot by 3 foot cement blocks they placed on the vacant lot. I do not know if they are for some sort of foundation support for a new construction project or not. The vacant lot is where the old Thataway Restaurant Patio used to be. CIO

<888> 03/23/14 Sunday 4:00 A.M. I made a number of telephone calls to various individuals on my speed dial list whom are awake at this hour. Since the person who told me that the missing Malaysian Boeing 777 jet is in Iran as reported two and a half weeks ago, and since the Shah of Iran's family have moved out of Greenwich, Connecticut along with the Ali Khan, more than likely from the report two and a half weeks ago, it said the missing Boeing 777 jet could be reconfigured as a weapon, so possibly members of the local international community are moving to areas that they feel might be more secure. However, it could all be a Chinese Paper Tiger trying to scare us. I do not have the real answer, even if there were a real answer. My personal viewpoint is that a group of con artist gypsies whom are well known called the Irish Travelers from Murphyville, South Carolina might be trying to scare people for profit. They have been reported on many times in the Greenwich Time, so maybe they became high tech and international in their crimes or networked up with other international criminals. I do not have the answer. Having lived around the Irish in Boston and New York and Chicago, I happen to know a lot of Irish whom are involved in law enforcement whom might know more. However, from the world geo political viewpoint, there are only 6 million people in Ireland, 2.5 million people in Northern Ireland, and a small scattering of them outside around the world, so they are not a major geopolitical force worldwide. Since John www.harvard.edu was a minister from the Prison area of London, England, and he also died of tuberculosis, possibly people with Harvard degrees have some sort of problems with British law enforcement. The area of Summerville, South Carolina which has lots of pine trees which use to be used for tuberculosis cures in the old days, since the pine was a healing ingredient. Decatur, Alabama where I also once lived had a tuberculosis sanatorium, when I lived there. I am a computer techie, and not a medical person or geopolitician, but I do read a lot of bits and pieces of various news stories published in the English language in North America. CIO

The Panasonic Toughbook CF-29 laptop computer is all setup with the new hard drive, and it runs just the same as before. It has about 57 gigabytes of free hard drive space. However, I disabled the Belkin wireless startup program, since it made Internet Explorer ask for a Belkin password which I do not have. However, when one starts the Belkin wireless application from the desktop, it does not ask for a password in internet explorer. Besides the Belkin card, I have built-in Panasonic wireless. Although, the Panasonic CF-29 Toughbook is a bit slow starting up, once it starts up and loads all of its devices and software, it runs just fine. In an emergency, if I had to go into the field, it is a very rugged computer. I have $457.75 into its setup with all of its parts and accessories, although it is probably only worth half that today. However, with the new hard drive, it should have long life. The battery still shows a full charge. Before you snub your nose at it, remember a new Panasonic Toughbook costs a lot more $4,319.99 Panasonic Toughbook 31 - Core i5 3340M / 2.7 GHz - Windows 7 Pro - 4 GB RAM - 50 CIO

I had to gently remove and reattach some foam rubber used for cushioning. I am restoring the Paragon Backup from July 13, 2013 from the Seagate 2 TB external hard drive. Since the Panasonic Toughbook CF29 is an older laptop computer, I had to use the Paragon restore version 10 CD. The most recent version would not boot. I have about 15 minutes to go on the restore. I made the entire partition 80 GB. CIO

<888> 03/21/14 Friday 1:50 P.M. I threw out the garbage. I pulled one of the orange traffic cones out of the snow pile, and I put it with the other orange traffic cones. I walked around the building at 71 Vinci Drive. I inspected the upstairs apartment, where they are putting in the new freight elevator. I was told they are not putting in storage rooms in the basement, which would have been useful. Technically I have done construction in Greenwich, Connecticut, New Canaan, Connecticut, Boston, Massachusetts, Waltham, Massachusetts, Weston, Massachusetts, Lake Forest, Illinois, Manhattan, New York, Locust Valley, Long Island, New York, Greenville, South Carolina, Nantucket Island, Massachusetts, Key West, Florida, Chestnut Hills, Pennsylvania, Ardmore, Pennsylvania, Wyndmore, Pennsylvania, and Plandome Manor, Long Island, New York, but I got out of the business in November 1983 after the last project around November 1985, when I cut a passage way from the garage apartment bathroom in Plandome Manor, Long Island to the main house kitchen hallway. My arthritis got to be too bad by that time, so I quit the construction business, and I read for a number of years, and then I got into the personal computer business around 1990. Alas none of the ventures lead into any full time occupation, since I was too old by the time, I started working with personal computers. CIO

<888> 03/17/14 Monday 11:35 A.M. I threw out the garbage. I moved the Volvo wagon to its usual place. I chatted with neighbors. One would never know it, but I live near the World Headquarters for the World's Most Secret Computer Company www.ibm.com and <http://www.ibm.com/contact/us/en/> that nobody locally seems to know anything about up in Armonk, New York. It is only about 8.9 miles away as the crow flies or about 18 minutes. They have never shown any interest in me since I moved here in 1962, except inviting me to a deb party the St. Regis Hotel in Manhattan around 1970. They did help finance <http://www.greenhosp.org/>, if one needs medical assistance locally. However, they probably have a lot of major security up there, not to mention it would be very expensive to drive that far away to see if anything might be happening up there. Also the main route there King Street is a very busy two lane road with www.pepsi.com headquarters half way to Armonk not to mention the nearby <http://www4.passur.com/hpn.html> , so I guess all of the IBM business travelers go to nearby White Plains, New York, where there is more activity. <888> 03/16/14 Sunday 9:25 P.M. I once read in the local newspaper in Kennebunkport, Maine that the "Old Guard" like drinking Bloody Mary's on Sunday morning. As I recall the recipe for a Bloody Mary is a couple of shots or ounces of <http://www.smirnoff.com/> in a glass of ice with about four to six ounce of www.heinz.com tomato juice and dashes of ground black pepper, a few dashes <http://www.leaperrins.com/> and a few dashes of <http://www.tabasco.com/> and a teaspoon of Gold's Horse Radish, and all shaken or stirred, with a twist of lemon or lime wedge. This is the internet version http://www.thebar.com/drink-recipe/bloody-mary?utm_source=bing&utm_medium=cpc&utm_term=bloody%20mary%20recipe&utm_campaign=Desktop-General-US-NB-Recipes-Core-Exact&utm_content=22FOCyKS|pcrid|2005144321 which has a half ounce of lemon juice and also dashes of green tabasco sauce and a pinch of salt and a celery stick.

I just drank a 12 ounce glass of 50% punch and 50% Schweppes Ginger Ale. CIO

<888> 03/16/14 Sunday 8:40 P.M. I chatted with a relative. The relative suggested that I watch "60 Minutes". My old office at www.cbs.com in the spring and summer of 1973 used to be next to "60 Minutes". I worked as a clerk typist on an IBM Selectric doing the paperwork for the commercials. Each commercial film reel had to have its own paperwork for billing purposes. Back then a minute of prime time advertising went for a million dollars, since so many people watched the major networks. However, I was only paid $75 a week after taxes. I had to be at work from 10 A.M. to 7 P.M., but since I had a hard time sleeping, I had a problem making it to work by 10 A.M., so I was fired. I lived in a $35 a week room at the St. Clair residence on West 10th street just west of Fifth Avenue. There used to be a pub a block west of their called the "Ninth Circle" where a lot of the CBS employees hung out after work. There was even a 24 hour 7 day a week television repair shop next to the Ninth Circle, in case one needed a TV part at some odd time of the day. The Ninth Circle at one time was one of the oldest steak houses in Manhattan. However, as the neighborhood became more expensive, I guess the television people found other places to hang their hats. I noticed today while walking by the Greenwich Train Station that Sanel's ? restaurant had little bottles of <http://www.tabasco.com/> on their tables, which I wandered since it is so expensive, people might walk off with them. However, "CBS 60 Minutes" just had a segment on the Tabasco family and its operations. It seems they are in gator country. When I went to <http://lookoutmountaincamp.com/> the Morrison family from New Orleans of cafeteria fame owned the camp. Morrison's catering now does the catering at the Senior Center in Greenwich. Since I was one of three Yankee campers at Lookout Mountain Camp, the other few hundred southern boys never kept track of me, but they were all from old established southern families. Tabasco sauce tastes really good on Hickory smoked barbecue pork and chicken. However, they do not know how to make real barbecue up north the way they do down south. There used to be a barbecue place across the street from the World Wrestling Federation in Stamford, Connecticut, but I can not find mention of it on the internet. It was right on the Stamford Darien border on US 1. CIO

<888> 03/16/14 Sunday 5:40 P.M. I took the wire rack out of the Faberware Turbo convection oven, and I preheated the oven to 425 degrees Fahrenheit about five minutes. While doing that I unwrapped the 14.06 ounce Greenway four cheese frozen pizza made in Italy, and I put it on the wire rack, and I seasoned it with celery salt, ground black pepper, garlic salt, Italian seasoning, a generous portion of grated Parmesan and Romano cheese, and extra virgin Italian olive oil over it all. I then put the pizza on the rack in the Farberware Turbo convection oven on the center rack position for ten minutes. After ten minutes, I used pot holders to take out the hot rack with pizza, and I put it on a wooden cutting board, so it would not burn the Formica counter top. I then used a spatula to slide the pizza on to a dinner plate. I ate it with a knife and fork along with a 12 ounce glass of Schweppes Ginger Ale. CIO

<888> 03/16/14 Sunday 3:55 P.M. I threw out the garbage. I went downtown to the Greenwich Avenue CVS. I then bought a 16 ounce bag of CVS lightly salted almonds for $4.99 less the $4 bonus bucks on the previous purchase for .99 total. I then went further downtown. I walked the entire length of Greenwich Avenue and the train station area. I sat out at various locations. I chatted with another local walker. I used the bathroom at CVS. I sat out at the top of Greenwich Avenue. I then went back by CVS, and I bought four 18 ounce cans of Progresso New England clam chowder for $1.49 each less .50 CVS machine coupon for $5.46 total. I then finished my walk, and I sat out some more enjoying the brisk cool sunny day. I then went by A&P Fresh, and I bought a 42 ounce Quaker Old Fashioned oatmeal

I then went by the Putnam Shell at 401 West Putnam Avenue, and I bought $9 of self service V-Powered premium gasoline for $4.299 a gallon for 2.093 gallons at odometer reading of 107557 miles for 26.7 miles driven since Saturday March 8, 2014 for 12.757 miles per gallon in mostly local traffic. I do not think that antenna would work in my apartment, since I have the main part of the second story brick building opposite my windows. Also I would not get Bloomberg News. I picked up the mail. for $13.51 and $6 standard shipping for $19.51 total arrived. However, when I went to install it, it definitely was the wrong part. It was also two inches shorter than the existing wiper blade on the rear window of the Volvo wagon. However, I took the old Volvo blade assembly, and I removed the rubber part from the new wiper blade assembly, and I installed it in the old assembly, and it fit on the Volvo wagon just fine. However the plastic fork assembly that holds it in place had one of its forks break. I then went downtown, and to the www.greenwichhardware.com , and they gave me a 5/8th inch diameter metal hose clamp that I used to secure the new wiper blade to the wiper assembly securing it in place. One has to use a small hose clamp, so the wiper blade assembly fits into the blade assembly covering. It works just fine. In the future, I could just buy the rubber wiper blade of the right length and install it in the old assembly with the hose clamp. I then sat out downtown for a while in the center of town. I then went by CVS on Greenwich Avenue, and I picked up a prescription. I then returned home. CIO

Alas CompUSA is no longer there anymore. Of course, one never knows what one might find at Walmart or whatever else is up there. Of course the government does not think that disabled people should have too much money to travel around, so the government only lets them have enough money to stay home and read and possibly watch television if they can afford cable TV by cutting back on their food budget. I think the disabled people should have a March on Washington, but obviously they can not afford to travel that far. I found this chart <http://www.ssa.gov/oact/STATS/dibStat.html> that shows how many other people are in the same boat <http://www.americanprogress.org/issues/poverty/report/2013/05/30/64681/the-facts-on-social-security-disability-insurance-and-supplemental-security-income-for-workers-with-disabilities/>. <888> 03/13/14 Thursday 11:25 A.M. I threw out the garbage. I guess we are still in the North Country. It is 19 degrees Fahrenheit outside right now. Tonight, there will be a low of 13 degrees Fahrenheit. There is no point in facing the Tundra on Greenwich Avenue, since the 4.7 miles of gasoline to go downtown and back, is enough to keep one warm and comfortable at home all day. I guess those people who live within easy walking distance of Starbucks can sit out downtown and watch the Nordic people go about their simple village routines. There is not too much new to do on the internet without spending money, so I just maintain my home office as best as I can afford. I suppose the warm weather people down south will not be returning to this area until around June 1, 2014. They usually leave after the end of the hurricane season in the end of November, and do not try to endure the colder winters. Thus they make money on both ends of the warmer weather as they travel back and forth. CIO

<888> 03/12/14 Wednesday 6:05 P.M. I had a problem with the FIC server today. I tried restoring the backup a few times, but that did not work. I finally opened up the case, and I put in a new primary IDE cable on the first hard drive. I also cleaned the vents on the CPU cooler, and I installed a new fan on it, since the old fan was dirty. That solved the problem of the FIC shutting down frequently. I got the HIPO weather station working. I am now installing the Windows updates. Earlier I went out for a walk around the building. <888> 03/09/14 Sunday 1:25 A.M. Back in 1978 while living at Mrs. Frances' Guest House at 31 India Street out in www.nantucket.net , I had a simpler way of making yogurt in Flossie's communal kitchen. I would take a gallon of Hood whole milk and boil it in a pot to about 180 degrees Fahrenheit. I would then cool it down in the refrigerator to slightly warmer than body temperature about 115 degrees Fahrenheit. I would then mix in a 8 ounce cup of Columbo plain yogurt with a cup of the warm milk and then mix it all into the larger pot of warm. I would then set the yogurt mixture in the gas oven which was slightly warmed by the pilot light or warm the lowest setting on an electric oven for about 12 hours overnight. I would then put the bowl of yogurt in the refrigerator to chill for another 12 hours. I would then have a lot of yogurt which slightly amused Flossie. However, I only did that in the off season in the fall, when it was less busy. Back in December 1983, when I first returned back to Greenwich, Connecticut from www.nantucket.net , I was living without a kitchen but with refrigerator at 100 Milbank Avenue in the third floor attic apartment. For breakfast I would buy quart containers of Columbo plain yogurt for about $1.59 and half gallons of orange juice for about 59 cents. I would have some of that each day for breakfast. In June of 1984, when I moved to 700 Steamboat Road, I still did not have a kitchen, but a half size refrigerator. I continued that same breakfast routine, since until October 1986, I did not have a car, so I had to walk back and forth downtown. I did not eat lunch, but I would eat my dinners at the old Greenwich Hospital cafeteria which were $2.50. In the first six months back in Greenwich in 1984, I went from 155 pounds to 205 pounds. When I got the used yellow Volkswagen Dasher Station wagon in October 1986, I started cooking on a hot plate at 700 Steamboat Road, and I also had a small toaster oven. I finally moved to 71 Vinci Drive in December 1988, and I have had a kitchen ever since. However with all of the time I have spent on personal computers in the last 23 years, my cooking skills have declined, since I frequently do not have the time or resources to cook complete meals. CIO <888> 03/09/14 Sunday 12:10 A.M. I set up the yogurt machine on the kitchen counter. I made up a batch of yogurt per the instructions. However, I made the five quarts of powdered milk about 50% more concentrated or about two quart packets of powdered milk for five cups. I also used 6 packets of Truvia low fat sweetener to sweeten the yogurt, so it will be less fat. I used three tablespoons of Chaboni yogurt for a starter. Thus I will have 40 ounces of yogurt in 9 hours at 9:30 A.M. Sunday morning, but then I have to refrigerate it for eight hours before eating any. I have a yogurt thermometer and a regular food thermometer for measuring the milk temperature as I heat and cool it.

The cost of the yogurt is:

One Chaboni Greek yogurt at $1.08

six packets of Truvia sweetener for $.45

powdered milk $2.60 for $4.05 total for 40 ounces of yogurt or a dime an ounce.

Eight 6 ounce cups of Chaboni yogurt would cost $8.58 for 48 ounces or 18 cents an ounce or $7.15 for 40 ounces.

Thus I am saving $3.10 for an hour's work. However, I can use the new yogurt for a starter which would mean a $.57 savings in the future for $3.48 for 40 ounces or 8.7 cents an ounce or 43.5 cents a five ounce cup of home made yogurt. Of course I do not have the fruit in it, but I have more yogurt in it. Thus it will be about a $3.67 savings for 40 ounces of home made yogurt without the fruit or 9.2 cent an ounce or 45.9 cents a five ounce cup. Of course there is a bit of work to it at least an hour, and that does not include the electricity for heating and cooling the milk and the yogurt machine. CIO <888> 03/07/14 Friday 6:40 A.M. On the Grundig shortwave radio, I followed the instruction at the bottom of this page <http://www.amazon.com/Grundig-Traveler-Digital-Shortwave-Storage/dp/B001QTXKF6> to turn off sleep mode. I am now doing a Shortwave Frequency scan again which will take a while. It seems to be doing the scan properly.

I made up <http://mikelouisscott.com/mlsrice.htm> without the soy sauce. I ate half and refrigerated half in a Rubbermaid container. I ate it with a cold chicken leg and thigh along with two 3/8th inch thick slices of cold white breast chicken meat and with steamed baby carrots cut into quarters lengthwise with Smart Balance Spread and extra virgin olive oil on the vegetables and a 12 ounce glass of Schweppes Ginger Ale and a cup of green tea with Splenda sweetener and Borden's lemon juice. <888> 03/07/14 Friday 5:15 A.M. The Grundig shortwave radio froze and quit working while I was scanning for shortwave radio stations. I tried removing and replacing the batteries to no avail. I finally noticed a small reset button on the front of the control panel, and I pressed that, and it reset the radio, and it started working again. I scanned the AM and FM radio stations, but I did not scan the SW radio stations. One I get the power adapter, I will try scanning for the Shortwave Radion station again. It does pickup quite a lot of them. CIO

<888> 03/07/14 Friday 4:10 A.M. I moved the Eton shortwave radio to the bedroom entrance on the left side. I put three AA CVS alkaline batteries in the Grundig shortwave radio, and I propped it up on the platform on top of the Samsung laser printer at the apartment entrance, and I connected the wire antenna to it. <888> 03/06/14 Thursday 11:20 A.M. In the old days in the 1960s, when my family lived in Greenwich in near back country, we only went down once a week on Saturday evenings to get a hamburger and French fries and www.coke.com at the Nielsen's restaurant across the street from the Greenwich Library and the Exxon Station, so I did not know very much about what went on downtown, which was not very much from what I could tell. In the early 1970s, I worked in the same area at Boodles as an a waiter, until I started exploring nearby Manhattan. I spent a lot of time doing house maintenance in back country and reading, when I was not going to school. In the summer, I played a bit of golf. I will now shut down the primary work computer, and I will eat a Greek yogurt, and then I will go to bed. In the comments on the yogurt machine, it says all that Greek yogurt is that it has been strained through cheese cloth. But it says, one can make a thicker yogurt by using more powdered milk in it, and one can pour the little bit of water off the top, before eating it. I have made yogurt in the past, but the controls on the new yogurt machine let's one control the yogurt making process more evenly. Yogurt has lots of enzymes which are good for the digestion. CIO

<888> 03/05/14 Wednesday 1:20 A.M. I threw out the garbage. I picked up the mail. On a minor point of dispute, a lot of the local night time computer people that I have been around for 23 years in Greenwich, Connecticut were involved with the local astronomy club. When I first returned back to Greenwich, Connecticut in December 1983, I lived at 100 Milbank Avenue across the street from the Greenwich Observatory. When I used to chat with the physicist who taught physics at www.columbia.edu for fifty years after studying at www.harvard.edu, he told me that he knew all of the major computer people and nothing would come of the internet. I just run my home computers, the skies around here are too lousy for astronomy. However in Canary Island, Hawaii, Chile, Argentina, and a few other locations, there are major observatories that are not obscured by the night sky. One former Taft School classmate has spent his career at the Harvard Astrophysics observatory. Even out in Nantucket they had a small observatory. Thus if one gets bored of home computers, one can always look to the night skies for signs of intelligence in the universe. Even my last address on West 74th Street in Manhattan was a few blocks west of the Museum of Natural History Planetarium. Once one sees the night time in Lanzarote in the Canary Islands, one begins to realize why in the old days there was so much focus on the stars in our galaxy. If one looks at http://www.nasa.gov/mission_pages/NPP/news/earth-at-night.html, one can figure out where there is not as much artificial light interfering with viewing the skies at night. CIO

<888> 03/04/14 Tuesday 11:50 P.M. Meanwhile in the slow lane of Greenwich, Connecticut, it is time to shower and clean up for the New Amsterdam Night watch. In the old days when gasoline was cheaper, at this hour of night and early morning, one could drive into Manhattan to network with its many night owls, but that is for the younger generation. One used to be able to park on the north side of FDR Post Office Federal Building east of Third Avenue at 55th Street, and after 11 P.M., one can park there. I think Third Avenue also has metered parking, but I am not sure if it costs at night. Of course when the local yokels in Manhattan see a Connecticut license plate on a car, they try to take one to the cleaners with all of their schemes just the way they do with Texas Tourists. With cell phones and wireless they are even better networked today. Also the Midtown Manhattan has 5000 surveillance cameras controlled by Microsoft software, so Big Brother is watching your every move, while one wanders around. It was my experience over 20 years ago, when I was mugged in that area on a summer's eve, I was told by the New York City Police Department that there was nothing they could do. <http://www.pjclarkes.com/> is relatively safe in the old days, because a lot of assistant district attorneys use to hang out there with guns after work. <888> 03/04/14 Tuesday 10:55 P.M. You don't have to live on Round Hill Road to see all of the trophy wives shopping on Greenwich Avenue Southern Connecticut is second most 'overpriced' metro area, Forbes says . If I had any money to spend on shopping at a store for various items, I might go to <http://tjmaxx.tjx.com/> up on Route 7 in Wilton, Connecticut. T.J. Max does carry clothes for fat people. <http://www.marshallsonline.com/> in Stamford, Connecticut and Port Chester, New York does not have as many clothes for men, particularly fat men. Of course it would cost more money in Texas Tea to drive to those locations. 77% of the private money in the United States of America is controlled by women over 70 years old, so that means all of the men and all of the women under 70 years old, only control 23% of the private money. Older women also tend to be frugal frequently living on tea and toast to keep within their budgets. CIO

<888> 03/03/14 Monday 5:35 P.M. I woke up at 4 P.M., and I chatted with a relative. I ate breakfast of oatmeal with honey and milk, a toasted bagel with olive oil, a 12 ounce glass of

<888> 03/03/14 Monday 4:10 A.M. I took a Frachetta 12 inch frozen 30 ounce supreme pizza, and I took it out of its packaging and removed the cardboard bottom. I put it on a cutting board, and I seasoned it celery salt, garlic salt, ground black pepper, Italian seasoning, grated Parmesan and Romano Cheese, and extra virgin olive oil. I cut it into quarters. I put half in a Rubbermaid container in the refrigerator, and I put the other half on a rectangular baking sheet. While I was removing the Sharp Convection Microwave oven and replacing it with the Farberware Turbo Convection oven, the pizza defrosted and rose. I baked on the lower shelf of the Farberware oven at 400 degrees Fahrenheit for 15 minutes. That is 10 minutes less than the recommended time, but the Farberware oven is hotter and the pizza was defrosted. I ate it with a 12 ounce glass of Schweppes Ginger Ale. There is no information on repairing the Sharp Convection Microwave oven on the internet, other than it might have two fuses. However, if the fuses blew, that probably means something else is wrong with it. CIO

<888> 03/03/14 Monday 2:50 A.M. I started to cook a pizza. After two minutes, the Sharp Convection microwave oven finally quit working for good. I tried it on a several other plugs, but it would not come back on again. I removed the items from on top of it, and I carried it out of the kitchen which was a hoist. I then got my folding cart from the back of the Volvo wagon, and I rolled the Sharp Convection microwave oven down to the dumpster area. I then put the folding cart back in the rear of the Volvo wagon. Once I clean off the top of the refrigerator, I have the old Farberware Convection oven stored in the bedroom closet that I will put on top of the refrigerator. I also have a new Faberware convection oven in the bedroom closet that I keep in reserve. Thus I will once again have proper baking facilities in the kitchen again. The Sharp Convection oven has not worked properly for over a year. The chair in the kitchen which I keep for smoking cigarettes by the kitchen fan block me from using the GE oven, but I never cook big items anyway. I bought the Sharp Convection oven from the Greenwich Hospital Thrift shop over five years ago for $45. New they cost around $400. CIO

<888> 03/02/14 Sunday 6:45 A.M. My experience in staying in an apartment near the www.un.org occasionally from October 1973 to February 1975 was that besides a lot of automobile traffic in the neighborhood, people in the apartment did not try to keep flags for various guests, but instead Fred Von Mierers kept lots of different liquors and beverages for different guests. He had a charge account at the liquor store just north of the British Consulate. However, for big parties he would get the liquor duty free from the Mexican consulate, so he had some sort of connection with them. Just because Fred Von Mierers showed up in Eugina Shepard's Society column in the Daily News shaking hands with Nelson Rockefeller, did not mean Nelson was paying the bills. I once saw Fred coming out of the Getty Museum on Labor Day in 1980, when the museum was closed, so he also had some sort of connection with them. If Fred should still be alive, the last time I chatted with him, he was reading four to six hundred year old Chinese books, so possibly he is living in some sort of obscure Chinese hideaway. However, it is possible that he just has relatives that look like him which confuses people. CIO

<888> 03/01/14 Saturday 11:40 P.M. I threw out the garbage. There were four Greenwich Police cars in the parking lot. I chatted with a female police officer, but she did not tell me anything. I then picked up the mail. I looked into the Community Room, and a Greenwich Police officer was interviewing an elderly tenant. There was a large hole in the sheet rock wall by the downstairs elevator. I went back up to my apartment. A short time later, the elderly tenant that was being interviewed knocked on my door. He told me he was watching television in the community room, and another tenant who wanted to watch television displaced him. As the elderly tenant was leaving the community room, the younger tenant threw the elderly tenant into the wall adjacent to the elevator breaking the sheet rock wall. The elderly tenant called the Greenwich Police, and the Greenwich Police responded and arrested the belligerent tenant that other previous complaints against him. I gave the elderly a tenant a 12 ounce glass of Schweppes Ginger Ale, and we chatted for a while. I showed him my Roku television setup in the living room. I showed him how the High Definition television system no longer picks up television signals in this area. The elderly tenant does not have television, and he can not afford Cable TV. I offered to drive the elderly tenant to the Greenwich Hospital Emergency Room, but he declined. I walked the elderly tenant back to his apartment which is near the belligerent tenant's apartment. <888> 04/26/14 Saturday 8:00 P.M. I checked the rear compartment of the Volvo wagon. I had a duffle bag with spare items from the Audi, but I guess I have already emptied it out into the Volvo wagon. Not many people communicate with me, because I guess nobody is interested in my perspective of the internet. I guess the wealthier people are spending money on newer technology versus what I can afford to use. However, I do not have room for anymore newer computer equipment, and the computer equipment that I currently have is all that I need for my home office. I guess more advanced technical people with funding are doing more advanced activities with their computers. From my perspective, all they do is sit in www.starbucks.com on Greenwich Avenue. I guess the whole planet has become a waiting room for people that travel waiting for their next trip to some far away destination. However, it is my perspective that since I live near the World Headquarters of www.ibm.com, I should try to stick with my computer activity, even though nobody networks with me. I suppose the people in nearby New York City have a more business like approach to computers compared to the informal atmosphere of Greenwich, Connecticut. I guess the Wall Street gurus have their own perspective on what the local priorities are in this area. CIO

<888> 04/22/14 Tuesday 9:35 P.M. Having lived in abject poverty most of my life, I have always been subservient and deferential to the wealthy people around me, which from my viewpoint is not the way a true democracy should be. However, without having been able to gain a high income job in my youth, I have experience in volunteering in my simple activities based on my own experiences as opposed to the more affluent neighbors that I have surrounding me. I guess, once people become affluent other than their relatives, they tend to tune out the masses of the underprivileged individuals in our area. Although I go out in public frequently and try to project a presentable appearance, I am not able to do those activities better financed individuals might happen to pursue. I guess the internet being my own outlet based on my experience is what I do. I am fortunate to live in an affluent community where I can take advantage of certain services that other communities might not have. Still computers and the internet over the years have been a major expense out of my budget, but it keeps me busy. Also since I am able to work on the computers at home, I do not have to spend as much time moving around in circles in the general public. Still I have become somewhat professional with personal computers and the internet, but at my age with my disability there is no interest in my expertise in this area. However, having lived in this area most of my life, I do not intend to ever change my current living situation or to relocate out of this area. The number of times I have left this area for other areas has mostly ended up in failure. CIO

When I want the bedroom air conditioner put in by him, I have to call up the Greenwich Housing Authority to put in a work order. I can not do it myself, since the way he installs it on the outer rim of the window requires that he climb outside and reenter the window, which at my weight of 235 pounds I can not do. I chatted with neighbors. I picked up the mail. Staying at home and not facing all of the pedestrian traffic downtown on Greenwich Avenue is a lot more peaceful, and does not change one's focus. However, sooner or later, when the weather is clear, I will probably need the exercise. Also the allergy season will be starting soon, so one should stock up on <http://www.cvs.com/shop/Health-&Medicine/Allergy-&Asthma/Allergy-&Sinus-Medicine/> /N-3uZ13ljgaZ2k?pt=SUBCATEGORY . <888> 04/20/14 Sunday 2:05 P.M. I recall during a number of times I was down south below the Mason Dixon line all the way down in Key West, Florida; the locals whom were in charge would take 80 gallon oil drums and cut them in half lengthwise and weld cross braced legs of iron pipes on to them, and then they would use them for barbecue. They would fill them up with charcoal and put heavy metal grills on them, and they would have three or four of them, and they would barbecue halves of chickens with lots of southern barbecue sauce on the chickens. Hundreds of the locals would show up, and eat halves of barbecue chicken along with potato salad and cold slaw and ample beverages for a charge of $3. However, since I did not have $3, I was left observing the entire operation and starving after they all left. So much for Southern Hospitality. End of Scott's Notes week of 04/19/14

<888> 04/19/14 Saturday 9:55 P.M. I chatted with a relative twice. On the Saturday before Easter in 1972, I took a train from Florence, Italy to Rome, Italy, and since I had a 7 A.M. TWA flight from Leonardo De Vinci Airport in Rome on Easter Sunday to Athens, Greece; I did not feel like paying for a hotel room that Saturday night. I wandered around downtown Rome, and I found a dark area with a large colonnade, so I hung out there all night. There were women coming and going from the colonnade in taxis. It was a short walk to the Spanish steps where there was quite a bit of activity. The Colonnade was not lit up at night and it was completely deserted and mostly dark, so I figured it was some old office complex. I only recently figured out that it was Vatican Square, and that was when http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Pope_Paul_VI was Pope. Back in that period, there was not a lot of traffic in Rome as I recalled, but there were not many people around either. Thus I never saw Rome in the daytime or the Vatican for that matter except for Leonardo De Vinci airport at sunrise. I will now send out my weekly notes. I will then go to bed. Tomorrow is Easter, so have a Happy Easter, but in the Orthodox church Easter is also tomorrow which is not always the case. CIO

<888> 04/13/14 Sunday 11:55 A.M. I chatted with a local security officer about the Fred Von Mierers report. I have heard so many different stories on Fred, but I do know he had a lot of German speaking friends, and the New York City German Consulate to the United Nations is now at First Avenue and 49th Street. Whether or not he was involved in aviation is opened to debate, but the Barclay Hotel on East 49th Street used to put up a lot of flight crews in that area. Flight personnel and other well traveled individuals including Pan American Airlines used to maintain hospitality places for travelers, so possibly he was involved in that aspect of aviation. Pan Am Special Services which was like the State Department for Pan Am used to deal with their clients. When Pan Am went out of business, Pan Am Special Services was sold to Johnson Controls which once and may still maintain offices nearby at Westchester County airport on King Street to the west of Northwest Greenwich, Connecticut. Possibly since Nelson Rockefeller is no longer vice president, the government quit using their services which he might have been used to. Of course the Harriman family were also involved with Pan Am, so possibly they keep some sort of pied a terra in Manhattan for their railroad friends. CIO

<888> 04/13/14 Sunday 9:35 A.M. This web cam <http://www.cnyclive.com/> at Sixth Avenue and 14th Street in Manhattan is about two blocks east of the www.apple.com computer on the northeast side of Greenwich Village where all the high tech computer gurus must network these days. There were always computer people in the Chelsea area of Manhattan, but from what I know in having not been in that neighborhood in over 20 years, it probably has changed, but it still would be a student area for www.nyu.edu . I just saw a couple open air buses drive by on the web cam. They are building the new <http://whitney.org/> on the Hudson River in that area, so I guess the area is becoming more upscale. Of course <http://theoldhomesteadsteakhouse.com/> has always been in that area, if one can afford Manhattan prices for a most excellent cut of beef, if you get my drift. I never knew anyone in Manhattan who offered to take me to dinner there, so I was pretty much left to Eggs Florentine and omelets with English muffins and coffee, and I remember. David's Pot Belly on Christopher street just west of 7th Avenue had the omelets for $2 with English muffin and coffee and on Greenwich Street at Charles Street was the coffee shop with Eggs Florentine for about $2 with English muffin and coffee. Florentine means with Spinach. Of course in those days, the Rivera Cafe and the Buffalo Road House in that neighborhood north and south of Christopher Street on Seventh Avenue had bacon and blue cheese hamburgers with lettuce and tomato and kosher dill pickle and home fries for $2.95 and a drink would be about a dollar more, so with a dollar tip, it was about a five dollar meal, if one could afford that much. The Front Porch vegetarian restaurant nearby served cream cheese and sprouts on homemade bread for about $2. The best deal for a meal in Greenwich Village was the Greek Souvlaki stand on the west side University Place just north of 13th street, and I recall a lamb Souvlaki with the trimmings was about $1.29. The nearby www.forbes.com building looks like a fortress, so nobody ever bothers them. However, the <http://www.newschool.edu/parsons/> is nearby for the creative types. Of course in that same period at 9th Street and Sixth Avenue, a big red MacIntosh apple at <http://www.balduccis.com/> next to the <http://www.sephardicstudies.org/csi11.html> cost a dollar. CIO

<888> 04/13/14 Sunday 8:40 A.M. I took the wire rack out of the Faberware Turbo convection oven, and I preheated the oven to 425 degrees Fahrenheit about five minutes. While doing that I unwrapped the 14.06 ounce Greenway four cheese frozen pizza made in Italy, and I put it on the wire rack, and I seasoned it with celery salt, ground black pepper, garlic salt, Italian seasoning, a generous portion of grated Parmesan and Romano cheese, and extra virgin Italian olive oil over it all. I then put the pizza on the rack in the Farberware Turbo convection oven on the center rack position for ten minutes. After ten minutes, I used pot holders to take out the hot rack with pizza, and I put it on a wooden cutting board, so it would not burn the Formica counter top. I then used a spatula to slide the pizza on to a dinner plate. I ate it with a knife and fork along with a 12 ounce glass of Canada Dry Ale. CIO

<888> 04/13/14 Sunday 7:25 A.M. Beef prices reach highest level since 1987 . They tell me horse meat tastes pretty good, but George might object. Back in the old days of the American Colonies, they used to Shang Hai sailors, and eat them at sea, when the food provisions ran out. CIO

<888> 04/13/14 Sunday 7:15 A.M. Note on Obama from local peace activist:

I can't believe that the young inexperienced Man(?) from Chicago is still in the White House. It is documented that he got "C"s in Graduate School at Columbia University. The Mother that I met whose Son was in the same Class as Obama told me that her Son got an "A" while President Obama got a "C". I asked her why? and she told me that Obama never attended Classes and never did the Assignments. He should have gotten an "L" for Lazy.

End of Note:

Additional Note from Mike Scott: While at www.lfc.edu , I was a A to F student depending on the course, and I frequently did not attend class, but I was always in the library reading my course books, when I was not working one of many part time jobs to pay for my expenses.

Update on Fred Von Mierers April 13, 2014:

I contacted someone who claims to have worked for Frederick -- I thought you might find this response fascinating, one way or another:

"Hi Mike, Yes I use to work for Frederick many years ago. Fred was my officer at area 51 and send me out to collect Gemstones so he could consume them for special ability such as remote viewing. Also Fred had a little trouble with the American F.B.I. Director and Fred took pictures of him in a blue dress wearing. Well the last time I saw Fred he got back on the California drone (spacecraft) and may have went to Venus. Fred is a member of the German youth SS and I would not be allowed to release his picture without Fred knowing in advance.....Eternal Values.....I was once with as member.12th German army was my unite before fall of Berlin."

Also, do you have any photos of Frederick, or of his apartment that you would be willing to share?

<888> 04/13/14 Sunday 5:30 A.M. I chatted about business with the <http://casamarinaresort.com/> . On a minor point of interest that most people do not seem to know, the <http://www.nps.gov/cana/index.htm> is private British property owned by the <http://www.grosvenor.com/home/> family of England http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Duke_of_Westminster . Since a British ambassador to the United States of America can live anywhere in the United States of America, maybe he should live on the Grosvenor property in Florida. We all know the British are sun starved living in their cold damp foggy environment. However, when I toured the property just south of New Smyrna, Florida during the winter of 1979 with John Bolton, it is totally undeveloped, and looks like Florida did, when the Spanish first arrived there five hundred years ago. However, it is very dangerous with lots of shark fins out on the ocean side and probably big gators on the Inland waterway side. CIO

At the north side of the People's Bank at the bottom of Greenwich Avenue, they are putting in a Tropical Drink store, and they are looking for help. The new Restoration Hardware store project at the former Greenwich Post Office is coming along just fine. They have put in another entrance on Greenwich Avenue, where the loading ramp used to be. It looks like quite the fancy neoclassical building that it once was. There is another store going in where Victoria's Secret used to be. With the former signs off the building on the northeast side of Greenwich Avenue and Lewis Street, one can see the shadow imprints of the letters "The Putnam Trust Company". The new street lamp on the south side of the side walk at the Senior and the Arts Center, and the one by the Police Station entrance, and the one at the top of Greenwich Avenue on the west side are out of alignment and missing their domes, I guess from high winds this winter. <888> 04/07/14 Monday 10:10 A.M. Business wise in this area, the few times since 1962, when I could afford to travel in this area, I remember a few times driving up Route 7 north of Danbury, Connecticut up to Northern Vermont, and pretty much along both sides of the road, there are a lot of black and white dairy cows. Since there are 6.5 million Italians in the New York and New England area, there might be money to be made in Italian dairy products, if one knew how to produce such items. CIO

<888> 04/07/14 Monday 9:45 A.M. Having worked as a clerk typist at www.cbsnews.com during Watergate, although I was fired for not making to work by 10 A.M. after three months, I became somewhat established in the news business. However, on limited income, one can not write anything that one might be sued for, and it takes funds to look into events elsewhere. Thus I am basically left being the Village Idiot or the Maytag repairman in Greenwich, Connecticut; where I can not even afford to visit nearby Port Chester, New York or Old Greenwich, where other people in this area live. From experience, I know

Fort Lauderdale, Florida was always interesting in coming up with news stories, because so many people drink alcohol down there around the busy waterfront. Whether there is any substance to their bar room conversations is opened to debate, but they are near the more volatile Miami, Florida area; so they possibly know something we do not. In the fall of 1976 in Fort Lauderdale, when I was there waiting for my unemployment checks to come in from Daniel Construction in Greenville, South Carolina; there was some sort of conflict with the local authorities in Fort Lauderdale, and they had to call in the <http://www.usmarshals.gov/> to restore law and order, but from my viewpoint on the beach at the time, it was a cold winter down there, and there were not many people around, and most of them were older retired people not causing any problems. Thus the local writers in the Fort Lauderdale <http://www.sun-sentinel.com/> might have been stretching the truth for fun and profit. That area of Florida is well known for tabloid journalism. CIO

<888> 04/07/14 Monday 9:00 A.M. Back during the recession in 1977, one could make a bit of money out in www.nantucket.net if one had a sea scallop boat. I used to get $50 for opening a five gallon pail of sea scallops. A five pound pail of the sea scallops not the shells, which is a lot of sea scallops. They now go for $15.99 a pound at the A&P Fresh in Greenwich. Of course it is dangerous being at sea harvesting the sea scallops, and one has to have their sea legs. It is also hard on the hands opening sea scallops since they have sharp edges. Out in Nantucket, they use the sea scallop shells for making driveways which stinks quite a bit while the guts on the sea scallops rot in the hot sun. Still the simple people out in Nantucket have their traditional way of doing things versus the more affluent people from the mainland. There is not much money in quahogs which are large clams. In the summer of 1976, in the bay on the south shore off Madaket, one could use one's toes like picking up golf balls in the water and pick up quahogs from the six feet of water at low tide. However, one only gets about $20 for a fifty pound potato bag of quahogs. Charlie Sayle used to make Quahog chowder, when he was not making lightship baskets. Basket weaving is big occupation out in Nantucket, particularly in the winter. When the summer visitors start to show up around the third week of June after the Boston schools are out, the people from down south that arrive earlier have already established themselves in their summer business occupations. The schools down south get out much earlier. Thus the Grey Lady might be Belle Starr http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Belle_Starr . One of the main restaurants on Broad Street in Nantucket is the "Brotherhood of Thieves". Possibly, when the rich people show up in Nantucket, the local islanders leave the island and visit their homes on the mainland and rob them, but that is just theory. Possibly some of the Nantucket whalers were not whalers, but possibly were pirates. CIO

<888> 04/07/14 Monday 7:20 A.M. I ate a bowl of pineapple chunks. The good news from downtown Greenwich Avenue is that the tulips in the tulip bed across the street from the senior and the arts center are about three inches out of the ground, so we might have tulips on display at Easter time. If one wants to see more tulips in America, around the first week of May, there is the <http://www.tuliptime.com/> at Holland, Michigan <http://www.holland.org/>, where the Dutch Americans also make <http://www.heinz.com/> pickles in the world's largest pickle factory and they also make Chevy Volt batteries and <http://www.chriscraft.com/> yachts. <888> 04/07/14 Monday 6:35 A.M. When it was minus 26 degrees Fahrenheit in Manhattan in February 1982, and I returned to Key West, Florida www.liveduvalstreet.com and <http://casamarinaresort.com/> for a few weeks, the owner of <http://www.carrvalleycheese.com/> gave me a place to stay for a few days, since he knew my family from the Midwest and other Dairy people we also knew. I met a few other people down there also, but I got severely sun burned, since I was not used to being out in the intense sun. I met a friend of Lowell Weicker's whom was a former navy medic, and since it was so cold up north, I guess a lot of other people from up north were around. Also I have visited with family in Vero Beach, Florida since then, but I have never returned back to the Florida Keys. Since at age 64, I am comfortable in my small apartment in Greenwich, Connecticut; and I am not very good at camping out on the beach in Florida waiting for Southern Hospitality, which never seemed to come my way south of the Mason Dixon line. I guess I am pretty much a prisoner of economic conditions in Greenwich, Connecticut; particularly since I never venture into nearby Manhattan. The old Nixon republican group of people from the old days do not have many people left in this area anyway. I guess they all went back to Southern California. Since I am from two established families in the Midwest, I manage to endure the colder winters up north in Connecticut. Even though one spends a lot of time inside during the winter, one has to learn to keep busy in order to avoid Cabin Fever. Before personal computers and the internet, we mostly kept busy by reading books and other printed material all of the time. CIO
